Regents to close meeting

Specific personnel matters will be taken up Monday in a closed session of the West Texas State University board of regents.

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, WTSU president, said Wednesday that he would not disclose any further information about the matters to be discussed in executive session.

"It is an executive session to discuss any personnel matters," he said.

Asked if there were specific personnel matters to be handled, he said, "Obviously I can't say anything more, but we certainly do."

Two weeks ago, former regent Boone Pickens said on a television interview that Watkins was allowing conflict within the university athletic program and that the regents should replace Watkins.

Pickens praised football coach Gene Mayfield and criticized basketball coach Ron Ekker.

In addition to the executive session, the regents will consider a 48-item agenda when they meet Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Activities Center.

The possibility of affiliating WTSU with some larger state university will be considered by the board.

Another big item on the agenda will be the 1977-78 biennial budget proposal.

Also for consideration is a new combined degree in liberal arts and optometry for the existing Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degree.

The degree requirements would be similar to the university's requirements for the combined degree majors in liberal arts and dentistry, law or medicine.

The regents will study for acceptance of two HEW grants for $60,000 to continue the Upward Bound program and $86,000 to establish a new special services program to help tutor students from limited income and background families. The program is designed to improve the retention and graduation rates of such students.

A report from the university Title IX committee looking into areas for possible sexual discrimination will be presented and guidelines for new student and administration/staff grievance committees will be set.

The architectural plans for the president's dwelling will be shown and staff changes at the museum are set for discussion.

The bulk of the agenda items will be routine business and financial matters.

Trio charged with rape

Two Canyon men were charged Tuesday with the rape of a West Texas State University student. A third man gave himself up

Wednesday morning to the sheriff and was released on $2,000 bond. According to police, the 25-year-old man is a Lubbock resident.

The 20-year-old woman told police on Sept. 12 that she was raped four times in the early morning hours by the men who took her to an apartment on the east side of town.

Police chief Al Stewart said his department did not disclose the incident last week because they were then trying to determine if a rape did occur.

"We had to confirm and had to have enough evidence that a rape had in fact happened," he said

Thursday.

The victim agreed to and passed a polygraph test the chief said.

The woman told police that the men showed her a pistol and she was afraid they would kill her if she didn't submit.

She fell against a cinder block bookshelf trying to escape and scraped her back, police said.

The woman called WT security police when she returned to her dorm room after the attacks. Campus police took her to the hospital and notified city police.

The two Canyon men arrested Thursday were arraigned for rape and bond was set at $2,000.

County tax roll gets court nod

Randall County commissioners Monday accepted a tax roll designed to produce $1,611,343.85 if figures presented by Tax Assessor-Collector Audrey Bruse are correct.

Mrs. Bruse told the court that the tax revenue would come to 43,000 more than she had at first projected but County Administrative Assistant Carroll Wilson and County Auditor Bill Tiley say it will be more like $70,000.

According to Mrs. Bruse, state taxes will come to $156,449.88; the water district $9,412.54 and the hospital district to $164,462.82 for a total revenue of $1,971,045.60.

She said total tax roll comes to a valuation of $160,762,740 less $4,884,790 in tax exemptions which she says have been claimed by only about 1,500 taxpayers. This number could swell considerably as tax paying time approaches and cut well into the projected revenue.

Commissioners agreed to an overall increase in county salaries of 6 percent with department heads being allowed to grant the amount allotted as they see fit.

Salary setting hit a snag last week when three departments requested more than 6 percent.

Don Goforth with civil defense in Amarillo discussed Randall County participation in purchase of new radio units for his group. He told the court that civil defense is also equipped to deal with disasters and emergencies.

The court took no action telling Goforth that surplus funds were not sufficient to permit participation but left the matter open for further discussion.

City action at a glance

City commissioners

Monday night:

—lowered the speed limit to 20 on Sixth Avenue, 15th and 16th streets bordering the new kindergarten;

—adopted an industrial waste ordinance;

—awarded a contract for two new police cars to Stevenson Motor Company;

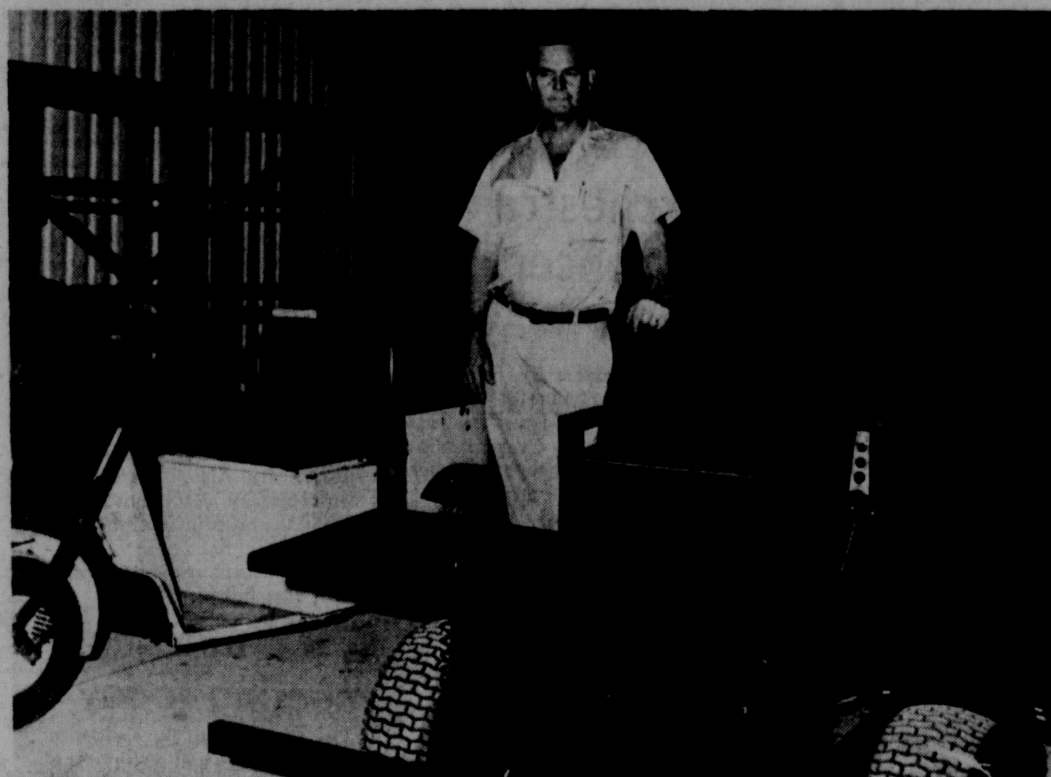

—approved payment to the Texas Municipal League to fight the phone rate increase;

—approved pavement of part of an alley by Jim Sands;

—set the date for the joint city-school meeting Oct. 19.

Hill banks on electric cars

Hitching posts are a thing of the past... or are they? Bill Hill, who is experimenting with electrical vehicles, says that the coming thing is electrical outlets to hitch your automobile to while you shop.

Hill has been working for ten years on developing electrical vehicles. He said that there is nothing new to the concept since one of the first developments in "horseless buggies" was the electrically powered automobile.

Just after the turn of the century, electrical vehicles were being developed but a drawback was recharging the battery after short use. According to Hill, the same problem exists today but work is being done to develop a smaller battery with from two to four times the capacity of present batteries.

A break through on batteries, which should be within five years, will put electricity on top, said Hill. Exxon and American Motors are working with improving batteries.

"If anybody can lick a problem, it's the people of the United States. We always have," said Hill. He believes that with direct current electricity, gas could be reserved for other

Fund drive for monitor

Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary is presently raising funds in an effort to purchase heart monitor equipment for Palo Duro Hospital.

At present the Auxiliary has $2,000 on hand to purchase the equipment for the hospital. About $25,000 is needed. Accounts are open at both city banks to receive donations.

In addition to other efforts, the hospital auxiliary is raising funds through the sale of tickets for a western painting which will be given away during December. The painting is by local artist, Carl Smith, and was donated for the effort.

Hill helped design an electrical mail jeep for the Amarillo Post Office. The jeep, totally powered by batteries, was used for testing for six months in Amarillo. Operation costs averaged 13 cents per day at an average of 17 miles travel per day.

The postal vehicle was equipped with an electrical motor and an automatic transmission. American Motors are now in the process of developing jeeps driven by batteries for the Post Office for testing purposes, according to Hill.

Hill said that in the near future, recharge stations will be set up much like filling stations. Persons will stop in to recharge their automobiles instead of filling their tanks.

Sports vehicles with electrical power will also be used, he said. Battery powered boat motors, bicycles, and golf carts are among the "inventions" Hill has all ready developed.

Agricultural and industrial equipment are also being experimented with by Hill. An electrical auger which will load and unload seed into a drill without spills or waste of time is one of his patented products.

The auger, which would be run off of d.c. battery, would cut down on the time it takes to hand

Indictments for three in stock sale

Three Amarillo men were indicted on stock fraud charges Monday stemming from what law enforcement officers say may involve deals totaling more than $250,000 across the Panhandle.

William H. Garrett, 34 years old, was indicted in two cases and Larry D. and Ora Delbert Morgan were indicted in one case each.

Each indictment involves three counts.

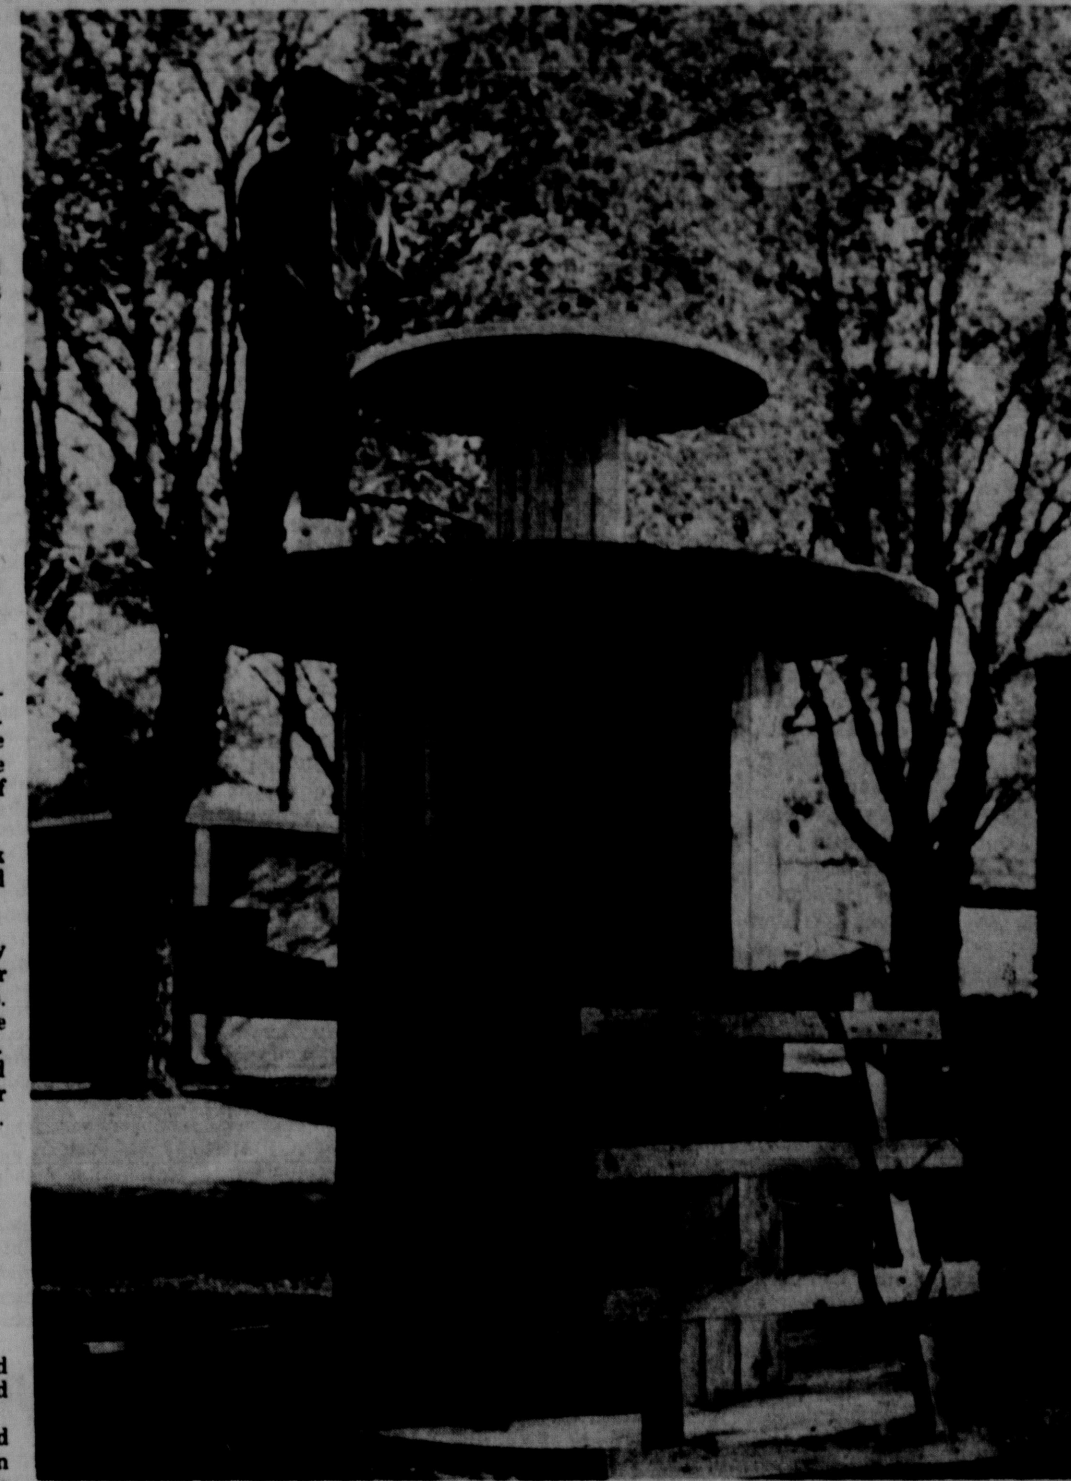

Count one in each case charges sale of unregistered securities.

Count two charges sale of securities without a license and count three charges sale of securities through fraud.

Garrett is free after making $5,000 bond in each case following arraignment before Judge George Dowlen. The Morgan brothers had not been arraigned at press time.

One case alleges that Garrett

Thompson loses land vote

It was school board 1 — school superintendent 0 after the board approved against superintendent Dr. Sam Thompson's recommendation Tuesday night a petition to detach a section of land from the school district.

The section approved for detachment borders Estacada Estates on the north-west border of the school district. It is known as the Barfield addition.

Using Estacada as a base for projecting the development of Barfield, Thompson argued against detachment.

The 364 acres can be expected to develop into 20 acres of parks and schools, eight acres for shopping centers, six acres for apartments and 329 acres for residential, he said. This would contain about 1,219 lots.

The tax revenue from such development would be about $329,997, Thompson estimated. This is a per student total of $236.70. Again using Estacada as a base, Thompson predicted that, fully developed, Barfield would produce 1,394 students.

The operating cost of education per student is $1,025, with $636 paid by the state and $389 in local money, he said.

Additional funds to make up the deficit between what it costs to educate a student and what the tax revenue is likely to be would come from increased state aid for teachers, daily attendance and such, Thompson said.

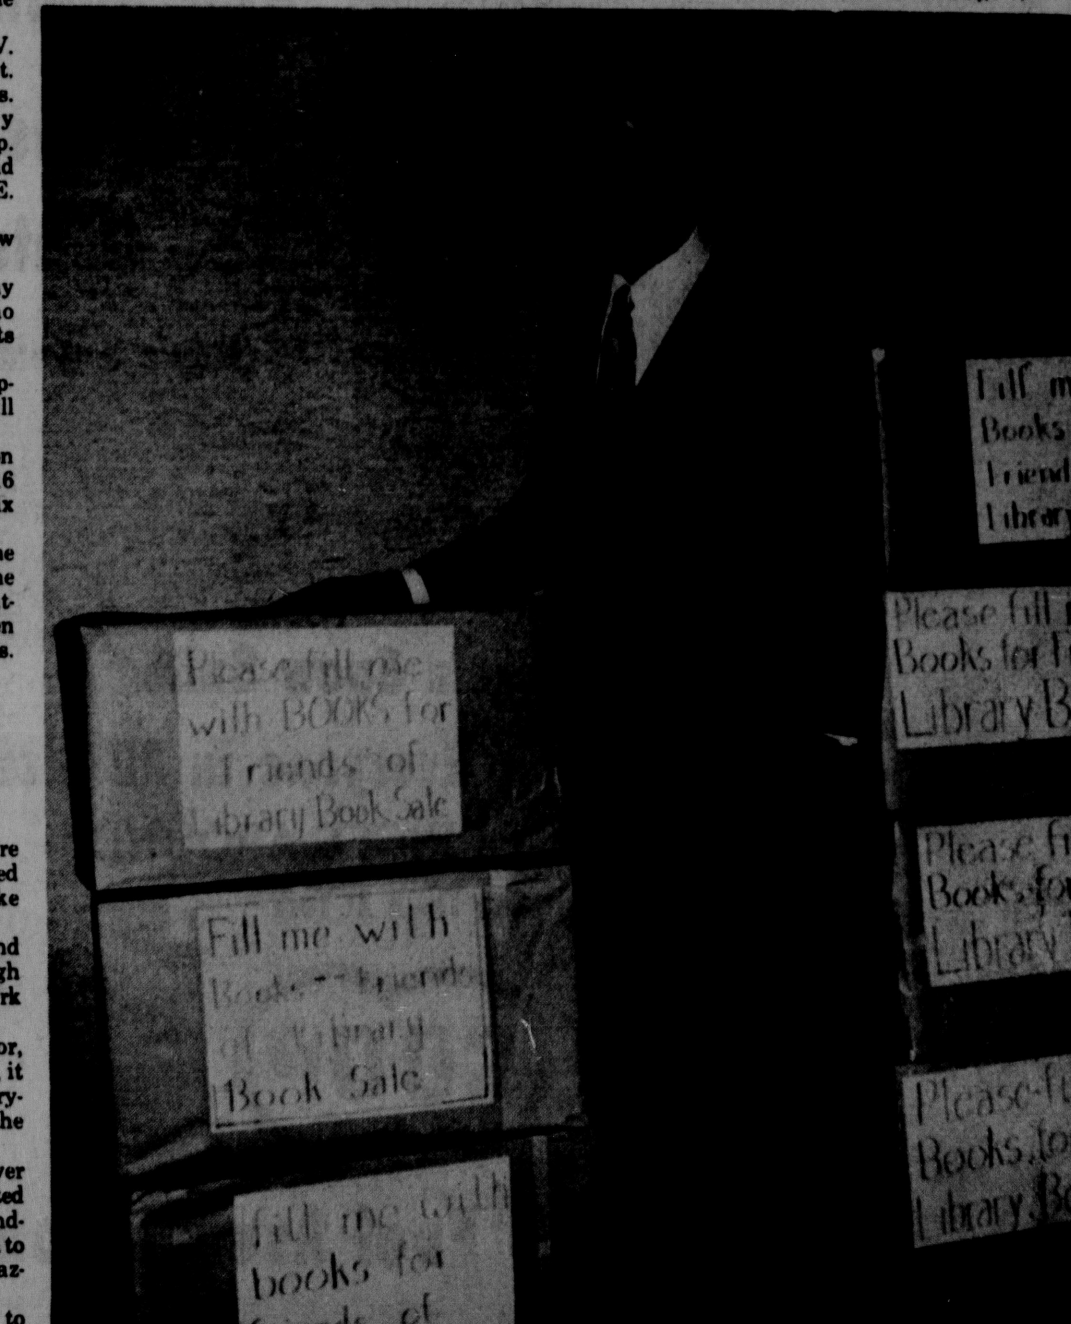

Additionally, he said, the school district is growing quickly in all areas, not just the north-west.

"We can absorb those students right along with the other

Drop-outs need understanding

By ALAN R. STEWART
Chief of Police

In the last column we touched on what might be done to prevent a youngster from dropping out of school. This week's discussion will be on measures to be taken after it has happened. This office has a special interest in the subject because a high percentage of teens who get into serious trouble with the law are dropouts.

For the parent who has himself gone on through college, the thought of high school dropout is incomprehensible. Even to the parent who was a dropout in his own time it is hard to understand, because he, more than anyone, knows what a long-range mistake is being made.

What goes through the teen's mind when he becomes a dropout? Is he concerned with what it will mean to him later, how much it will cost him in unearned income, the effects it will have on his future family? Obviously he thinks only of himself, and what else could be expected of him. At this stage in emotional development, he is taking a seemingly final, easy way out of what appears to him as a lot of senseless hard work.

Quick, immediate counter-measures are needed. Some found to be helpful are: (1) Arrange with a young college student — one who is having to work to help put himself through school — to talk to your dropout about why he is putting forth all the effort it obviously takes. This is an easy task in Canyon. (2) Determine what your youngster likes to do best, and try to tie it in with a career later. Example: he likes building model airplanes, and this might lead to becoming an aeronautical engineer, but certainly not with less than a college education. Show him how, without proper formal education, he cannot do the things he most enjoys and will have to forego them in favor of work he won't like to do, just to make enough income to survive.

Point out the alternative occupations, using those you know would be most repulsive to him. (3) If he is involved with a girl he cares for, discuss the possibilities of later marriage, how due to his lack of education, she will always have to work to help support their family. And, that she will most likely have more education than he and probably as a result, earn more money than her husband all their lives. Make him cringe at the thought, work on his ego. (4) If there is a family church bond, arrange for him to have a talk with your minister. Even a minister unfamiliar with the family or this situation would be more than willing to help in counsel. (5) Prearrange a talk with an employment counselor, preferably one connected with a private employment agency. Pay for the time taken, if necessary, for having the differences in job availabilities explained by a professional will carry considerable weight with your teen.

Usually the dropout needs a drastic awakening to the path he has chosen, and it is unlikely the parent, at this stage, can get him out of his rut without outside help. Don't be embarrassed to ask, as any adult knows the severity of your plight, once apprised, and most are anxious to help a youngster.

Change things — drastically — away from the former routines, developing an atmosphere of serious intent in the home. Keep up a constant barrage of words of encouragement about returning to school, showing you fully expect him to do it. Be kind, gently and firm!

If the dropout has a part time job, do not allow it to be turned into full time employment. If he drives the family car, reduce the occasions of this privilege; walking gives more time to think. If he has his own car, which you bought for him, insist that it be stored in the garage unused until the school return matter is settled.

Parents attempting to get a teen back in school will live in an unpleasant home atmosphere, with temper flare-ups, arguments and often outright rebellion. Hold your ground and take comfort in knowing that once you've accomplished your goal, the teen will soon see that your insistence was justified.

This department believes in the benefits only a good education can provide, and we'll help in any way possible to get a teen back in school. Education to most people is the basic foundation for satisfying lifestyle and what else could contribute more to achieving personal goals?

Open job market in technical fields

Students in southwestern colleges and universities, like those in the rest of the nation, will find the job market more readily open to those with technical, math or science training.

Gene Parker, director of placement at WTSU, recently compiled a survey of 51 southwestern colleges and universities on the ease or difficulty in placing graduates.

Placement directors named the top ten most-wanted majors as engineering or industrial technology, nursing, accounting, math-chemistry, agri-business, computer science, finance-marketing, industrial education, education specializing in athletics, business.

The fields named as having the fewest jobs for graduates included English, journalism, foreign languages, elementary education, speech-drama, political science, history, art, sociology (BS) general studies, biology (BS), psychology (BS).

Students who do major in overcrowded fields can up their chances of employment by crossing over to a minor in unexpected areas. Parker listed such things as accounting/psychology, biology/marketing.

The placement directors also agreed that much more career information should be presented students early in their college experience. Information received from U. S. Labor Department and mass media do not always apply to conditions in the southwest, they concluded.

Crafts booths are available

Heritage Woman's Club has begun arrangements for sponsoring their second annual arts and crafts pre-holiday sales effort.

This year's "Arts Americana" will be held November 13-14 at the Activities Center ballroom on the campus of West Texas State University.

Artists with craft items, handwork, and any type of saleable produce for a holiday gift bazaar is invited to reserve booth space for the event.

Booths will be sold in the size 8' x 8' for $15 or 8' x 16' for $25. Tables will be provided for the booths by the sponsoring club.

To reserve a booth contact either Marion Marrs at 355-3748 or Joanna Flack at 655-3438.

Airman Buckles graduates

Airman Paul A. Buckles, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Merrill W. Buckles, Canyon, has graduated at Lackland AFB, from Air Force basic training.

The airman, who studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations, is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field.

Airman Buckles is a 1975 graduate of Canyon High School.

Mime artist scheduled to perform

Keith Berger, 21-year-old mime artist, is the first scheduled concert performer for the fall semester at West Texas State University, announced the Student Activities Council.

The mime concert, sponsored by the SAC, will be at 8 p.m., Oct. 1, in the Activities Center Ballroom. Admission charges are $1 for WTSU students with ID cards and $2 for non-students.

Selections on his program include "Head Piece," "The Fight," "Mechanical Birth," "Nightmare," "Flirtations" and "Life Climax."

In "Head Piece," Berger casts a spell of silence and then proceeds to "remove" his head. In performing "The Fight," he becomes both victim and bully.

Reporting on Berger's past appearances, South Dakota State University says, "Keith was fantastic. To put it mildly, he overwhelmed the students."

The young mime artist is also known for his impromptu performances in parks and on street corners. Although his street performances were started out of economic necessity, Berger explains that in the street, audience response is immediate; therefore, new ideas can be developed. He still holds these informal shows between professional engagements.

Booths will be sold in the size 8' x 8' for $15 or 8' x 16' for $25. Tables will be provided for the booths by the sponsoring club.

Regional meet for handicapped slated Saturday

A regional conference will be held Saturday in Lubbock for discussing "what handicapped persons need to become first class citizens of their communities."

The conference will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday in the Student Union Building on the Texas Tech University campus.

All local persons who are handicapped are encouraged to attend the regional meeting which will precede a statewide conference to be held in San Antonio during December. Five persons attending the conference will be selected as delegates to the statewide conference. A national conference is slated at the White House in May 1977.

Calvin Burtis and Johnny Henry, and their families, all of Canyon, are expected to attend the conference and encourage other handicapped individuals of the community to make plans for attending.

Wreck victims in satisfactory condition now

Two persons injured in a traffic accident Monday night were reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday in Amarillo hospitals.

Billy Bender, 15, of Canyon was recovering in St. Anthony's Hospital and Charlotte Williams was reported to be in satisfactory condition at Northwest Texas Hospital.

They were both injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Fourth Avenue and 23rd Street about 8:30 p.m. Monday.

According to police, a vehicle driven by Stacy Ray Ruland of Hartley ran a stop light on Fourth and hit a car driven by Denise Kay Berner, a WT student from Sünnett. The impact spun the Berner vehicle around, striking Bender who was a pedestrian.

The injured woman was a passenger in the Ruland car. Police reports list her name as Charlotte Jean Doyle, but she is listed at the hospital as Charlotte Williams.

Ruland was charged with running a stop light.

SPRY luncheon meeting today

The SPRY Club for residents sixty-plus-years will be having a luncheon meeting today, Sept. 23, beginning at 12 noon in fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

The devotional will be presented by Rex Mauldin, pastor of San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo. All local residents sixty-plus-years are invited for the luncheon and the non-denominational fellowship period afterward.

Orchestra in concert on Sunday

The University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sara Montgomery, assistant professor of music, will be presented in a concert at the Memorial Gardens Park in Amarillo Sept. 26.

The outdoor program will be at 3 p.m. and will also feature Robert Krause, instructor in music, and Virginia Day, Midland sophomore.

Among selections to be performed will be the "Scherzo" movement from Miss Montgomery's composition, "Suite for Orchestra."

Krause, playing oboe, will be soloist in the performance of Barlow's "Winter's Passes," and Miss Day, on flute, will be featured in the playing of "Night Soliloquy" by Kenan.

Other numbers will include "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" by Von Suppe; "Polka" from "The Bartered Bride" by Smetana; and "Lamento" by Gabriel Marie, which features the orchestra's cello section.

Grant adds visual aids

Audio-visual materials funded through an $18,300 grant have been added to the West Texas State University Department of Sociology and Social Work lab.

The lab contains films, filmstrips, cassettes, tapes, transparencies, an audio-visual recorder and mobile television monitor.

Dr. Hubert Oppe, professor and head of the Sociology Department, received the grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Texas State Department of Public Welfare.

Ed Rivas, assistant professor of social work, helped select the 30 films, including an Academy Award winner, "World Hunger," transparencies that correspond with the social work textbook and blank cassettes for taping programs not available.

"All the materials are first class and are really hard to come by," Rivas said.

With the recorder and tapes, the department is able to videotape presentations on field agencies for students who plan to do field placement work, he explained.

When preparing for field placement work, the student may review the tape and narrow down choices before an interview with the prospective employer.

Members of the department have catalogued all materials in the lab for use and plan to later order additional materials for the spring semester.

The Sociology-Social Work Department is working in cooperation with the School of Nursing. Students may listen to and view the audio-visual materials at the carrels in the Nursing Center Resources Lab, Rivas said.

Classroom support is a goal of the lab system, Rivas said. He explained that teachers can arrange the material for use in the classroom during the entire semester. Instructors also have access to the University media center.

"Audio-visuals were never designed to replace the teacher," Rivas said.

"Of course, they can be abused but audio-visuals have been proven to be effective teaching aids. Use of them helps to make obscure points clearer," he said.

Audio-visuals make us accountable and the students may compare and contrast the lecture material with a-v material," Rivas explained.

Rivas, who produced two audio-visual presentations in 1974, believes that the use of audio-visual materials involves more work than not using them. Faculty members must fit the course schedule around the availability of material prior to the ordering of the materials.

"The Sociology Department is willing to experiment with the lab. All preliminary indicators show that the faculty will use the materials generously."

"It's a promising symptom of departmental growth designed to help the student learn better," Rivas said of the audio-visual lab.

Funeral held for Mrs. Pyle

Funeral services for Janelle Walker Pyle, 34, were conducted Monday morning at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Rev. Bill Kent officiating.

Mrs. Pyle died Sept. 16. She was born Jan. 1, 1942 at Channing, Texas and had lived in Canyon previous to moving to Amarillo recently where she resided at 3308 Westhaven Drive. She was employed with Iowa Beef Processors.

Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was conducted at Dreamland Cemetery. The family requests memorial gifts to the Kilgore Children's Foundation.

Survivors include two sons; John H. Pyle, Jr. and James M. Pyle, and a daughter, Julie Ann Pyle, all of Mountainview, Calif.; her mother, Charline Wiseman Walker of Farmington, New Mexico; her father, Otho W. Walker of Amarillo; two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Stroup of Farmington, New Mexico and Mrs. Sam (Adolyn) Buchanan of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Happy Public Schools. A fish supper will be served in the school cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. Al's Restaurant of Happy will cater the supper with three types of fish available in addition to a full plate of trimmings. Tickets for the supper are $2.75 per plate.

Happy's "homecoming queen" will be introduced during pregame rites immediately preceding the evening in Cowboy Stadium. The game is to begin at 8 p.m.

Following the football game coffee will be served in the school cafeteria for ex-students as an additional fellowship time.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jeanne Sims and Mrs. Rhonda Smith, both of Amarillo; a stepson, Dave Crabtree of Canyon; a sister, Lucille Humphries of Canyon and seven grandchildren.

Heart cyclethon slated

Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association will be sponsoring a Cyclethon fund-raiser in Canyon on October 16.

The cyclethon will begin at 9 a.m. and is to conclude at 3 p.m. with prizes to be awarded in each division for total contributions.

Each participant in the cyclethon must complete an application blank for the effort. The applications will be distributed throughout local schools this week.

Categories for the Cyclethon this year will include a pre-school section for tricycle riders and two-wheelers which will be staged on the parking lot of First National Bank. Other categories will include grades 1-6, grades 7-9, high school and college, and adults.

The theme of the Forum is "The World of NSA - Do You Belong In It?" Coordinators are Eleanor Baker and Phyllis Custer, CPS.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m., and the program will be concluded by 1:30 p.m. The registration fee is $8.00.

Lung funds sought

The Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the Top of Texas committee to the American Lung Association opened their fund drive Saturday.

Kraut is aging

By REBA RAE

THERE'S NOT TOO much going on in Umbarger this week.

WE CHECKED WITH Mrs. R. D. Friemel and she told us that last week, the kraut makers cut 1958 pounds of cabbage and that this made 335 gallons of kraut. That is a lot of kraut, but it takes a lot of kraut to feed the crowd that we feed each year at our sausage festival.

The chairmen of the kraut making this year are the R. D. Friemels and the Carl Frische's.

WE HAVE ANOTHER set of new great-grandparents in Umbarger. Henry and Amalia Bracht have a little great-grandson. He arrived in Arlington, Virginia last Sunday. He belongs to Mickey and Jacqueline Barnett.

Otis and Pauline Farmer of White Rock, New Mexico are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnett of Portales, New Mexico are the paternal grandparents. Our congratulations to the parents and all the grandparents.

MR. AND MRS. M. J. Gerber and sons from Two Buttes, Colorado visited the Ray Gerber's last weekend. The two Gerber women are sisters. They left for home on Monday.

DAVE RILEY is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Ft. Lyons, Colorado. We hope Dave will be able to come home soon.

DWIGHT AND MARY Brandt are living in Umbarger at present. Dwight is employed with the City of Amarillo. He is an engineer with the utilities department. Mary is employed with Vaughn Real Estate in Amarillo.

They are living in Mrs. Emma Brandt's home, while their new home is being built in Amarillo.

BILL AND FRANCES Gerber went to Dalhart last Sunday to visit with Tom and Joyce Gerber and family and Jim and Carolyn Wiecek and children. They returned home on Monday.

CALL ME AT 499-2164 if you have news for me.

In assembly line fashion, Umbarger residents grate cabbage by hand for the Annual Umbarger Sausage Festival. The group is preparing over a ton of kraut for an anticipated crowd of over 3,000 persons.

Homecoming assembly starts events

The 14th annual homecoming for Happy Public Schools will be held Friday with registration of ex-students starting at 2 p.m.

This year's version of the Happy Cowboys will entertain the homecoming crowd that evening at 8 p.m. when they meet Lazbuddie on the gridiron.

The homecoming assembly program is set to begin at 3 p.m. with several team members from the bi-district football champion team of 1956 expected to attend. A highlight of the program will be the display of a letter jacket earned in 1926 to be displayed by Jack Magness of Edinburg. Dempsey Alexander of Hereford, coach for the 1956 championship team, is expected to attend the homecoming program.

HHS cheerleaders will be presenting the Cowboy team of '76 as they are introduced by Coach Cleve Vessels on the homecoming program Friday. The Golden Cowboy band will open the program with a special performance by the HHS twirlers.

Honored ex-student classes from 1916-36-46-56-66 and 76 will be introduced along with the Golden Anniversary class from 1926 and the Silver Anniversary class from 1951. Also recognized during the homecoming program will be the ex-student traveling the farthest to attend, the oldest ex-student, the mother who has had the most children attend Happy Schools, third generation families and fourth generation families attending twirlers.

A fish supper will be served in the school cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. Al's Restaurant of Happy will cater the supper with three types of fish available in addition to a full plate of trimmings. Tickets for the supper are $2.75 per plate.

Happy's "homecoming queen" will be introduced during pregame rites immediately preceding the evening in Cowboy Stadium. The game is to begin at 8 p.m.

Following the football game coffee will be served in the school cafeteria for ex-students as an additional fellowship time.

J.T. Gillham's funeral conducted

Funeral services for J. T. Gillham, 58, were conducted Tuesday at the First Assembly of God Church in Canyon with Rev. A. J. Pettit officiating.

A longtime resident of Canyon, Mr. Gillham died early Saturday at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. He was born Aug. 18, 1918 at Vigo Park, Texas and moved to Canyon in 1929. He lived at 605 17th Street, Canyon.

He attended Canyon Public Schools and was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a sustaining member of the B.S. Scouts of Canyon, and attended the Assembly of God Church.

He formerly owned Randall Motor Company in Canyon until he sold his interest in the business in 1971. He was employed as a parts salesman with

B & T Auto Supply in Canyon. Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was held at Dreamland Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Merle Pitt, A. E. Thompson, T. H. Woolsey, Horace D. Carter, George Caldwell and Omer Mainville. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jeanne Sims and Mrs. Rhonda Smith, both of Amarillo; a stepson, Dave Crabtree of Canyon; a sister, Lucille Humphries of Canyon and seven grandchildren.

Heart cyclethon slated

Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association will be sponsoring a Cyclethon fund-raiser in Canyon on October 16.

The cyclethon will begin at 9 a.m. and is to conclude at 3 p.m. with prizes to be awarded in each division for total contributions.

Each participant in the cyclethon must complete an application blank for the effort. The applications will be distributed throughout local schools this week.

Categories for the Cyclethon this year will include a pre-school section for tricycle riders and two-wheelers which will be staged on the parking lot of First National Bank. Other categories will include grades 1-6, grades 7-9, high school and college, and adults.

The theme of the Forum is "The World of NSA - Do You Belong In It?" Coordinators are Eleanor Baker and Phyllis Custer, CPS.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m., and the program will be concluded by 1:30 p.m. The registration fee is $8.00.

Secretary's forum events are Saturday

The theme of the Forum is "The World of NSA - Do You Belong In It?" Coordinators are Eleanor Baker and Phyllis Custer, CPS.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m., and the program will be concluded by 1:30 p.m. The registration fee is $8.00.

Lung funds sought

The Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the Top of Texas committee to the American Lung Association opened their fund drive Saturday.

Mrs. Dorothy Carruth and Dr. Myron Dees, both of Canyon, are Top of Texas Area Advisory Council members. Mrs. Claude Currie, also of Canyon, is a representative director of the organization.

Dr. Boatman buried in Oklahoma

Funeral services for Dr. Claude E. Boatman were held Monday in Edmond, Okla. He died Friday at Edmond Memorial Hospital at the age of 71.

A native of Green Ridge, Mo., Dr. Boatman came to Indian Territory in 1906 and was reared in the Witcher area just north of Oklahoma City. He received his BS degree from Central State College in 1929, his MS in 1937 from Oklahoma State University and his Ph.D. from Ohio State University in 1951.

Dr. Boatman taught in various Oklahoma public schools for 21 years, including Tonkawa, Oklahoma County, Dewey and Tulsa. He taught audio-visual physics classes in Oklahoma City for a year. He also taught college at Peru, Neb., State Teachers' College, Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio; East Tennessee State University, and West Texas State University, over a period of 24 years. He was chairman of the science division at Central State College, Edmond, Okla., from 1952 to 1959, and chairman of the chemistry department at West Texas State University from 1959 until his retirement in 1970.

Dr. Boatman worked for one year as assistant chief chemist for the Shell Oil Co. and three years as consultant for Carter Oil Co. of Tulsa.

Memberships included Witches Baptist Church, American Chemical Society, Oklahoma Academy of Science, Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Chi Delta, Pi Lambda Epsilon, and Sigma Xi. He received a Distinguished Former Student Award from Central State University in 1975 and was listed in Who's Who directories of American Education, the Southwest, Midwest, and Texas. He was also listed in American Men of Science.

Survivors include his wife Inez of the home; two sons, Thomas Earnest, Bainbridge Island, Wash., and Charles Eldon of Edmond; one daughter, Marilyn of Vici, Okla.; 13 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Memorial donations may be made to the Heart and Lung fund of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Carver... "How to drive and stay alive" course for senior citizens.

Defensive driving studied

The Canyon Senior Citizens are receiving a defensive driving course this week. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Carver of Amarillo are conducting eight hours of teaching on how to "drive and stay alive," or driving so as to prevent an accident in spite of incorrect actions of others and adverse conditions.

Carver is an instructor-trainer certified by the National Safety Council. He has taught the course to between 1,000 and 2,000 senior citizens during the last seven years in Texas and New Mexico.

Carver also has trained instructors for the program in Louisville, Kentucky; Albuquerque, N.M.; Alamogordo, N.M.; and throughout the Panhandle. The course presents safety features of driving. Those who complete the course are given a graduation card and a certificate which entitles them to a 10 percent discount on their automobile insurance, according to Carver.

The certificate is good for three years. Carver said that the program helps to keep senior citizens with drivers licenses. The course costs $3 to pay for a state registration certificate, a work book, and miscellaneous expenses.

Carver has held the course in Canyon several times. He has also taught in Hereford, Lubbock, Pampa and Amarillo.

Sales tax back

Canyon received $21,982.69 in sales tax from the state for sales ending Sept. 3, the state comptroller's office announced. The city receives about $100,000 a year in sales taxes. Statewide, sales tax rebates have totaled $230 million so far this year.

LCC chorus to perform

The 60-member Lubbock Christian College A Cappella Chorus will present a wide variety of religious songs when they appear in concert at the University Church of Christ in Canyon Friday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The program is open to the public with an invitation extended local residents by Bob Crass, minister.

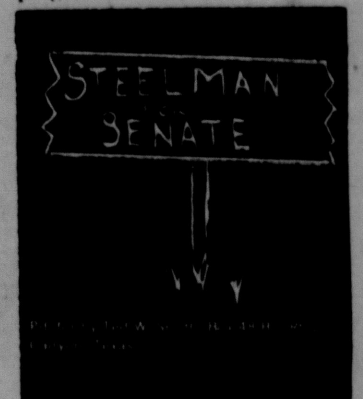

Under the direction of Lubbock Christian College Music Department Chairman, Dr. B. Wayne Hinds, the group will sing a large selection from their repertoire, including hymn arrangements, sacred songs, spirituals and special concert numbers.

Highlighting the program will be the "Sermon in Song," "Jesus, Jesus, Jesus" which includes five hymns bridged together with narration so that with the lyrics and narration, the listeners hear a sermonette.

Two small groups, drawn from the chorus, will also perform on the program and are a men's quartet and a women's octet.

The chorus represents a large cross section of the Lubbock Christian College campus. The group includes freshmen through seniors and students who are majoring in everything from the ministry to music and education to agriculture.

Located in the city of Lubbock, the college was founded in 1957 and now offers bachelors degree programs in 22 fields.

Gene Howe

School's open house set

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

THIS WEEK'S MAIN reminder is for Gene Howe's two open house nights. Grades 4-6 will be represented Sept. 27, at 7 p.m.; kindergarten through 3rd, plus Early Childhood Education will be Oct. 11.

Be sure to sign your child's (or children's) folders in the classrooms.

NOVEMBER 12 HAS been designated for our chili supper. Bring everyone!

This event is the PTA's main money-making concern; besides, the food is always super, who could resist?

Please put this date on your calendar now.

THREE OF OUR programs are scheduled already. The fifth grade will present the Christmas program Dec. 6; in March, the third grade will present a patriotic program, while May give us the first grade program. Also in the works is a Fall Variety Show to raise money for our tennis/basketball equipment.

THERE ARE SEVERAL new faces at Gene Howe. I've already introduced Jim Dawson, but here is some additional information. To qualify as a principal, he must put in a ten hour week for one semester.

Mr. Dawson was previously a teacher, and his wife Lou has taken leave from Canyon High School because she's devoting all her time to Joe Dec, 5 months old. The Dawsons have two other boys, John David, 4, and Jimmy Don, 7.

MARGARET PARKS IS our new Gene Howe librarian. Her husband is principal at Rex Reeves. They have a daughter Laurie, 7.

She's already begun the first graders on books and reports the kids are very excited.

CAROLYN COVIN HAS been added to the faculty as a Math Resource teacher. This program is associated with the Special Education department. Carolyn came from San Antonio and only began at Gene Howe Sept. 16.

Buddy, her husband, is district manager for Farmers Insurance Group. The Covins have two children in Rex Reeves, Pat, 8 and Rebecca, 5.

DORINDA NEWTON IS doing her student teaching under Jeanne Miller, fourth grade.

She will graduate at mid-term from Tech. So far she loves the experience and hopes to be employed in the Dallas area.

SOME OTHER NEW faces were seen Monday. Several of the Stratford teachers arranged to spend the day visiting in the classrooms here.

STEVE AND BARBARA Schwartz are new in our area. He works for Meads Containers, and Barbara attends classes at Amarillo College. They have a son, Brian, in Pam Layman's morning kindergarten.

BRENDA AND LUTHER Lawless had guests this week-end. Gloria Creel, Mr. Lawless's sister and her husband, Lyndon, from Oklahoma City were here with their son, Shannon, 4. The guys even got in some golfing.

ELLEN HICKERSON, CAMPFIRE'S Area Service chairman, told me Saturday was their "Whing Ding" at Camp Don Harrington.

This was a special day for the girls and their mothers (the Group Leaders). The Bluebirds had movies, clowns, and popcorn; the Adventure group took a hike.

The mothers organized the groups and made plans for the year's activities. First on the agenda is a national photography contest.

FALL ATHLETICS ARE here! The 1st and 2nd grade girls won their first game in soccer against Belmar 2-1.

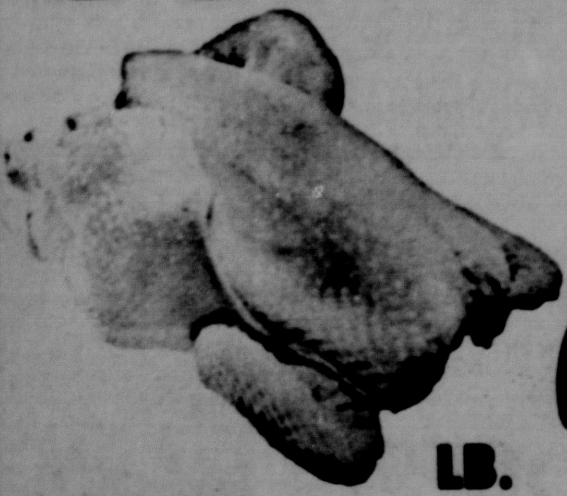

Pat Meier, their coach, told me it was a very exciting game. Pat is assisted by Sheila Bulla.

Tamara Fowell, Glennie Green, Delia Jolley, Cassie Meier, Melissa Mixon, Sharon Rawls, Melinda Sismore, Robin Watts, Tammy and Tracy Weatherly.

GENE HOWE'S FOURTH grade football team has played two games. The first game against Oakdale was won 13-0 by Gene Howe; then we tied Ridgecrest 6-6.

Bob Trook and Tom Grimes are coaches. The boys are Lynn Vandlingham (who made both touchdowns in the Oakdale game), Daryl Williams, Jay Edwards, John Hicks, Mark White (who ran 75 yards for the touchdown in the Ridgecrest game), Jay Knight, Kip Camfield, Dub Austin, Delbert Hollis, Richard McCarter, Chris Stokes, Don Myers, Brent Matlock, Jeff Gramland, Brent Zachary, Chris Crisler, and Clay Sutton.

Their next four games will be at Gene Howe: Sept. 26, Oct. 3, Oct. 10, and Oct. 17. All games at 2 p.m. except Oct. 3 at 3 p.m.

SEE YOU AT Open House; have a terrific week.

Speed lowered near kindergarten

City commissioners Monday night awarded an order for two new police cars, adopted an ordinance, and lowered the speed limit around the new kindergarten building.

Bids were opened for Imperial Chevrolet for $3,512 for each of two police cars, including trade-in.

The order went to Stevenson Motor Company for a low bid of $2,490 per car with trade-in.

Commissioners also approved a statement of intent to adopt an ordinance requiring industries to pre-treat wastes before it enters the city waste disposal system.

The ordinance should have been adopted, according to state law, in 1972, city manager Glen Metcalf told the commissioners.

Steve Hines, newly elected commissioner who pledged to promote industry for the city, questioned Metcalf on the effect the ordinance would have on potential industry location here.

Metcalf said the ordinance was standard in all Texas cities and should have no effect.

"I'm in favor of industry, but I don't feel they should place a burden on the tax-payers," he said.

At the request of school superintendent Dr. Sam Thompson, the commissioners voted to establish a school zone of 20 miles an hour on Sixth Avenue between 15th and 16th Streets and on 15th and 16th Street bordering the school property. Also a no parking, loading zone would be initiated on Sixth Avenue.

The board approved $249.99 to the Texas Municipal League to oppose the rate increase request of Southwestern Bell.

They set a date Oct. 19 for the joint city-school board meeting and approved a request from Jim Sands to pave part of an alley.

City leads in growth

Canyon trails only Amarillo in the Panhandle in new construction and is, in fact, 46th among all Texas cities, according to a survey of building permits issued in Texas cities for the first six months of the year.

Canyon ranks 28th in the state in per capita expenditure on construction.

According to the report, $510.80 is the per capita total for the $4,256,508 building industry here. Amarillo spends $345.77 per capita for a $43,915,659 total.

In the first six months of the year, Canyon issued 120 building permits for new home construction.

This edges out Hereford with 117. Other Panhandle cities include Pampa with 17, Dalhart with 26, Dumas with 62, Tulia with 2. Amarillo led with 1,203.

This is the second year of a building boom in Canyon and code enforcer Jerry Lehnick sees more of the same for the next few months. New developments are being constructed on all sides of the city, he pointed out.

growth," he told the board. "If we're thinking about growth, we have to think district wide."

Thompson contested the idea that the now uninhabited land bordering Amarillo school district will be a liability.

"I say it's not a losing proposition," he said. "I'm not saying it's a money maker, but it's not a losing one either."

The vote to detach the section came immediately after Thompson's presentation. After a 4-3 split, the board voted to present a unanimous decision.

The board also approved a maternity leave for Marian Criswell, hired the new first grade teacher, set Oct. 19 as the joint city-school annual meeting, and appointed Thompson as the district's representative on the joint committee of the Panhandle Education Service Organization.

They agreed for Thompson to work with a consultant from Region 16 of the Texas Education Agency to update school board policies to reflect changes in laws and conditions. Thompson will report back to the board on progress.

Canyon fire chief Jack Jennings and assistant chief Joe Rice, awarded certificates of appreciation to the board for its help in fire training. The board earlier donated an old house from the lots purchased for the tennis courts to the Canyon fire department to use in smoke training.

Jennings said this was the first time his department had been able to realistically train in smoke inhalation tactics. Smoke was the largest killer of firemen, he told the board.

The board also authorized taking legal action to collect delinquent taxes from the following:

shovel the seed. By flipping a switch, the seed flows from the truck to the ground, according to Hill.

"We should utilize the energy we carry around under the hood of our cars," said Hill.

Hill has developed several devices to aid the farmer. One of these is a cattle sprayer that can be loaded into the back of a pickup and receive its power from the battery. According to Hill, the sprayer would drastically reduce the cost from that of using a large spraying unit.

Hill has also devised a dual battery switch which can be put on any vehicle. The purpose of the double battery is to provide 12-24 volts for starting industrial pumps and motors. The switch will send volts through cables to the machinery from either one or two batteries.

Hill has also developed a battery powered dust mop for big industrial cleaning. The machine does not produce harmful fumes, according to Hill.

Hilla D.D. Electric, located about seven miles north of Canyon, opened full swing operations this year. Hill has been working with electrical power since his high school years. He says he still refers to library books when he needs advice. "I get an idea and I do it," said Hill.

Bindweed meeting pushes petition

A meeting to discuss field bindweed control and to discuss the organization of a bindweed control district was held by several agricultural groups of Randall County Tuesday night in the Community Center.

Dr. Allen Wiese presented a talk on the control of the weed. The program to educate county residents on ways to kill bindweed was organized by Bob Robinson, County Agricultural Agent; the Farm Bureau; Farmers Union; Young Farmers Chapter; and Palo Duro Soil Conservation District.

State Representative Bob Simpson was present at the meeting to explain House Bill 288, which allows for the establishment of districts for control and eradication of noxious weeds in certain counties.

The group began circulating a petition to be presented to the County Commissioners Court. The petition asks for the organization of a noxious weed district. Fifty signatures of landholders within the designated boundaries of the called for district is required for validation.

The boundaries of the district were set up to include all of Randall County, excluding the corporate limits of Canyon, Amarillo, Lake Tanglewood, and Palo Duro State Park. Bob Robinson said that excluding the city limits of these areas will reduce the costs of the program.

Robinson said that each year the qualified voters within the district must meet and that each person must be notified by written notice. "If we include city dwellers, the cost of postage would take all the funds," said Robinson.

Another reason for excluding city residents, according to Robinson, is that the district will be able to levy a three cent per acre tax in Randall County on rural farm land. Since the tax could not be put on city residents who own no land, the costs of spraying for bindweed within the city would not be reimbursed.

If the petition is passed by the County Commissioners Court, a public hearing will be called on the district. If it is then decided that a district is needed, an election will be held in which only designated voters may vote. These voters are specified in House Bill 288 as "resident property taxpayers voters of the proposed district."

Attorney Jim Brown said that any person living within the county and owning land within the district are eligible to vote in the election.

If the district is organized, the Commissioners will appoint five people to serve as the Board of Directors of the district. The directors will then have the power to determine which noxious weeds shall be subject to control, the method or methods of control, to prescribe the specific areas within the district on which the control measures are to be carried out, to prescribe the period within which the control measures are to be carried out, and to take such other action as is necessary to effectuate the purposes of House Bill 288.

The board will also appoint an inspector for the district who will be in charge of controlling the weeds. He will have authority to spray land if a farmer fails to cooperate. The farmer will then be charged for the service. The same procedure will be exercised on railroad right of ways and State Highway Department land.

Wiese and Wayne Chenault from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland said "research has shown that bindweed can be controlled. The secret is learning to know weak spots in the life cycle of the plant and then doing the right things at the right time." According to the two scientists, field bindweed infests 300,000 acres and costs Texas farmers 15 million dollars annually. This estimate assumes 100 dollar per acre gross income and a 50 percent yield loss.

The plant, known as possession vine, creeping jenny, or wild morning glory has arrow shaped leaves and trumpet like flowers. Roots proliferate the entire soil profile stealing most of the water and nutrients from any summer crop.

Wiese said that Dwane

The weed . . . Bindweed have arrow shaped leaves and trumpet shaped flowers. Roots live year to year and penetrate the soil over 8 feet.

and Larry Morgan offered for sale at $3 per share 2,000 shares of Western Petroleum Resources, Inc., to Carol E. Sims who officers said lives in Happy.

The second case alleges that a similar number of shares at a like price in the same company were offered to Harold Erwin by Garrett and O. D. Morgan.

District Attorney Randy Sherrod reports that corporation officers told prospective stockholders more than a year ago that drilling of oil and gas wells in Cooke County by WPR would begin immediately. So far no wells have been drilled, he said.

Larry D. Morgan and Garrett both are under indictment in Colorado and are free on $50,000 bond each, according to Sherrod.

Special Colorado Prosecutor Hal Haddon was quoted as saying Garrett is charged with 37 counts of illegal securities sales in Colorado and Morgan 22.

Local officers said a US district judge in Kansas had issued an injunction against the Morgans in February of 1972 prohibiting future violations of the registration provisions of the Securities Act of 1933.

Eight other indictments were returned by the grand jury Monday. They include:

James Boyd Helm, 21, Amarillo, possession of a controlled substance; Douglas Earl Palmer, 20, Amarillo, delivery of a controlled substance; Paul A. Kuhaneck, 19, no address, theft; Mel Dean Christakis, 20, Amarillo, delivery of a controlled substance; John Marc Taylor, 18, Amarillo, burglary; Thomas Henry Cade, Amarillo, burglary; Linda Sue Jones, 20, Amarillo, burglary; and Linda Mae Cox, Amarillo, burglary.

Funeral rites today for Helen Curtis' 83

Funeral services for Helen Curtis, 83, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today, Sept. 23, at Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel in Canyon.

Mrs. Curtis lived at 400 7th Street, Canyon. She died Monday night at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon. She was born in Dennison, Iowa on May 29, 1893 and married Harold David Curtis in October 1931 at Sioux City, Iowa.

The Curtis family came to Canyon in 1944 from Lincoln, Neb. Until her retirement in 1965, Mrs. Curtis was the bookkeeper for Curtis Plumbing. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Funeral services today at 3 o'clock will be handled by Marvin Roark of the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt and Loyd Riddlespurger, Methodist minister from Amarillo. Burial will be at Dreamland Cemetery.

Pall bearers will include Glen R. Gardner, Keith W. Poole, Cristler Crain, W. A. Patke, Archie Dean Davis and Wayne Price. Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors in Canyon.

Survivors include her husband, Harold David Curtis, of the home; a son, E. J. Larson of Canyon; a brother, Moses Miles of Dunlap, Iowa and 6 grandchildren.

Legal assistant training gets great response

A successful beginning for the first in a series of legal assistant training programs has been reported by Mrs. Willie J. McCall, instructor in business education and office administration at West Texas State University.

Student response has been tremendous, according to Mrs. McCall. She says, "We have 36 people enrolled, and attendance is very good, just super!"

There is a great demand for para-legals in the Amarillo area, states Mrs. McCall. Legal Research/General Practice is the first in a series of courses to be offered by the University designed to prepare one to become a legal assistant.

The Business Education Department is planning to offer "Legal Assistant Training in Estates and Trusts" this spring. Other courses in the planning stage include legal assistant training in family law and legal assistant training in litigation. Repeat offerings in legal research/general practice are planned.

Emphasizes Mrs. McCall, "There is a clear distinction between legal assistants and legal secretaries. These are non-secretarial courses."

Mrs. McCall also explained that duties of a legal assistant include having different job descriptions. Para-legals do research, interview clients, delegate to stenographers, attend department meetings, but do not perform stenographic duties.

Para-legals must work under the direction and control of a lawyer. She emphasized that it is illegal for a legal assistant to try to practice law. They cannot give opinions or appear in court. According to Mrs. McCall, "The salaries for legal assistants are really good."

Anyone interested in the para-legal expansion courses who was not contacted by the survey is encouraged to call Mrs. McCall in the Business Education and Office Administration Department at WTSU.

Miss Patterson among pledges

Marcella Patterson, a freshman at WTSU from Canyon, is pledged to the Epsilon Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta here.

The salutatorian at Canyon High graduation last spring, Patterson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Patterson.

WT bowlers given scholarships as the sport gains recognition

West Texas State University is one of the first colleges in the Southwest to offer a scholarship program for bowlers. For the first time in its seven year tenure, the bowling team presented eight scholarships to students.

Hal Brown, coach of the team, began working and organizing students for a team 14 years ago in his own bowling alley. His team traveled and competed with other college teams.

Not until 1966, when Brown's students were invited to a national invitational tournament, was the team recognized or funded by the university. The team brought back first prize team award and 13 of 17 individual awards, according to Brown.

Brown became an employee as coach of the bowling team seven years ago when the Activities Center opened. Prior to this year's scholarship funds, team members participated on voluntary basis, according to Brown.

The WTSU Bowling team belongs to two conferences, the Southwest Plains Bowling Conference and the West Texas and New Mexico Conference. Last year, the men's team were rated first in the Southwest Plains Bowling Conference Championships, the girls were rated second.

Brown said that the scholarship program has a dual purpose — to provide top quality bowlers in national level participation, and to provide an avenue for a boy or girl to receive a higher education which has never been available to them before.

Brown feels that both the men's and women's teams are stronger than they have ever been this year. They are younger than before but not lacking in experience, according to Brown.

This year, the women's team will include Regina Hillier, 1976 Alberta E. Crowe Star of Tomorrow Award recipient and first place winner in National Junior Bowlers. Regina is a sophomore at WT from Amarillo.

Brown says that the team goal is to prepare for and win the regional tournament next spring semester. He said he would like to see ten men and ten women bowling for the university on scholarships.

The bowling program is not under NCAA rules and regulations, it is governed by the American Bowling Congress collegiate division. The team is funded through the Activities Center budget.

The WT bowling team will compete in its first meet this Saturday at New Mexico State University at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Oct. 23 is scheduled as the next meet at Texas Tech.

Bufs take to the road to meet Salukis Saturday

The West Texas State University football team, which defeated Wichita State 14-12 in their season opener last Saturday night, will go for their second straight win of the season this Saturday when the Bufs travel to McAndrew Stadium in Carbondale, Ill. to take on the Southern Illinois University at 1:30 p.m.

The Salukis, led by Andre Herrera who gained 201 yards on 35 carries, defeated Drake 27-15 last week at Des Moines.

"We don't know anything about the Drake game, except that Herrera ran for 200 yards," said head coach Gene Mayfield.

Herrera, a senior tailback who is averaging 129 yards in two outings, leads the Southern Illinois offense. Senior quarterback Bob Collins directs the I-formation attack, completing five of 15 passing attempts for 78 yards and two touchdowns.

"We have to assume that they are running Herrera out of the 'I' to get that kind of yardage. He carried the ball a bunch of times. That's really impressive."

"I talked to Jack Dolan (coach at McNeese State which beat SIU 38-0 in the opener) and he said that he felt that SIU would be a pretty good team after three or four games. That was their opening game under a new coach, and they made a bunch of errors. I think that SIU's win over Drake was even more radical improvement than even Dolan expected."

Defensively the Salukis have an average allowance of 344 yards (184.5 rushing and 159.5 passing) in two games. Monster man Valdre Rodgers and cornerback Mike Bellantoni are men to watch.

For WT, the offense gained 319 yards on the ground in the opener, and once again rank as the Valley's best running team. WT has three of the top five rushers in the league with Bo Robinson first at 118 yards per game, Anthony Dogan fourth with 85, and Tully Blanchard fifth with 75. The Bufs also rank second in the conference with 358 yards, behind Tulsa's three game average of 390.6.

Bo Robinson set the tempo of the game on the first play when he rambed 53 yards to set up the first Buff touchdown and when he wasn't ripping off big chunks of yardage he blocked anything that got in his way.

"It would be awful hard to overlook Bo's performance," Mayfield says. "He just ran like crazy and blocked real well."

On defense, big performances came from the line where Darrel Blades nosed out tackle George Henning for player of the week honors. Blades had four tackles and two assists, including a sack of Wichita State quarterback Sam Adkins in the second period.

"Darrel's effort certainly didn't surprise me," said line coach Jerry Behrens. "Because I knew he was tough enough to play with their big tight end and that he would try as hard as he could. He did a good job all night — containing the quarterback, putting pressure on the passer, and closing the off-tackle play."

The Buff defense overall had fine stats. WT leads the Valley in rushing defense (150 yards) and total defense (243 yards), and is second in passing defense (93 yards) and scoring defense (12 points).

Volley team gains tie

West Texas State women's volleyball team tied for first place with Abilene Christian College in an Abilene Tournament played over the weekend.

Action got under way Friday evening and WT easily won over McMurray College 15-9, 15-4. Then the going was a little tougher and the Bufs squeezed by Sul Ross State 7-15, 15-13, 15-8.

WT was defeated by Abilene Christian College Saturday morning 15-3, 14-7. Hardin-Simmons decided not to play WT in the second game of the morning, but WT did not win the game by forfeit.

In the final round of the tournament, WT drew Abilene Christian College, and this time, the Bufs had better luck as they defeated ACC 11-15, 16-14, 15-13. WT coach Alma Ramsey said her main problem during the tournament was getting the team to "execute the defensive and blocking techniques."

The Bufs host Texas Tech in the fieldhouse on the WTSU campus Thursday night at 7 p.m. and travel to Lubbock to play in a tournament over the weekend. Their record now stands at 3-2.

Girls lose in tourney

The West Texas State women's softball team found troubles over the weekend at the Sam Houston State Tournament in Huntsville. The girls were impressive at first as they defeated Stephen F. Austin 6-5.

But two consecutive losses dropped them out of the double elimination tournament. The Bufs lost to Angelo St. 3-2, and then fell to North Texas State 7-6.

The WT softball team is now 2-2 and they travel to Texas Tech Monday night and then on to Denton for a weekend tournament which begins Friday.

Exam registration set

High school juniors need to register now to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (PSAT/NMSQT) in October.

Kenneth Ringo, CHS guidance counselor said the exam would be given here Oct. 19, in conjunction with testing throughout the nation. The exam will be given on that day only, he said.

The test is good practice for the Scholastic Aptitude Test required by most colleges for entrance, Ringo said. But, more importantly, the PSAT is the only preliminary test for National

The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude, two abilities important in doing college work.

Ringo said he has only about 60 tests and will need to order more if a large number of juniors register for the exam.

"If we know we're going to need more, we can order more tests. But if they wait until the last day to come up, they'll just be out of luck," he said.

About a dozen CHS juniors have signed up, he said. Test fee is $2.75.

Senior Citizens potluck tonight

Canyon Senior Citizens will be meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in the Senior Citizens Building, 1719 5th Avenue, for their weekly potluck supper and fellowship.

Any local resident age 55 and above is eligible to become a member of the Senior Citizens Organization. A variety of interest programs are conducted in addition to the weekly potluck supper-fellowship times for members. Those interested in joining the organization may attend any meeting or get further information from the office, 655-3331.

Welding course for farmers

An oxy-acetylene welding short course for adult farmers will be held Oct. 4-7 at 7 p.m. in the Canyon High agriculture building.

Charles H. Yeates, welding specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M, will instruct.

During the course dates, Yeates will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, vo-ag teacher Richard Porter said.

Farmers who want to take the short course should notify Dr. Ken Hart, CHS vocational director. An entry fee of $15 will be charged.

WE THINK YOU ARE LOOKING AT US!

In a recent study by a well-known research company it was determined that you, the public wanted to find a family pharmacist whom you could relate to on personal terms. You know, like in years past, where the local pharmacist was someone with whom you could talk.

We try very hard in our pharmacy to maintain just that type of relationship with our customers (we think of you more like friends.) Whoever is on duty filling prescriptions is always available, really wants to say a friendly hello, is ready to answer ethically any questions, and to help in any way that is possible. Come in and see for yourself.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

CHS to take on Hereford in non-district play Friday

The Canyon High School Varsity football team will travel to Hereford tomorrow to meet the Whitefaces at 7:30 p.m.

The Eagles, now 2-1 on the season, are coming off a 14-8 victory of Amarillo Caprock while Hereford, 1-2 on the year, is rebounding from a loss to Borger.

"Hereford is a Veer team," said Eagle mentor Deane Wright. "They have a good quarterback in Kelly Kitchens, and they like to throw the ball. Kitchens is a fine little quarterback, he's not very big, but against Borger they put a senior quarterback in by the name of Lawson. But we still feel they will be going with Kitchens until they get ready to throw the ball a lot and then Lawson will play more."

"Defensively they play a whole different defense from Caprock, it's a whole different ball game this week. We have to prepare for a completely different defense. They are a five man front, they do a lot of stunting, they do a lot of jumping around, they try to

Salukis suddenly threat after an impressive win

Just a few days ago, the West Texas State football team could have been excused for taking the Southern Illinois Salukis lightly. After all, SIU had been blasted by McNeese State 38-0, helping McNeese to the national lead in total defense by gaining only 64 yards all night.

But all of a sudden, the Salukis stopped Drake 27-15, giving Saturday afternoon's game with WTSU a whole new perspective. SIU won't be a pushover after all.

Now a new problem pops up. Problems with the air freight shipment of the SIU-Drake game film have left the Buffs completely in the dark about the improvement in the Southern offense and defense. "I really feel unprepared to talk about them until I get more information on their Drake game," head coach Gene Mayfield explains.

What the Buff staff knows, they mostly read in the paper. The newspaper accounts have Andre Herrera, SIU's senior tailback, running wild against the Bulldogs with 201 yards on 35 rushing attempts. Quarterback Bob Collins was also effective, throwing for 71 yards and two touchdowns.

"We have to assume that they are running Herrera a bunch of times out of the 'I' formation to

Cross country team starts year on win

The team title last week and almost the same opponents should be a good sign for West Texas State's cross country team, but coach Bob Kitchens isn't making any predictions about the Lubbock Christian College Invitational Friday afternoon in Lubbock.

"There's no assurance that we'll win this week," Kitchens says. "We won't be running with Texas Tech, and that could move some runners from Wayland higher in the standings."

"But, of course, I'd rather run with the knowledge that we can win than run without it."

Last week, the Buffs nipped host Wayland Baptist 49-52 for the team title in the WBC Invitational in Plainview. Texas Tech was third with 57 points, Eastern New Mexico fourth with 84, and LCC fifth with 105.

Eastern's John Kebiro won the invitational crown, but WTSU's Joseph Kemei, with a time of

Happy news Busy weekend

BY MARY NEAL HENRY
THE WESLEY-SIMS Memorial Roping and Art show is this Saturday and Sunday.
 The Art show is going to be a really good one this year. It will be at 200 East Main Street (next door to the post office).
 Happy artists and Bob Hargrave will be exhibiting art at this show. We have Dave Brown of Granbury, Justin Wells of Amarillo, Garland Weeks of Canyon, Jerry Teaff of Bula, Paul Wiley of Lubbock, Steve Haley of Sayre, Okla., Kathryn Stephens of Tulsa and there will be others.
 We will have some bronze in the art show as well as paintings. It will be worth your while to come down and see it. There is no charge. Come and enjoy the art show!

cumulation lanes where the boxed beef is placed on pallets; the box sealing area where the boxes are sealed before entering the accumulation lanes; and the crane storage area where the boxed beef is stored for shipping.
 We learned that processing plants are highly regulated. They are not assured of the prompt payments that have recently been legislated to cattle-men. I will be less critical after walking for an afternoon in their shoes.
 There, too, we viewed the carcasses of the High Plains Fed Beef Carcass show. The grand champion carcass had over 18 square inches in the rib eye. These are on display at the fair.
 A home economist of Southwestern Public Service demonstrated the cooking of beef in microwave ovens. A demonstration was also given on "The proper knife for the proper use." Vera and Bill Eubanks, John Butler, Lonnie Todd, and Tom Henry joined us for the T-Bone Club on Thursday evening. Familiar faces included Gary Culp, Ed Wright, Buck Weinbein, Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Forrest and his father.

 I was most fortunate to meet Jan Forrest. She, too, is a lovely person. The older Mr. Forrest told me that he was superintendent of schools in Farwell many years ago and that Foster Harman was the principal that served with him.
 An XIT CowBelle on the day's tour was a patron of Butch Starker Osburn. Butch is a hairdresser in Stratford.
 Billy Jackson, a WTSU student, was helping conduct the tours. Small world.

We had an excellent day. The program was most educational.

TRAVERNE AND RICHARD Vermeire of Tyler, Minnesota, have a new daughter, Amy Rochelle, born Sept. 18 about four in the afternoon. The new little girl weighed about eight pounds. She has two sisters, Marcus and Rene.

OUR SYMPATHY to the family of Carroll "Hap" Hancock, 78, who died Sept. 15, at Palo Duro Hospital after several weeks illness. Services were in Schooler-Gordon Chapel in Canyon and burial was in Dreamland Cemetery. Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Happy, officiated.
 Hap moved to the Happy area in 1909 and married Audrey Lee Markham in 1925. They celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary during last Christmas season. Hap was a farmer and member of the Methodist Church.
 Survivors include the widow; one son, Clyde of Happy; six daughters, Mrs. Willard (Charlotte) Morris of Littlefield, Mrs. George (Billy) Waldron of Dow Lake, New Hampshire, Mrs. Bettie Moore of Canyon, Mrs. Keith (Carollee) Waters of Stratford, Mrs. Donnie (Sue) Lilley of Canyon, Deloris Hancock of Amarillo; one sister, Mrs. Leslie Summitt of Del Rio; sixteen grandchildren and one great grandchild.

LOU NELL and Johnny Mitchell have been visiting relatives and friends in Happy for the past two weeks. They have been living in Singapore for the last few years. After a fishing trip (at least they were hopeful) to Utah and Montana, their next residence might be Algeria. Dell Greenfield Davis of American Falls, Idaho, was "home" visiting for a few days while Lou Nell and Johnny were here.

ROY EDMONDS of San Antonio has been visiting relatives in Happy and the area recently.

LINDA AND POE Cabe attended the Democratic convention down state last weekend. Meredith and Kyle Cabe stayed in Happy while their parents were away.

MR. AND MRS. Henry Bachman of Guymon, Okla., have been visiting their daughter, Dotie Foster and family in Happy.

OMA HAYES SPENT the first of this week with us. She really enjoys the country.

HAPPY COWBOYS DROPPED their ballgame to Farwell last week 67 to 6. J. T. Henry made the only Happy touchdown of the game. Wranglers also dropped their game to Farwell 30 to 6.

Both teams are looking forward to this week. Happy Cowboys face their first conference game with Lazbuddie at 8 p.m. and its Homecoming.

THE WOMAN'S STUDY Club of Happy met Tuesday with Joyce Wheat. Susan Harris of the Rape Crisis Service presented the program. Twenty-two members were present.

HAPPY CHAPTER OF the Order of the Eastern Star honored Past Matrons and Past Patrons on Tuesday evening. Joyce Wheat served refreshments to 18 members.

DROP BY THE beef carcass booth at the Tri State Fair today or come to Happy tomorrow, Saturday or Sunday.

KIM McCASLIN, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCaslin, will be installed as Worthy Advisor of the Happy Rainbow Assembly on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock in the Happy Masonic Hall. Friends are invited.

ALL I WANT is less to do, more time to do it, and more pay for not getting it done. Have a good day! Mary Neal

CALF ROPING BEGINS on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Introduction of the ropers will be 12 noon. Thirty-two of the nation's top calf ropers will rope two head each. The top 12 will then rope a third calf.

Steer ropers will be introduced on Saturday evening beginning at 7:30 p.m. at 102 Main Street. A western dance with music by Windy K and his band from Lubbock, will be held this Saturday night in the Happy Jaycee Hall.

Steer roping will get underway about 2 p.m. on Sunday. Forty steer ropers will rope three steers each. The top 12 steer ropers will rope a fourth steer to determine the winner. A trophy saddle will be given to the steer roping champion.

Two trips to the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City on December 4 and 5th will be given away on Sunday, Sept. 26. Tickets are available from any rodeo association member for a one dollar donation.

A GRA barrel race will be held between the go-rounds of the calf roping on Saturday.

HAPPY HIGH SCHOOL holds its annual Homecoming on Friday, Sept. 24th. Registration will begin at 2 p.m. The pep rally and crowning of Homecoming Queen will be at 3 p.m. Special guests will be recognized.

A business meeting follows the pep rally and program. Lonnie and LaNelle Todd, presidents of the ex-student association will preside.

Steak or fish will be served in the High School Cafeteria for $2.75 beginning at 5:30. Al's Restaurant will cater the meal this year.

Kick-off time for the game with Lazbuddie is 8 p.m. Then back to the cafeteria for free coffee and visiting. Homemade pie will be sold by the Happy Booster Club.

HAPPY COWBELLES LANNELLE Todd, Willie Butler, Judy Thompson and myself, attended the Area 1 Beef Education Workshop in Amarillo last Thursday.

The morning began with a slide presentation of the Beef Development Task Force, a self-help program for cattlemen. Questions were then answered by Richard McDonald of Texas Cattle Feeders and Mrs. Emma Lee Collier, president-elect of Texas CowBelles.

Jane Hager of the American National Meat Board talked about beef and its selling qualities. Her three beef samples were given to Thera Scott, president of Golden Spread CowBelles.

Luncheon speakers were Dr. Ted Montgomery of WTSU and Ken Stevens of the USDA. Mr. Stevens outlined the services provided by USDA. The men were introduced by Randy Haggood, area co-ordinator. Randy also thanked all those who made the workshop possible. Mrs. Max Carpenter was reservation chairman.

A tour of IBP filled the afternoon. We donned white coats and hard hats and began at the beginning, where cattle are received. Bob Barnum was our tour guide director.

Mary Starker Brown works in the offices of IBP. We waved at her as we passed through.

We toured the entire operation. Nothing is wasted. An inedible part dropped on the floor is picked up and put in a container for weighing. Everything is weighed.

Beef blood with only ten percent moisture retained is stored in a tanker to be sold as fertilizer. Dried blood is 95% ammonia.

WT and who? Faculty lists merger choices

When the West Texas State University board of regents meet tomorrow, they are scheduled to consider affiliating WT with a larger university system.

The system was unnamed on the agenda and no other details have been released.

Speculating on the question, the News polled a few faculty members Friday for their opinion.

If West Texas were to affiliate with a larger university system, which one would you choose? Or would you rather maintain independence?

The vote was nicely split among Texas A&M, University of Texas, independence and no opinion.

The psychology department had a definite preference for Texas A&M.

Dr. William Erwin named A&M as his first choice, followed by UT and no affiliation.

Dr. Louis Faircloth and Dr. Thomas Cannon followed suit.

"Texas A&M," said Dr. Cannon. "Go where there's the most money."

Dr. Faircloth named A&M for money and agriculture.

Jan Lamb, instructor in accounting, chose independence.

"We have something on our own to offer and I think we do a good job with it," she said.

Dr. Mary Gill, assistant professor of modern language, registered a no opinion with a strong bias to no affiliation.

"The first thing that strikes a person's mind is autonomy," she said.

Another no opinion/independence vote came from John R. Reeves, assistant professor of English.

"I haven't really looked into that very much," he said. "I have no preference but I don't know if there are any advantages that make it compelling."

There was only one unabashed no opinion.

Dr. Walter Shelly, political scientist, said "I'd have to study it and see the pluses and the minuses."

Other faculty members favored a University of Texas tie.

"If we're going to do it, shoot for the top," said Dr. Richard Jackson, assistant professor of political science, naming UT. "I think there was a time when maybe we should have affiliated with another university, and didn't. Now, I'm not sure we should."

Dr. Jerry Craven, assistant professor of English, said affiliation with UT seemed like a good idea, based on "what good things have come to other schools affiliated with UT."

Ed Rivas, assistant professor of sociology, also preferred the University of Texas, "if we have a choice."

Dr. Darrell Munsell, associate professor of history, said "I haven't given it much thought but there is one point I think the taxpayers should consider and that's a merger of Amarillo College and West Texas and maybe affiliation with some larger system."

A merger of WTSU and Texas Tech drew a strong veto. "Merge with Texas Tech?" one professor said. "No one in his right mind would want to."

Test well looking good

A test well dug last week in Umbarger promises to produce 100 gallons of water a minute, Lewis Raef reported.

"It turned out pretty good," he said.

Raef, who has headed the drive to develop a community water system for Umbarger, said the next step is to acquire easements for the water lines.

This is expected to take about a week, he said. The test results have been sent to Austin and Temple to Farmer's Home Administration there and should be approved soon.

The community water system for the 41 families is being funded primarily by a loan and grant combination from Farmer's Home Administration for $116,000. The grant is for $42,000 and the low interest loan totals $74,000.

The Umbarger families already have raised about $10,000 to help build the water system.

The FmHA grant and loan falls about $34,000 short of engineer Bill McMorris' cost estimates, but Raef said that FmHA officials believe that the system can be constructed for less than the estimate.

"They think our engineer has figured too expensive equipment," Raef said. "They think we can use cheaper equipment."

McMorris will ask for bids in about ten days, Raef said.

The FmHA money is not yet in Umbarger hands, but federal officials have assured residents that the funds have been approved and are set aside for the project.

The drive for a water system began about six years ago. All but one or two Umbarger families have subscribed to the system, Raef said. The hold-outs all have their own wells and say they will join the community system later.

More students moving south

More of Canyon's new students are located south of Rockwell Road than in any other area, Dr. Sam Thompson, school superintendent, told school board members this week.

Thompson was asked to make a survey of new students to determine which sections of the school district are growing fastest.

The area south of Rockwell Road gained 118 new students this year, he reported.

North of the Canyon Expressway and west of Hollywood gained 65 new students. The area east of the Expressway and north of Hollywood Road gained 66 new students.

The area south of Hollywood to Rockwell gained 94 new students.

County Auditor Bill Tirey has announced that he intends to see that various departments of county government hold the line

Shrubs eyed for new park

City parks and recreation board members approved the final park development plan and reviewed suggestions on shrubbery for Southeast Park at a parks board meeting Thursday.

The development plans will be submitted with an application for funding through state and federal agencies. Kevin Evans, city administrative assistant, said the application would be ready for review by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission's community development committee at their November meeting.

A shrubbery guide prepared by Sandor Nagy was rejected by the board because the plan did not leave enough open space and because the suggested shrubs were too expensive. They will use his guide as a base but will alter the plans, Evans said.

H. R. Fulton, a city commissioner who owns a florist and gift shop, advised the board on types of plants suited to Canyon (See SHRUBS, Page 5) in budgeted expenditures for the coming year.

Tirey's intention was made known in notes on the agenda for Monday prepared for commissioners court by court administrative assistant Carroll Wilson.

Wilson said Tirey has distributed copies of the budget to each department. He said Tirey plans to put the county on an accrual finance basis implementing long-distance recommendations made by the county's outside auditors.

Amarillo has submitted a contract to Randall County for consideration Monday calling for a flat payment of $14,560 next year for fire fighting services.

Amarillo Assistant City Manager Jerry McGuire said the rate is figured in the same manner as the previous $10,000 rate and is tied to fire calls answered by Amarillo Fire Department in rural Randall County.

McGuire said the department answered 14 such calls during the year which ended Sept. 30.

He said total operating expenditures for the year by the department was $2,645,465 in answering 2,544 fire calls at an average cost of $1,040 per call.

Wilson and the county auditor met with Amarillo purchasing agent J. C. Lilly and Dick Dickson of Potter County along with Canyon City Manager Glen Metcalfe and a representative of the Amarillo Hospital District to discuss joint purchasing.

Wilson believes a substantial savings can be realized through this method of purchasing supplies.

Co-op degree explored

Discussion to establish a cooperative degree program in social work between WTSU and the University of Texas at Arlington has hit no major snags, said Dr. Theodore Freidell, dean of arts and sciences.

Officials from UT at Arlington and the Texas Department of Public Welfare came to WT Thursday and Friday to explore development of a Master's of Science and Social Work here.

"The basic thrust is an attempt to work out some method by which Panhandle students can complete all or part of the first year of social work here before they do a year residency in Arlington," Freidell said.

WTSU administrator and faculty met Thursday morning with UT at Arlington and DPW personnel. Thursday afternoon the Social Work Advisory Board joined the discussion.

"There are no major stumbling blocks so far," Freidell said. "We're trying to respond to an expressed need and desire of numerous social workers in this area."

Dr. Hubert W. Oppe, head of the department of sociology and social work, led the discussion and later entertained the visitors and WT personnel at an informal get-together at his home.

About 50 prospective social work students got to meet the UT officials at a cafeteria style dinner.

Participating in the conference from Arlington were Dr. James Callicutt, associate dean, graduate school of social work; and Lila B. Hagins, admissions director of the graduate school of social work.

Department of Public Welfare personnel here were Dr. Ray Cook of Austin and Darvey D. Lavender of Lubbock.

Crime in Canyon bucked the national trend and rose during the last eight-month period.

Youth vote is sought

A campaign to register high school voters for the presidential election this year is being conducted by the CHS Student Council.

Randy Langen and Ricky Cooper have identified students who will be 18 before the Nov. 2 election and have sent letters to them telling where and how to register to vote.

New voters who will be 18 before the election may register in the tax office of the court house within 60 days of their birthday.

Voter registration deadline is Oct. 2. New residents must register at the tax office as voter registrations are not moved, county tax assessor Mrs. Audrey Bruse said. Persons who have changed their address within the county must correct the information.

Potted pot is seized

An indoor garden of 32 marijuana plants was seized this week when city police arrested three Canyon residents on felony charges of possession of controlled substances.

Dan Edward Burkes, John Sheldon Lindsey and Ann Lynn Lindsey, all of 2108 6th Ave., were released Wednesday on $2,000 bonds.

In addition to the plants, police, using a search warrant, found 72 pills alleged to be amphetamines or "white crosses," two jars of marijuana seeds and paraphernalia for smoking marijuana.

There were huge increases in the drug and liquor law violations and some increase in most other classifications, crime statistics compiled by the city police department show.

The rise in larceny thefts, which includes theft of CB radios, rose six percent here so far this year and burglaries increased by 24 percent. This is less than the national rise of 11 percent for larceny. Amarillo reported an 11 percent drop in all crime and a 30 percent reduction of burglaries. Nationally, burglaries declined six percent.

While statistics for Canyon indicate a sharp rise in the crime rate here, the increase is distorted because the total number of criminal offenses reported here remain small.

For example, rape in the city rose 100 percent in the first eight months of the year and will climb again before the year is over. This is because before April, no rapes had been reported for at least 10 years. In April, an apartment dweller here reported she was raped by a knife-wielding man who left her bound and gagged.

Another rape was reported in September, which is not included on the report. But when the offense is included in police statistics, the incidence of rape will jump again.

The rate for most other violent crimes, such as murder, manslaughter and robbery, is zero. But aggravated assault here is up 24 percent. This means that so far this year, 61 aggravated assaults have been reported, compared to 49 last year at this time.

Arrest for drug law violations is up dramatically this year, rising from 18 at this time last year to 60 arrests so far this year. This is more than triple the number of arrests last year, but total numbers still remain small.

Liquor law violations have risen almost five times higher this year than last. So far, 33 persons have been charged this year with violations of liquor laws, compared with seven this

Bufs tickets top 21,000

Pre-season sales of Bufs' football tickets totaled 21,067, athletic business manager Jimmy Campbell said.

The ticket sales produced approximately $53,000 in revenue for the athletic department, he said.

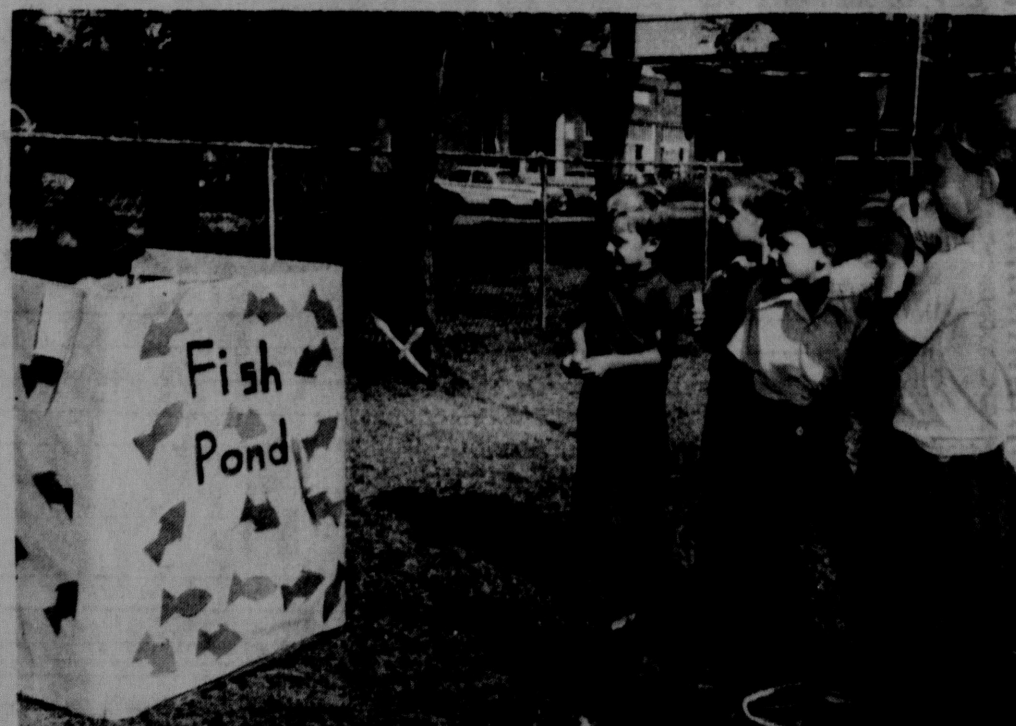

Campbell said he did not know how this season's sales compared with sales last year. The statistics were not available late Friday, he explained.

"The Fair" was underway Friday for Kindergarten students of Rex Reeves Elementary School at the playground adjacent the administration building was turned into a complete fairground complete with hawkers (teachers), refreshments (koolaid and popcorn) and games for all. Fellow students were trying spin art techniques while kindergarten instructor Virginia Bonifield was helping Doug Hannah at the apple bobbing tub and Peggy Trosper, instructor, manned the fish pond as Cody Fletcher made a big toothbrush catch. The kindergarten classes had decided to hold their own Fair Day after a visit to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo earlier in the week.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Factual content of the Presidential debates mean little.

The millions who see them on television will pay more attention to the bearing and looks of the two men than to what they say. What the viewers hear is most always colored by prejudice and preconception.

Ears of the millions who watched Thursday night were assailed by unknowable statistics. There was not ample time for either of the candidates to rebut. The very nature of the "debate" thwarted rebuttal — the very heart of debate.

Ford looked more like a President than he ever has. I have never thought he had that Presidential look. The single time I was in his presence I did not feel the power about him that literally radiated from the three other Presidents with whom I have come into contact — Dwight Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

I was in close proximity to Eisenhower and Johnson but even being in an audience addressed by President Kennedy I still felt the power flow from him. For me, up to now, Ford hasn't had it. A triviality? Don't believe it. It counts for more than what he has to say.

Jimmy Carter looked 10 years older Thursday night. His faux pas on President Johnson's "lying and cheating" and linking the late Texas born President's name to that of Richard Nixon could cost the Democrats Texas.

I understand that Lady Bird was far from happy and Luci was downright furious. Jimmy Carter may find that the ghost of Lyndon Johnson is still politically potent in his home state.

In a close race these remarks, made for Playboy Magazine, could be the most potent uttered in this campaign deciding the course of this nation for the next generation.

 Filled with football, guffaws and poignant determination, Tender Tyrant — the legend of Pete Cawthon — rolled off the press this week.

It was the second book to be copyrighted by The Staked Plains Press of Canyon.

The first, Panhandle Pilgrimage, has been a sellout and goes into its second printing this year in October.

Tender Tyrant is a biography of Pete Cawthon who put Texas Tech and her Red Raiders into the national football spotlight in the 1930s.

The story is by Etta Lynch of Lubbock, a gifted writer who is doing a biography of Gene Howe, Old Tack, which will be printed early next year.

The Staked Plains Press office is in The Canyon News building on the square in downtown Canyon. Books scheduled for next year in addition to the one on Gene Howe, include a biography of George Mahon, dean of the US Congress, along with five county histories.

The book on Congressman Mahon is being done by Wanda Evans of Lubbock who writes on a freelance basis for Reader's Digest and several other national publications.

College sets new panels

A framework for problem solving and program development will be provided, Dr. Gail Shannon hopes, by the five recently organized standing committees in the College of Education.

Shannon, dean of education beginning his first year at West Texas State University, said, "I hope these committees will stir up some concerns and advance recommendations on whatever problems come about in the college."

A representative from each of the six departments in education will serve on each of the committees: graduate, library and learning center, tenure and promotion, clinical experience and curriculum committees.

The committees should increase communication between the departments, some of which are located apart from the other education facilities, he said.

Shannon said he expected the committees to provide an opportunity for better planning, better communication, and better development to take place in the programs of the College of Education. They will meet regularly, he said, and will provide the dean's office with suggestions and recommendations for needed changes and developments in programs and practices.

Our World

NOW members ignore God's plan

BY ANN BROWN

The National Organization of Women (NOW) recently organized a new chapter in Amarillo. The young woman who spoke for the group declared on Channel 4 TV that their aim was total equality with men for all women — old, young, rich, poor, black, and white.

The speaker said NOW would not be satisfied with equal pay for equal work, but would demand equality in every area of life. (She did not explain, however, how they planned to force the men to take their turns at childbearing.)

The TV interviewer then asked if apathy prevented American women from flocking to join NOW.

It was not apathy, said the speaker, but lack of information that kept women out of her organization.

After casting a slur at the Women Who Want to be Women (WWWW), which has had an organization in Amarillo for about a year, the woman said the W's were simply not informed.

It probably came as a shock to the WWWW to learn they were so ignorant. The organization is composed largely of teachers, with a sprinkling of career women from many fields. The group elected as their president a successful realtor.

The WWWW are primarily homemakers. Many members combine other careers with making homes, but it would violate the very principles, aims, and goals of the W's if any member were to sacrifice her home for a lesser career.

The WWWW was organized for the specific purpose of preserving American homes.

In addition to its divine origin, the home was the first institution God created. No institution can survive without rules. American homes are in trouble because God's rules have been ignored.

The Creator ordained that man should obey God; the wife should obey God and her husband, and the children should obey mother, father, and God. The wife who refuses to obey her husband has broken the divine chain of command, and set a pattern of anarchy in the home.

Not all the women's libbers were born since 1940. A woman who came to the Plains around the turn of the century was as militant a libber as Ms. Betty Friedan.

The pioneer woman preached the same brand of equality the NOW is promoting. She insisted that if the wife had the first baby, and the husband produced the second one, there would never be a third. (She had borne 10).

All the women's ten children left home at the first opportunity. Her only son died at the age of 12.

Widowed in her early thirties, she insisted she had as much right to propose marriage as any man — which she did to almost every unattached male she met if he was anywhere near her age.

However, the men apparently felt they had an equal right to say no. The lady libber lived alone on her farm for nearly 50 years.

Eventually, the community insisted the children "do something" about their mother. She went through a rapid succession of nursing homes before she wound up in a state hospital.

When every disagreement with her wishes or philosophies met a sharp crack on the skull from the stout cane she carried, the nonagenarian discovered strangers were not as tolerant as her daughters had been (she brought them up on a blacksnake).

The obstinate old woman ended up in a padded cell in the state hospital — not because she lost her mind, but because she was intolerable.

Our common goal is happiness. It is rare indeed to meet anyone who has found lasting happiness outside of obedience to the rules established by our Maker.

Regardless of the low opinion NOW has of Women Who Want to be Women, that group believes in God. And to believe in God is to obey Him.

Any woman who lives in obedience to God recognizes her husband as head of the house. And that information comes from THE Book.

What next?

Maybe it's because we've gone and littered Mars with satellites, or that the sunspots are either subsiding or flaring.

Those are as good an answer as any for the occurrence of two freak accidents here within the week.

Traffic accidents always increase here in September with the beginning of the schools and WTSU. But, normally, tires don't fall off a truck crossing an overpass and break through the windshield of a car passing below.

And, normally, cars involved in a collision don't twirl around and smack pedestrians.

It all has the police chief shaking his head and wondering what will be next.

Good idea

The Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary needs $23,000 to go with the $2,000 they already have to buy a heart monitor for the hospital.

They have asked for donations and are conducting fund raising drives now.

There are more demands on one's sympathy and money than most people can take care of now. But helping provide better equipment for the community hospital is a project which, viewed separately, could some day pay off in better patient care for oneself or loved ones.

The auxiliary has set itself an ambitious and expensive goal. They can't succeed without community help. But helping is one of the things a community is all about.

More classes to start

The Community Education Division of the Canyon Independent School District will offer several new courses beginning Sept. 28, 1976. New courses include the following:

Metric System Workshop, taught by Denny Park, will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 28, 1976, one night only. This course is for those who wish to become more familiar with the system to which our country may soon convert. The fee is $2 and the class will meet in the drama room at C.H.S.

Giftwrapping, a 2-week course beginning Thursday, Sept. 30, will benefit those who might wish to develop wrapping skills to aid in getting a job during the holidays, or salespersons who would like to become more adept at giftwrapping. The class will meet in the Vocational Building, Room 108, C.H.S., and will be instructed by Sharon Early of Sears in Amarillo. Fee for the course is $3.

Two other courses which will both begin on Thursday, Oct. 14, 1976, are:

Crochet, a 4-week course instructed by Dorretta Boehning, which will include basic crochet stitches. Participants will be asked to bring a G or H hook and rug yarn to the first meeting. A $5 fee will be charged, and the class will meet in the HECE Room in the Vocational Building at C.H.S.

CB Radio is a one night only workshop which will teach the layman proper procedures to use in obtaining a license for and operating a CB Radio. The course, taught by Joe Cowen, includes a $2 fee, and will meet in the Drama Room at C.H.S.

Then, Thursday, Oct. 28, 1976, Community Education will offer a 2-week course in Microwave Cooking, instructed by Litton Specialist, Marilyn Coon. The class will teach one how to fully utilize a microwave in the preparation of breakfasts, lunches, and dinners. Fee is $5 and the class will meet in the Homemaking Kitchen at C.H.S.

In cooperation with the C.H.S. Ag Department, a 4-night welding course will be offered Oct. 4-7. This course will include basic welding skills and will be held in the Ag Dept. Fee is $15.

To preregister for any of these courses or to obtain further information, contact community education, Canyon High School, at 655-2168.

At Last, Texas Tech's Legendary Coach

Is Brought To Life In All His Glories,

His Defeats, His Ironies,

And His Vividness. . . In The Book

TENDER TYRANT:

The Legend Of Pete Cawthon

by Etta Lynch

When Pete Cawthon first stepped into the football-coaching spotlight in the mid-twenties, an unforgettable era began, "leaving football enthusiasts stunned and awed."

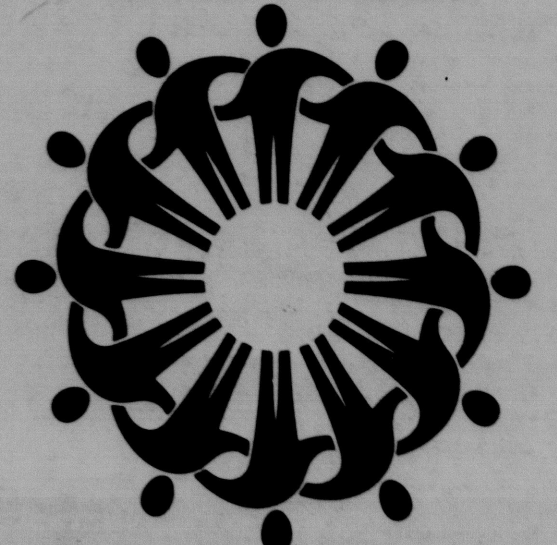

"For sportswriters, Cawthon provided a literal 'feast.' Nationally, their columns teemed with stories about the peppy coach, detailing his fierce competitiveness, his unpredictable antics, his resolve to avoid defeat."

"For players, Cawthon was dedicated to developing in them a life-lasting sense of responsibility, devotion and character."

"For fellow-coaches, he contributed countless hours explaining the same coaching techniques that catapulted him into national fame."

"And for all, Cawthon left a legend that has been forever imprinted in the annals of football history—a legend that places him parallel to that of his idol, Knute Rockne."

Alpha Nu Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, international professional music sorority, will present Judith Balo, talented young singer and winner of the sixth biennial Sterling Staff International Competition, in concert this evening at the Fine Arts Theatre of West Texas State University beginning at 8:00.

Miss Balo has appeared extensively as a recitalist in Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Dakota, Montana, Germany and Italy. She has appeared as soloist with the University of Southern Mississippi Symphony and the Meridian (Mississippi) Symphony. She has also sung leads in many operas and appeared in a number of musicals. In 1974-75 she was a member of the voice faculty at WTSU.

During the 1975-76 season, she was under contract with the Memphis Opera Theatre/Southern Opera Theatre Company. During that time some of the roles she sang included Micaela in "Carmen," Gretel in "Hansel and Gretel," and Amahl in "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Miss Balo is one of five winners of the 1974 Sterling Staff International Competition who Rituals were extended for Kay Thomas and the year began with a report on plans for the coming months by Wynema Brotherton, chapter president.

Serving with Mrs. Brotherton in the coming year will be Jean Irwin, vice president; Sammie Stroud, treasurer; Lucille Robinson, secretary; Virginia Rossiter, coordinating council representative; and Billie Bee Fleisher, extension officer.

are sponsored in concerts by chapters of Mu Phi Epsilon for three years. The competition is a project of the Mu Phi Epsilon Memorial Foundation which handles arrangements for the concerts. All proceeds from voluntary donations are used to further the music sorority's numerous projects and philanthropies.

Her program includes a first performance of Walter Hartley's set of songs, commissioned for the International Sterling Staff Auditions.

Lorna Schultz, organist of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Amarillo, is accompanist for Miss Balo. She received her B.M. degree in organ from Saint Olaf College, did graduate work at the University of Michigan, and earned her M.M. degree in organ at West Texas State University.

The evening program will include:

I
"Qual Farfalla (Parthenope)" and "Piangerò, la sorte mia (Giulio Cesare)" by Handel.

II
"O kühler Wald," "Mädchenlied (Am jungen Tag)," "Ständchen," "Von ewiger Liebe," "Ach, wende diesen Blick," and "O liebliche Wangen," by Brahms.

"O nel fuggente nuvolo (Atilla)," by Verdi, will feature Robert Krause, oboe, as accompanist. He is the assistant professor of music at WTSU and teaches oboe and theory. He is also the principal oboist with the Amarillo Symphony.

Following a brief intermission Miss Balo's program will continue with the following selections:

III
"Le Nil" by Leroux, "Première Danse" by Massenet, "Le fidèle Coeur" by Vidal, and "Chère Nuit" by Bachellet.

IV
"Give Sentence with Me, O"

Chi Upsilon chapter to add members

Chi Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, Sept. 20, at the home of Nell Haws.

Membership Chairman, Vi Taylor, reported that the committee had voted to invite into membership Nancy Lowry, Marie Wiek, and Delinda Harrell. These ladies will be invited to attend the next meeting.

It was mentioned that there is still a need for blood donations for Jacqueline Brown of Dumas. This young girl died after a lengthy illness in High Plains Hospital. Anyone desiring, may give blood in Jacqueline's name to help offset the costs.

There will be a collection of newspapers by the members. These newspapers will be collected and stored in a Conestoga Wagon on the highway. Any person wishing to save papers may contact a member of Chi Upsilon.

Co-Hostess Ruth Wilcox served refreshments to the following: Carol Ratliff, Nell Haws, Sandy Martin, Janine Adams, Marion Thompson, Vi Taylor, Patti Hargrove, and Carrie Bertrand.

Vi Taylor won the door prize and Janine Adams gave the program on Sculpture.

Next chapter meeting will be Oct. 4, 1976 at the home of Vi Taylor.

Festive foods set for October a.m. and 2 p.m. on Oct. 12.

The annual Festive Foods program sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council for all local residents has been set for Oct. 11-12.

Diane Bim, home economist with Southwestern Public Service Company, will demonstrate preparation of recipes for the Festive Foods booklet '76. The booklet will be distributed to all consumers attending the program.

In addition to preparing foods from the booklet, Miss Bim will discuss microwave oven cookery, use of portable electric appliances and getting the most from your electric range.

This year's Festive Foods programs have been set for 7 p.m. on Oct. 11 to accommodate working homemakers and other interested individuals, and at 10

Fall business meeting conducted for Heritage Woman's Club here

Heritage Woman's Club held a fall business meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Gwen Cornett, #23 Idlewood.

The regular business meeting conducted by Janie Louder, president, followed an executive committee meeting. In the regular meeting, the membership discussed dates for the upcoming Arts Americana bazaar to be held in November.

The membership also discussed the federated club's council dinner to be held November 8 at the University Church of Christ fellowship hall for all federated clubwomen of the city.

Genealogical highlights were given by the members as the opening roll call for the meeting and a federation report was given by Harriet Brandon. She reported on a recent trip taken to Washington D. C. for the GFWC Fall Board meeting. She explained the function and duties of the GFWC and also reported on a tour taken of the White House while there.

Voter registration forms were distributed for any unregistered members of the club to complete by the registration deadline, Oct. 1.

A report was also made on the Safety Bug Club project which is being co-sponsored by Canyon Kiwanis Club and the Heritage Woman's Club. The Safety Bug Club makes safety information available to all kindergarten students of both Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary Schools.

In other business, it was announced that HWC members Janie Louder, Joanna Flack and Harriet Brandon will be attending the TFWC Fall Board meeting in Austin September 26-29. The Top of Texas District is serving as hostess committee for the meeting and all clubs of the district have secured favors to be placed in the convention gift bags. The Heritage Woman's Club of Canyon will be presenting 100 pens, which were donated by First National Bank of Canyon, and will also be presenting a gift from the Towne Shop of Canyon for the door prize drawing at the fall board session. Guests for the September meeting of the club were Barbara Schneider, Charlotte Price and Cruse Snyder. A former member, Patricia Vise, was also reinstated as an active club member. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Cornett were Johnnie Gordon, Kathy Rhodes and Janie Louder.

Daughter's birth told

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Short of the Hilltop Trailer Park in Canyon announce the Sept. 18 birth of a daughter, Michele Lee, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The father is a carpenter for Byrd Construction. The baby girl weighed 7 pounds, 1½ ounces at birth and measured 19½ inches in length.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vinton G. Hubbell of Melbourne, Fla. and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Arterey of Wheatland, Wyo.

The Home Sweet Home interest group of Faculty Wives, Etc. met Thursday morning with Mrs. David Ritter in her garage workshop to discuss the "restoration of old trunks". Approximately 15 ladies were present for the morning session and viewed a selection of completely restored trunks as well as several in the process of being restored.

Mime artist scheduled to perform

Keith Berger, 21-year-old mime artist, is the first scheduled concert performer for the fall semester at West Texas State University, announced the Student Activities Council.

The mime concert, sponsored by the SAC, will be at 8 p.m., Oct. 1, in the Activities Center Ballroom. Admission charges are $1 for WTSU students with

ID cards and $2 for non-students. Selections on his program include "Head Piece," "The Fight," "Mechanical Birth," "Nightmare," "Flirtations" and "Life Climb."

In "Head Piece," Berger casts a spell of silence and then proceeds to "remove" his head. In performing "The Fight," he becomes both victim and bully.

Reporting on Berger's past appearances, South Dakota State University says, "Keith was fantastic. To put it mildly, he overwhelmed the students."

The young mime artist is also known for his impromptu performances in parks and on street corners. Although his street performances were started out of economic necessity, Berger explains that in the street, audience response is immediate; therefore, new ideas can be developed. He still holds these informal shows between professional engagements.

Junior scouts re-organized

The fifth grade level of Junior Girl Scout Troop #148 was reorganized for the year at a meeting held earlier this month with 21 members signing up.

The group's first meeting was held Sept. 22 and future meetings will be held on Wednesdays from 3:30 until 5 p.m. Leaders for the troop are Marilyn Maynard and Evelyn Kopczynski.

A two night campout at Camp Kiwanis was scheduled for Oct. 1-3. At the campout, the girls will be working toward completion of requirements for their "troop camper" and "outdoor cooking" badges.

Later in October the girls will work with Mrs. Mary Huntington, city librarian, on the "books" and "magic carpet" badges.

Troop #148 members include: Michele Bentley, Michelle Callahan, Joni Cranmer, Jennifer Dolle, Leslie Gwyn, Devra Kopczynski, Delores Luna, Wendy Maynard, Cindy Miller, Paula Kaye Morris, Jenny Reeves, Lisa Sands, Angie Shehan, Lesley Smith, Tara Tankersley, Andy Underwood, Annet Waxler, Ramona Wilson, Joni Woolsey, Susan Wylie and Terry Waller.

Crafts booths are available

Heritage Woman's Club has begun arrangements for sponsoring their second annual arts and crafts pre-holiday sales effort.

This year's "Arts Americana" will be held November 13-14 at the Activities Center ballroom on the campus of West Texas State University.

Artists with craft items, handwork, and any type of saleable produce for a holiday gift bazaar is invited to reserve booth space for the event.

Booths will be sold in the size 8' x 8' for $15 or 8' x 16' for $25. To reserve a booth contact either Marion Marrs at 355-3748 or Joanna Flack at 655-3438.

Tennis team getting in shape

Despite the fact that it is just late September, and their season does not begin for another six weeks, eight players on the West Texas State University tennis team are out everyday in the arid weather, running, sweating and getting ready for what lies ahead.

"With our team we just have to win through hard work," said Coach David Kent. "If we miss a day we are one day behind somebody else so we work hard the year round. We do a lot of running and hard work in the fall hoping it will pay off in the spring. We can't have a let up. The kids have to be dedicated to tennis and love it to go through it."

Kent sits and talks about the upcoming MVC season as if he is Custer and he has Sitting Bull in his sight.

"So we have our work cut out for us and it is going to be harder for us to repeat the Missouri Valley Conference championship," he said. "Even though we have the same team back, New Mexico State has some fine additions to their team, Tulsa has everyone back and SIU has some real good players in. So we have to work hard all year."

Among the Buff's fall training has included the Midland Invitation, an independent college tournament. "It was really a tough tournament," commented Kent. "The bright spots, if we had any, would be the play of the number two doubles team, Brett Hall and Bobby Kleineke. They beat a couple of pros from Abilene 2-6, 3-6, 4. They got beat in the next round by a team from Houston. Jay Goss did a good job in singles. Steve Johnson would have played well in the singles and actually did play very well considering that he had a badly pulled muscle in his arm. So that handicapped us in the number one doubles and the number one singles. Steve can play with anyone when he is well. But overall it was a disappointment but we are really looking forward to the Oklahoma State tournament the first week of November. It is a team tournament and we do much better as a team."

"We have quantity and quality and the other teams have quality and we feel we have eight good players this year and that will help us."

The Buffs will prepare for their November competition by playing scrimmage matches with Texas Tech, Amarillo College and New Mexico Military Academy.

Mini courses stressing involvement in dormitory life

A series of mini-courses designed to stress involvement in dormitory activities is being offered at West Texas State University, said Lynn DeGeer, residence hall activities coordinator.

Miss DeGeer is working with the men's and women's residence hall councils to bring more activities into the dormitories.

Miss DeGeer said, "The mini-courses are varied in scope and there is something for everyone to enjoy."

Most topics will be five weeks in length, with 15 to 20 sessions throughout those weeks. A number of topics will be offered on a one-time only basis, said Miss DeGeer.

Courses tentatively scheduled include jogging, exercise, guitar lessons, folk music, repairing bicycles, dealing with automobile emergencies, "common sense" first aid, golf, macrame and dance. Philosophy, make-up and charm, photography, billiards, self defense and bridge are also planned.

"We would like to have faculty and administration in the dorms for rap sessions with the residents," Miss DeGeer explained. "The SAGA Food Service people may be asked to have a session with the students, if there is a desire or a request for them."

Miss DeGeer plans to have dormitories hold social functions and to invite staff members and faculty so that the student can become better acquainted with his instructors.

These activities will be incorporated within the mini-course program and offered to the dormitory resident.

Registration for the courses will be late September or early October, she said. A sign-up date will be released after all mini-courses have instructors.

"The courses are offered specifically for the dorm student but others are welcome to attend. If you're going to come, sign up, if you're going to sign up, come," Miss DeGeer said.

"We aren't trying to aim the courses at large groups, but just those interested in the topics and willing to attend," she explained.

Brandons join TFWC delegation for fall GFWC board meetings

Sherry Fikes and Desley Altmiller

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brandon of Canyon were among Texas delegates for the mid-September director's meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Brandon is the director of junior clubs for the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and a local member of Heritage Woman's Club. Other members of the TFWC delegation included Mrs. Robert Tipps of Denver City, state president; Mrs. Willford Whatley of Fairfield, divisional chairman for citizenship; Mrs. W. Ed Hamilton of Houston, community education division chairman and Mrs. Phillip Carpenter of Burk Burnett, GFWC International hostess from Texas.

The GFWC Board of Directors is composed of 50 state federation presidents, 42 state junior club directors, and the GFWC executive committee and department and divisional chairmen.

At the board meeting the board members were briefed, discussed and voted on various GFWC policies, contests and projects. A briefing was also conducted on the 'Hands Up' project under the crime reduction division which is a volunteer effort to reduce crime and involves not only clubwomen but other community organizations and individuals.

While in Washington, D. C., the Brandons were participants in the GFWC Reception and Dinner for the United States Congress where various Congressmen, Ambassadors and Embassy representatives were guests along with members of all phases of news media and officials of many businesses.

GOP vice presidential candidate Bob Dole and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, attended the reception and he spoke to the membership and press regarding foreign policy priorities.

Special entertainment for the reception-dinner was provided by Sherrill Milnes, Metropolitan Opera's leading baritone, who presented a selection of patriotic folk and religious music. Records and tapes titled "Songs America Loves" recorded by Milnes for RCA to benefit the GFWC Affiliate Artists Trust Fund were available for sale.

Earlier in the day, the Brandons attended church services with a group of the board members at St. John's Episcopal Church (the church of the presidents) and the next day participated in a GFWC Special Tour of the White House.

While Mrs. Brandon attended convention board meetings Sept. 10-16, her husband toured Washington, D. C. visiting the Smithsonian Institute, National Geographic Building, the U. S. Capitol and Mount Vernon.

The Brandons extended their visit in Washington beyond the GFWC convention in order to visit the U. S. Supreme Court, the Senate Gallery, Arlington Cemetery, Washington and Lincoln Monuments and have lunch at the now-famous Watergate Hotel Complex.

Crafts workshop for all residents

"Creative Crafts" will be the subject of a free public workshop planned this Thursday, Sept. 30, at the Farm Bureau Building in Canyon.

Sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council, the daylong workshop is open to all interested persons from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Those desiring to take advantage of the full day's workshop may bring a sack lunch and spend the noon hour at the Farm Bureau also, according to Becky Hall, County Extension Agent.

Craft areas to be included in the workshop are rugmaking, rock-art, liquid embroidery, macrame and bread dough projects. Workshop participants may provide their own jute, pattern stamped objects, etc. and work on them under the guidance of the demonstrators.

Demonstrating for the workshop will be Bynum Morrison of Dan's Fifth Avenue who will demonstrate several stitches used in rugmaking; Lucille Robinson who will demonstrate liquid embroidery techniques; Mrs. John McNeill who will show the knots used in macrame; Francis Flaherty who will demonstrate rock-art craft projects; and Dorothy Corona who will display and discuss holiday ornaments and basket decorations using bread dough.

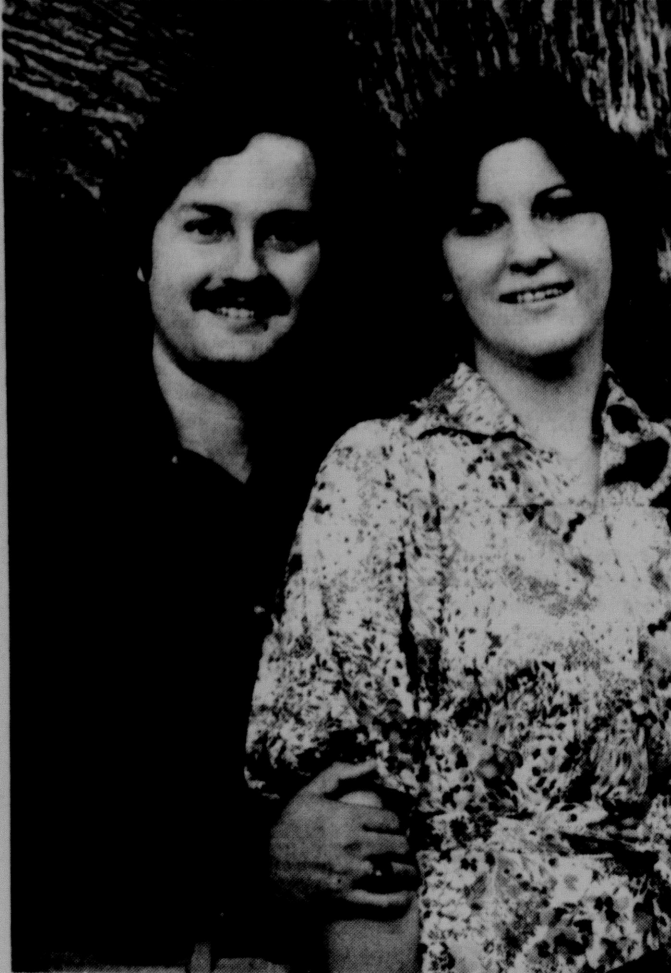

To marry

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Fikes of Olney announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sherry, to Desley Altmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Altmiller, former residents of Canyon.

Miss Fikes is a graduate of West Texas State University with a degree in Business Education. She was on the Dean's List and President's Honor Roll and was a member of Pi Omega National Honor Society as a university student. She is employed as a secretary with the School of Business at West Texas State University.

A senior student at West Texas State, Altmiller is an advisor for Jarrett Hall. He has received the WT Outstanding Intramural Participant Award for the past two years. He is a physical education and math major at the university.

Both Miss Fikes and her fiancé, Altmiller, are graduates of Olney High School. They plan to be married Nov. 20.

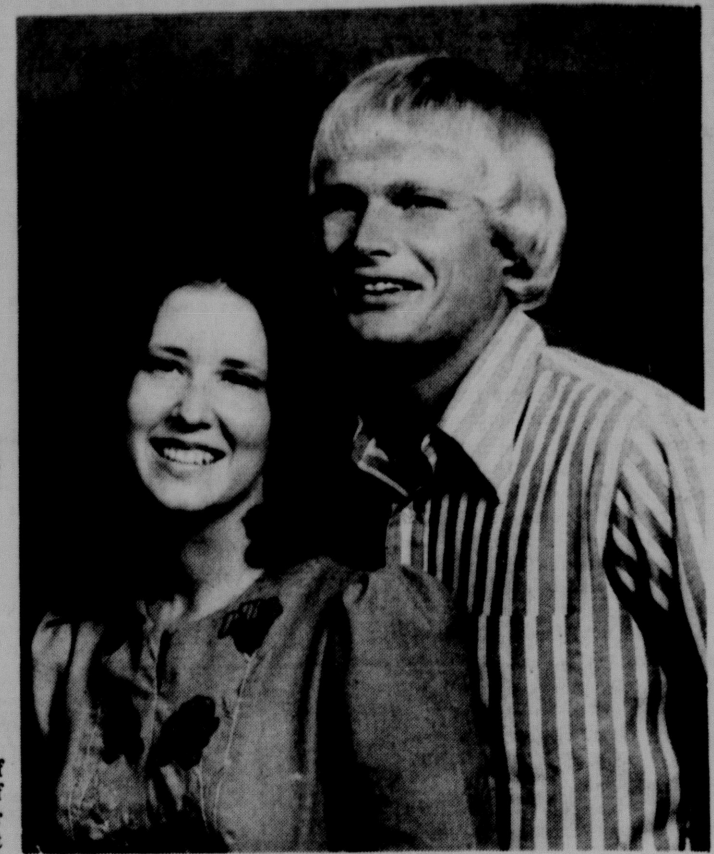

Donna Moser and Thomas Woody

Vows set

Miss Donna Moser and Thomas Woody are planning to exchange marriage vows December 28 in ceremonies at Grace Church in Wichita Falls.

Miss Moser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moser of Wichita Falls and is a senior elementary education major at West Texas State University. She is active in Mu Phi Epsilon, Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Mu Alpha Little Sisters of Orpheus, Scribes Honor Society, Alpha Chi Honor Society and is a member of the WT Band.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Woody of Dumas. He received his degree in music education from West Texas State during May 1976 and is presently the band director for Tivy High School in Kerrville. He was a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Kappa Kappa Psi and was vice president of the WT Band.

Yvonne Denise Dooley and Stanley Louis Wieck

November plans told

Yvonne Denise Dooley of Amarillo and Stanley Louis Wieck of Stratford are making plans to be married November 27 in St. Ann's Catholic Church at Canyon.

Miss Dooley, a 1976 graduate of West Texas State University, is the daughter of Mrs. Claire Dooley of Canyon and C. M.

Dooley of Harlingen, and is presently employed at Security Federal Savings and Loan Association in Amarillo.

Wieck, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wieck of Umbarger, attended Adams State College and West Texas State University, and is presently engaged in farming in the Stratford area.

DZ fashion event held

Mrs. Bob Henry, Mrs. Donna Wilson, Mrs. Jay Trosper, Mrs. Larry Oldham, and Miss Roberta Burrow served as hostesses when 60 Delta Zeta pledges, collegiates, and alumnae members met at De'on's last Tuesday night for the first meeting of the year.

The order of business included songs, introduction of new pledges and members, and the distribution of yearbooks and meeting schedules.

The style show program, narrated by Mrs. Jim Fitzgerald, included showings of the newest fall fashions. Modeling were Mrs. Royal Brantley, Mrs. Annette Cook, Mrs. Larry Oldham, Mrs. Bob Henry, Miss Stephanie Mehas, Miss Joy Powell, and Miss Kathy Borland. The group will gather on Oct. 24 to celebrate Founders' Day.

Elton Cox home on 'tour'

The Elton Cox home at 1411 Creekmore will be among those opened to visitors during the annual Harvest Home Tour to be held October 10 by University Study Club of Canyon.

Tour hours will be 2-6 p.m. with local and area residents invited for a guided tour. Tickets for the tour are $1 per person and entitle the bearer to visit each of the four homes on the tour. Tickets are presently available from USC members and will also be available at the door of each tour home on October 10.

Other homes on the tour, beside the Elton Cox home, will be the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Low at 3302 Linda Lane, the Bill Piel home at #25 Country Club Drive and the Jimmy Craig home, 10 miles south of Highway 87 and 2 blocks west at Ralph Switch.

A "country kitchen" offering home baked goods, gift items and crafts will be open for the duration of the home tour. This year's "kitchen" will be at the Elton Cox home, 1411 Creekmore.

As tour guests arrive at the Cox home they will notice the carved entry door, imported from Mexico, after passing through the courtyard entry. The Cox home has a white brick exterior with iron grill work accents.

From the entryway, tour guests will note the sunken livingroom flanked by the raised kitchen and sunken den on the other side. The open living area is highlighted with white brick columns and joined together with a cathedral ceiling giving spaciousness.

Matching corner fireplaces of white brick accent the livingroom and den which are separated with a white brick wall. The den is complemented with a built-in bookcase.

Xi Kappa Zeta holds business, program session

Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Tuesday evening at the home of Bettie Hunter.

A discussion concerning names for the Walter W. Ross scholarship was held, along with a discussion on the upcoming Area Convention to be held in Dumas Sept. 25-26.

The social committee for the chapter announced plans for a "poor man's cookout" to be held Sept. 25 at the Speck Benham home for chapter members.

Virginia Johnston was awarded the past president's gavel guard. The business meeting adjourned with chapter president, Nell Sims, leading the closing ritual and members joining hands for the mizpah.

A program on "Communications" was presented by Ann Dawdy and the door prize was won by Virginia Costley. Linda Payne was a chapter guest and was welcomed as a new member at the meeting. Ernestine Costley was co-hostess.

Next regular meeting of the chapter will be Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Barbara Tuck.

Sue Hite Club to begin year

Sue Hite Club of Canyon will begin their club year Monday evening, Sept. 27, with a covered dish supper at 1703 Hillcrest beginning at 7 p.m.

Programs for the year will be previewed and the theme "Dreams — Our Blueprint For Action" will be introduced by Betty Stoker, program chairman.

A message from the club's president, Frances Holman, will be included in the agenda for the evening.

Invitations ready

Invitations for a "poor man's cookout" were prepared by the social committee of Xi Kappa Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority recently.

The committee meeting was held at the Bob Costley home with committee members attending including Monita Benham, chairman, Ann Dawdy, Virginia Johnston, and Virginia Costley.

convenient kitchen which is complemented with an antique finished mirror and a harvest table for dining.

A brief hallway, exiting from the kitchen, joins the house to the double car garage. The hallway is also the location for the utility room.

The windowless formal dining room, adjacent the kitchen, features a mirror-tile wall with chandelier lighting.

Throughout the Cox home are original paintings, primarily by local artists and friends.

The three bedroom, two bath home is graciously decorated for the three-member Cox family. Their daughter, Kelly, 18, is a student presently attending the University of Texas at Austin. Mementoes of youth, including a collection of dolls, will be seen in Kelly's room.

Antique framed pictures of their mothers' decorate the guest room at the Cox home along with a high-back antique rocking chair.

The spacious master bedroom is complemented with a joining gold and black master bath which features a sunken black marble bathtub.

A screened patio area, decorated with plants and lawn furnishings, is accessible from the master bedroom and from the sliding glass doors of the living room.

Greeting guests at the Cox home will be a USC committee composed of Mrs. Emil (Dorothy) Olsen, chairman, and club members: Dorothy Bonds, Wynema Brotherton, Thelma Childs, Billie Erwin, Janelle Dillehay and Marilyn Dees. Junior hostesses at the Cox home will include Linda Brotherton and Janice Dillehay.

Mrs. Elton Cox explores the bound family Bible as she awaits guests who will be touring her home this fall during the Harvest Home Tour on October 10.

Highland HD has election

Highland Home Demonstration Club met at the Ernest Stoker home in Umbarger recently and conducted election of officers with Mrs. Clarence Howard being re-elected as president.

Other officers re-elected were Mrs. Jones Hales, vice president; Mrs. Boyd Elliott, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Warren Thompson, council delegate.

A regular business meeting was conducted with the members reporting on their activities of the summer as the roll call.

Those present were Mrs. Ernest Stoker, the hostess, Mrs. Clarence Howard, Mrs. Warren Thompson, Mrs. Boyd Elliott, Mrs. Jones Hales and Mrs. Ervin Podzemny.

HD council meet Monday

Randall County Home Demonstration Council will meet Monday, Sept. 27, at 2 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building in Canyon.

In addition to regular business, the council will review plans for the Sept. 30 Creative Arts Workshop to be sponsored by the council. The council will also discuss the Festive Foods programs to be sponsored Oct. 11-12 by the council.

'Impossible dream' is CSC's '76 theme

"Dream The Impossible" was introduced as the club year theme for Canyon Study Club at their first meeting of the new year Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Durwood Henderson, 1205 Brookhaven.

An arts and crafts display was arranged for the fine arts segment of the meeting by Mrs. Catherine Jones, art instructor of Caprock High School in Amarillo.

Program for the first meeting

Genealogical meet set

High Plains Genealogical Society will be meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, at the Cornette Library on the campus of West Texas State University.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. and will include various member reports on Summer Research Trips. The meeting is open to all interested individuals.

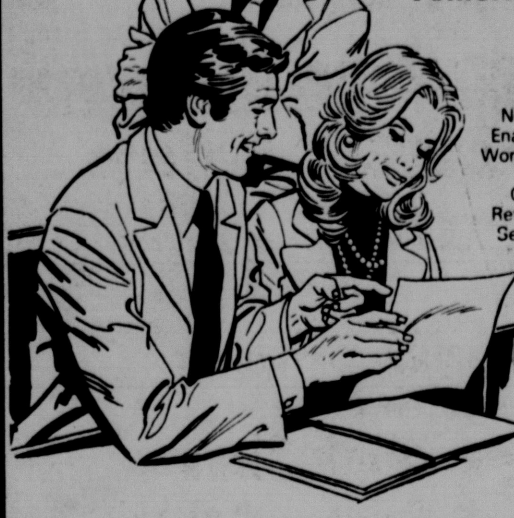

dealt with "Children in Trouble" and was a discussion of neglected and troubled children presented by Belinda Pillow, executive director of Opportunity House, Inc. Mrs. Pillow was instrumental in organizing the shelter for abused and neglected children.

The club's new yearbooks were presented by Elaine Peebles, yearbook chairman, and a business meeting was conducted by the president, Judy Becknell.

Early plans were outlined for the club's annual Halloween Carnival during the business meeting. Serving as chairmen for the project this year are Ella Brown and Andrea Metcalf. Local clubs and organizations are invited to participate in the annual carnival which has been set for October 28, and may contact either chairman to arrange for booth space.

TEXAS has to include Indian culture. Canyon Junior High students Tim Keefer, Scott Frank, Keith Klein, Jimmy Fulcher, Troy Adams, Dean Holbrook are studying Indians in Texas History.

Heavy history dose on tap for junior high

The Bicentennial Birthday may be over for many people but not for the Canyon Junior High. In fact, the emphasis placed on American Heritage this past year served only as an enrichment to the program that is constantly being carried on at CJHS.

Both teachers and students feel that "history keeps on happening," and it is always good to look backward to determine where humanity has been in order to be able to evaluate where we want to go. A society that knows nothing of its past can be likened to a whole world being stricken with amnesia. This awareness of and respect for the past is a program that will continue even though 1976 is almost over.

Projects by both teachers and students have been numerous.

All eighth grades have a "Heritage Unit." Students, in addition to reading stories about their heritage, choose a topic for an individual in-depth study, such as colonial foods, crafts, schools, etc. At the end of the study, each student reports briefly of his findings and presents some kind of project such as a quilt block he has made or food he has cooked.

The collection of colonial recipes has been one of the more popular studies. This started when a box of books came to the library wrapped in a New Jersey paper that featured these recipes, written as they originally were. This led to more research of the old-fashioned "S" type printed letter.

Most students read at least one historical novel. Book orders and magazine subscriptions reflect a renewed interest in the past. Last school term, all students participated in the nation-wide poll of Bicentennial slogans.

Seventh grade history students do special "Texas" studies such as "What's In A Name" in which they research the origin of the names of the Texas towns and counties, regional dialect, folk-lore medicine, and any other project that is of interest to them. They are encouraged to document pictures and objects found in their own homes. They are urged to make tape recordings of people and events. Equipment is furnished if needed.

Last year the history students made a wall-size calendar: 1776-1976, "Road to Achievement." They do not depend solely on textbooks but invite resource people to bring first-hand information to the classrooms. Notes of events on corresponding dates of the past are made on the check-in sheets for teachers to use anyway they wish.

There are always displays in the library of art and crafts done by both teachers and students. Being shown now is metal work done by Mr. Mack White, shop teacher, and also a collection of antique spurs. This display is supported by books and pictures that are a part of the library's collection.

Townpeople are always welcome to stop by the library to view this display and it is hoped that such activities will encourage parents to become frequent visitors of the school.

The Canyon Junior High is continuing to celebrate the nation's birthday long after the Fourth of July fireworks are over, and as each year brings more knowledge, greater interest naturally follows.

THE FIRST AMERICAN CITIZENS... Canyon Junior High Students are studying the Indian culture in this Bicentennial year. Jay Huneycutt, Melisse Carruth, and Joe Bennett look over the display in their Texas history classroom.

4-H Kids place in Fair

By PAUL SAMMONS
Assistant County Agent
Members of the Randall County 4-H Clubs participated actively in the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo this week. There were 17 steers, 1 heifer, 2 barrows, 2 lambs, 1 capon and 1 bake show entry from our county.

Results of the fair showed light British placings for Shawn Hollis, second; Larry Hales, fifth; Donnie Trammell, sixth and Bobby Janssen, fifteenth.

In heavy British events Mitch Carthel took eleventh. Light Exotus placings were fifteenth for Michael Tuck and eighteenth for Mitch Carthel.

In the barrows classification for heavy straight breeds Tammy Tuck took a fourth and Theresa Tuck earned tenth. Mary Jo Turpin placed a light-weight capon seventh place and was the Randall County 4-H entry in the bake show.

Larry Hales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hales, showed the Grand Champion Junior Angus Heifer Wednesday morning. The heifer was fourth in her class at the Breeders Show on Thursday.

I want to extend my congratulations to those showing livestock at the fair and thank their parents for their efforts also. I felt we had an excellent fair and am proud of our 4-H youth accomplishments.

Randall County 4-H Awards banquet will be held October 7 at 6:30 p.m. in the Canyon Community Center, Bedford Forrest, farm and ranch director for KVIL-TV in Amarillo will be the guest speaker.

4-H Club members will be responsible for making two posters to announce National 4-Week October 3-9. In addition, making the poster each 4-H student will be responsible for placing their poster in local business windows.

See ya later Pat

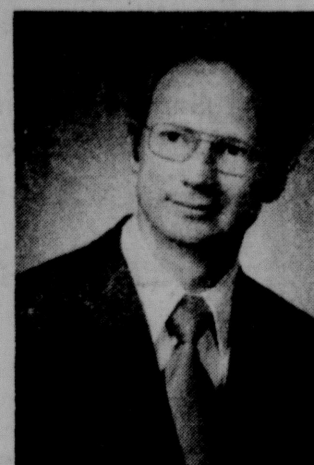

City actor for 'Dolly'

When HELLO, DOLLY! opens at Amarillo Little Theatre on Oct. 8, a talented Canyon resident will be taking one of the lead roles.

Jim Caldwell, who has lived in Canyon for the past three years, will be playing Cornelius Hackl, the downtrodden chief clerk of Horace Vandergelder, who decides to have an adventure in this fast paced musical based on Thornton Wilder's THE MATCHMAKER.

Jim, a sign painter with Panhandle Outdoor Advertising in Amarillo first acted at ALT in ANNIE GET YOUR GUN in 1970, and has performed in several plays since. He has worked with four of ALT's guest artists and also appeared as Sir Andrew Aguecheek in WTSU's production of TWELFTH NIGHT in 1974. He played the role of George M. Cohan in ALT's musical GEORGE M last year.

Jim and his wife, Nicki, Master's degree candidate at WTSU, majoring in music, are members of Canyon's Presbyterian Church.

Orchestra in concert Sunday

The University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sara Montgomery, assistant professor of music, will be presented in a concert at the Memorial Gardens Park in Amarillo Sept. 26.

The outdoor program will be at 3 p.m. and will also feature Robert Krause, instructor in music, and Virginia Day, Midland sophomore.

Among selections to be performed will be the "Scherzo" movement from Miss Montgomery's composition, "Suite for Orchestra."

Krause, playing oboe, will be soloist in the performance of Barlow's "Winter's Passes;" an Miss Day, on flute, will be featured in the playing of "Night Soliloquy" by Kenan.

Other numbers will include "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" by Von Suppe; "Polka from 'The Bartered Bride'" by Smetana; and "Lamento" by Gabriel Marie, which features the orchestra's cello section.

More clubs, less cash tighten belts

The law of supply and demand is causing some belt tightening by some university organizations.

The supply of available money was reduced slightly this year and the demand by organizations asking for funding increased enormously, explained Dr. T. Paige Carruth.

For the second half of last year, when the organization funding program began, some 26 campus organizations split about $11,500, Carruth said.

This year, the 110 organizations requesting funding split $11,000.

The Panhandle Orienteers, formed last fall, shared $1000 last spring with the rifle team and drill team.

This year, with plans to attend twice as many orienteering meets, the club received, along with the drill team and rifle team, $750 from the organization fund. They had asked for $3,100.

The orienteers are sponsored by the military science department, although students can receive physical education credit also for the course.

Carruth explained that the ROTC sponsorship probably played a large part in the fund reduction.

"Some of the committee, especially the students, feel like ROTC is funded by the federal government that has oodles and oodles of money and there the poor music club has none," he said.

In addition to the campus organization funds, the orienteers receive a limited amount of money from military science operating funds and from the club members.

This year the members will be paying more of the costs. They have agreed to pay for their food and transportation to meets and, to cut out motel bills, camp out at most meets.

Carruth said the outlook for increased university money is not good. The $11,000 was allotted for a 12-month period. This past summer, which was part of the period from last year's allotment, not a single organization asked for funding during the summer, Carruth said.

But now, several organizations have already requested funding for next summer. Carruth said he expects about 40 additional groups to request funding this year.

WTSU parade needs entries

Entries for the WTSU Homecoming parade Oct. 30 have reached a standstill, parade chairman LTC Charles Laakso said Thursday.

So far there are only about 20 entries, he said. Last year, the Homecoming parade was revived after being discontinued for several years. More than 60 entries paraded downtown last year.

"Very few of the local entries have responded one way or the other," Laakso said. "Most of our entries so far are from out of town."

Laakso said entry information could be telephoned to him at the WTSU military science department.

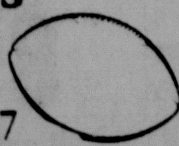

Homecoming plans this year include a campus carnival Oct. 29, a bonfire the night before, a barbecue after the parade and the game with McNeese State on Oct. 30.

Weight Watchers to begin class sessions

Becki Miller of Canyon will join Adela McGuinty, director of Weight Watchers of West Texas, Inc., at an open meeting to form a new class in Canyon Thursday evening, Sept. 30.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the ballroom of McCaslin Hall, women's dormitory on the university campus which is located on 4th Avenue. Anyone interested in attending the open meeting is not obligated to join, however, new memberships will be accepted at the meeting.

A resident of Canyon for fourteen years, Becki Miller is a 1967 graduate of Canyon High School and married to Charlie A. Miller, Jr. The couple has two daughters, Dawn Tiffani and Karl Chantel. Mrs. Miller is the daughter of Floyd and Ruth Lassister of Amarillo, formerly of Canyon.

As a member of Weight Watchers, Becki has been successful in the loss of 80 pounds and is anxious to share her knowledge of the Eating Management Techniques offered through the Weight Watchers Organization.

"Any man, woman or youth having a weight problem can benefit from the food program and Eating Management Techniques encouraged through Weight Watchers," relates Mrs. Miller.

Adela McGuinty, West Texas director for Weight Watchers of West Texas, who herself lost in excess of 60 pounds on the WW program, will be the guest lecturer Thursday evening. Judy Greiner and Francie Pittman, both of Canyon, and successful Weight Watcher members themselves, will join in the opening of the new class at Canyon.

Overtons have girl

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Overton of 1515 7th Avenue, Canyon, announce the Sept. 17 birth of a daughter, Amanda Gail, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 6 pounds, 9 ounces and measured

Grandparents are Mrs. Ruby Bingham of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Billie Jack Overton of Beaver, Okla.

Square dancers hold weekly meet

Canyon Capers Square Dance Club members danced to the calling of Randy Costley at their most recent meeting when guests were Don and Sylvia Pearcy of the Saints and Spinners Club of Amarillo.

Door prize that evening was won by Lewis Tuck.

The square dance club meets each Monday night at 8:30 p.m. in the Bull Barn with guests and visitors welcome to participate.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Canyon's churchlife

A churchwide study on "The Prophets" will begin this evening at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Elizabeth Davidson, Bill Kent and John Wagoner as leaders. The study will be 7-8:15 p.m. and will continue through Oct. 3 and Oct. 10.

Calvary Baptist Church is conducting Cottage Prayer Meetings this week in preparation for Lay Renewal Weekend, Oct. 1, 2, and 3. Following registration the weekend's activities will kick off with a covered dish supper for the congregation at 6:30 Oct. 1 in the fellowship hall of the church.

All Day Retreat for Senior High youths of the Christian, Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches of Canyon is planned today at Ceta Glen Christian Camp. Each participant will be providing their own sack lunch. The retreat is set from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"The Power of the Absurd" is the title of the sermon for morning worship at 10 a.m. today for the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon. A congregational meeting for election of officers is set for 11 a.m. and an orientation of newly-elected church officers is set for 7 p.m. this evening.

Randy Daw is the new campus minister for the Church of Christ Bible Chair at West Texas State University.

An Italian Evening and potluck dinner for the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

University Church of Christ will be holding a men's breakfast Thursday morning, Sept. 30, beginning at 7 a.m. The coffee will be ready at 6:30 that morning and those planning to attend are asked to sign up in the foyer.

"The Church In The World" will be shown for the evening program of the United Campus Ministry today. The film will follow the 50 cent student fellowship dinner at the Episcopal Center and is open to all university students.

An all-family church retreat is planned by First Presbyterian Church of Canyon to be held Oct. 9 at Ceta Glen. The retreat will feature films, study sessions, recreation, food and worship and is slated from 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. that day.

October is "reach-out" month for the First Baptist Church of Canyon as they seek to reach all individuals not presently enrolled in church activities and Sunday School somewhere in the community. The month will end with a "Great Day In The Morning" on October 31.

The pastor at the Canyon Church of the Nazarene will bring a message to the people entitled "A New Creation" in the morning worship hour today. The evening service will be presented by the teens of the church in a drama with candidates God vs. Satan presented by truths portrayed in the Bible.

James Dunn of the Christian Life Commission will be the speaker for the Annual Leadership Banquet to be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 29, by the First Baptist Church of Canyon. The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Family Center and is for all youth and adults of the church. Reservations should be made by noon Tuesday.

Sermon topics for First Baptist Church today will be "A Joyous Celebration" for the morning service and "God Can Make Us Over Again" for the evening worship.

A "last dinner" for eighth grade students of First Baptist Church in Canyon will be held at 12 noon today, Sept. 26, in the Family Center.

Evangelist Betty Baxter will be speaking during worship services today at the First Assembly of God Church in Canyon. Over a million people have heard the Baxter story during her evangelistic work.

This will be the seventh time the evangelist has spoken for the local church. City and area residents are invited for the special services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. today.

J. D. Byrd, of Canyon attended a continuing education seminar on "The Pharmacist and Antibiotic Therapy".

The seminar, held in Amarillo, was sponsored by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. Pharmacists received current information about recent developments in antibiotic therapy.

Other lecture topics included proper physician and patient counseling about the safe and effective use of antibiotic drugs.

Byrd earned five hours of continuing education credit for participating in the seminar.

Funeral held Friday for Annie Robertson

Funeral services for Annie Mae Robertson, 79, were read Friday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Canyon with Rev. Jim Hancock officiating.

Interment was at Dreamland Cemetery and local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon. Pallbearers were grandsons: Roger Owen Robertson, Rex Lee Smith, Jimmy Cox, Mike Robertson, Keith Brock, Ronald Brock, Curtis Robertson and Jerry Robertson.

Mrs. Robertson was born in Woodland, Mississippi on April 1, 1897. She was married to Hernan Dean Robertson February 8, 1914 at Woodland and the couple came to Canyon in 1916. He died in 1934.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Robertson resided at 4412 South Hayden in Amarillo. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Canyon. Death occurred at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday morning.

Survivors include five sons: Clyde Robertson of Lompoc, Calif.; C. H. (Curly) Robertson, Owen Robertson, Doice Robertson and Virgil Robertson, all of Amarillo; three daughters, Mrs. Vannie Long of Amarillo, Mrs. Dee Brock of Canyon and Mrs. Julia Holland of Simi Valley, Calif.; twenty-six grandchildren.

Art Friends set 'Preview'76'

The West Texas State University School of Fine Arts will show off its best in "Preview 1976," a special events presentation for Friends of the Fine Arts members Sept. 26.

Opening the activities will be a 4 p.m. tour of the Mary Moody Northern Hall, the new fine arts center scheduled to open in a year.

The annual Friends of the Fine Arts business meeting will be from 5 to 5:30 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre. New FFA officers and fine arts faculty will be introduced, and the annual reports and calendar of events will be presented.

The entertainment begins at 5:30 p.m. in the BIT with a performance by Assistant Professor of Music Stanley Potter on the piano. Following Potter will be graduate assistant Kathy McNeill, who will sing several selections accompanied by Bill Evans on the piano.

The WTSU Readers' Theatre will then present "The World of Lewis Carroll," and the WTSU Brass Quintet will perform.

Also available will be an exhibit of faculty and student art work in the lounge area of the fine arts building, and a reception following the quintet.

The final performance of the evening will be at 8 p.m. by Judith Ballo, former WTSU student who was a 1974 winner of the Sterling Staff International Competition.

The soprano has studied in Italy, and has been an apprentice in the Chautauqua Opera Association for the summers of 1975 and 1976. Miss Ballo has appeared extensively as a recitalist in Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Dakota, Montana, Germany and Italy.

Honor society picks Weaver

Sharon M. Weaver, a West Texas State University graduate student from Canyon, has been initiated into Psi Chi, national honor society in psychology.

Psi Chi was organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of the American Psychological Association. The organization recognizes scholarship in the field of psychology. The WTSU Chapter was established formally in October, 1971.

Mrs. Weaver, an assistant professor in the WTSU School of Nursing, graduated from the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo. She is now a graduate student in education.

Regents to close meeting

Specific personnel matters will be taken up Monday in a closed session of the West Texas State University board of regents.

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, WTSU president, said Wednesday that he would not disclose any further information about the matters to be discussed in executive session.

"It is an executive session to discuss any personnel matters," he said.

Asked if there were specific personnel matters to be handled, he said, "Obviously I can't say anything more, but we certainly do."

Two weeks ago, former regent Boone Pickens said on a television interview that Watkins was allowing conflict within the university athletic program and that the regents should replace Watkins.

Pickens praised football coach Gene Mayfield and criticized basketball coach Ron Ekker.

In addition to the executive session, the regents will consider a 48-item agenda when they meet Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the Activities Center.

The possibility of affiliating WTSU with some larger state university will be considered by the board.

Another big item on the agenda will be the 1977-78 biennial budget proposal.

Also for consideration is a new combined degree in liberal arts and optometry for the existing Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degree.

The degree requirements would be similar to the university's requirements for the combined degree majors in liberal arts and dentistry, law or medicine.

The regents will study for acceptance of two HEW grants for $60,000 to continue the Upward Bound program and $86,000 to establish a new special services program to help tutor students from limited income and background families. The program is designed to improve the retention and graduation rates of such students.

A report from the university Title IX committee looking into areas for possible sexual discrimination will be presented and guidelines for new student and administration/staff grievance committees will be set.

The architectural plans for the president's dwelling will be shown and staff changes at the museum are set for discussion.

The bulk of the agenda items will be routine business and financial matters.

Trio charged with rape

Two Canyon men were charged Tuesday with the rape of a West Texas State University student. A third man gave himself up

Wednesday morning to the sheriff and was released on $2,000 bond. According to police, the 25-year-old man is a Lubbock resident.

The 20-year-old woman told police on Sept. 12 that she was raped four times in the early morning hours by the men who took her to an apartment on the east side of town.

Police chief Al Stewart said his department did not disclose the incident last week because they were then trying to determine if a rape did occur.

"We had to confirm and had to have enough evidence that a rape had in fact happened," he said

Thursday.

The victim agreed to and passed a polygraph test the chief said.

The woman told police that the men showed her a pistol and she was afraid they would kill her if she didn't submit.

She fell against a cinder block bookshelf trying to escape and scraped her back, police said.

The woman called WT security police when she returned to her dorm room after the attacks. Campus police took her to the hospital and notified city police.

The two Canyon men arrested Thursday were arraigned for rape and bond was set at $2,000.

County tax roll gets court nod

Randall County commissioners Monday accepted a tax roll designed to produce $1,611,343.85 if figures presented by Tax Assessor-Collector Audrey Bruse are correct.

Mrs. Bruse told the court that the tax revenue would come to 43,000 more than she had at first projected but County Administrative Assistant Carroll Wilson and County Auditor Bill Tiley say it will be more like $70,000.

According to Mrs. Bruse, state taxes will come to $156,449.88; the water district $9,412.54 and the hospital district to $164,462.82 for a total revenue of $1,971,045.60.

She said total tax roll comes to a valuation of $160,762,740 less $4,884,790 in tax exemptions which she says have been claimed by only about 1,500 taxpayers. This number could swell considerably as tax paying time approaches and cut well into the projected revenue.

Commissioners agreed to an overall increase in county salaries of 6 percent with department heads being allowed to grant the amount allotted as they see fit.

Salary setting hit a snag last week when three departments requested more than 6 percent.

Don Goforth with civil defense in Amarillo discussed Randall County participation in purchase of new radio units for his group. He told the court that civil defense is also equipped to deal with disasters and emergencies.

The court took no action telling Goforth that surplus funds were not sufficient to permit participation but left the matter open for further discussion.

"I'd like for it to be considered for next year's budget," declared Commissioner John Fulgenzi.

Commissioners approved resolutions prepared by Wilson to be sent to the state legislature requesting permission for counties to levy a 1 percent sales tax.

Wilson told the court that such a tax levied in unincorporated sections of the county would produce $60,000 a year and over the entire county would produce $600,000 annually.

Commissioner Griffin gave a report on a meeting of the Amarillo Board of City Development which he attended. The board has agreed to send a representative to report to the court on such matters as new industry.

County once bought scalps

A jackrabbit scalp used to bring a nickel from the county sixty years ago and a wolf scalp was worth $2.

The records of the bounties paid in the fall and winter of 1915 and 1916 were dusted off in the general house cleaning of the county house last week. The bounty records are stored with other old county records in the attic of the old portion of the courthouse.

Randall County Clerk T. V. Reeves signed receipts on Sept. 13, 1915 for 1,274 jackrabbits. Most hunters apparently brought their kills in as a group. J. J. Saunders that day was paid for 168 rabbit scalps and L. E. Simms collected for 265.

But a few receipts are for as few as one or two rabbits.

Apparently no one found any wildcats then, because no payments for the hunted cats were recorded.

But wolves, although apparently not common, could still be found.

Four wolves were collected on by R. O. Allison on Jan. 10, 1916 and L. N. Terrell was paid for six wolves.

The bounty was paid by the county clerk of court then, but the present county clerk, Leroy Hutson, said he does not know when the county quit paying bounties.

Money maybe for Buff Lake

If the bill Bicentennial land heritage survives a trip through Congress, the Buffalo Lake park is slated to receive $1,882,000.

Paul Ferguson, park director, said if the money is awarded, it will more than likely be spent trying to get more water into the lake.

A test well drilled in the lower end of the lake has been fitted with a small pump and a windmill will be put on the well soon to provide water for the winter grazing, Ferguson said.

"If the bill should happen to pass, it will mean quite a lot to us," he said. "It's no guaranteed program, but it is getting some good pushes in Congress."

Plug in my car

Hill banks on electric cars

Hitching posts are a thing of the past... or are they? Bill Hill, who is experimenting with electrical vehicles, says that the coming thing is electrical outlets to hitch your automobile to while you shop.

Hill has been working for ten years on developing electrical vehicles. He said that there is nothing new to the concept since one of the first developments in "horseless buggies" was the electrically powered automobile.

Just after the turn of the century, electrical vehicles were being developed but a drawback was recharging the battery after short use. According to Hill, the same problem exists today but work is being done to develop a smaller battery with from two to four times the capacity of present batteries.

A break through on batteries, which should be within five years, will put electricity on top, said Hill. Exxon and American Motors are working with improving batteries.

"If anybody can lick a problem, it's the people of the United States. We always have," said Hill. He believes that with direct current electricity, gas could be reserved for other

Fund drive for monitor

Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary is presently raising funds in an effort to purchase heart monitor equipment for Palo Duro Hospital.

At present the Auxiliary has $2,000 on hand to purchase the equipment for the hospital. About $25,000 is needed. Accounts are open at both city banks to receive donations.

In addition to other efforts, the hospital auxiliary is raising funds through the sale of tickets for a western painting which will be given away during December. The painting is by local artist, Carl Smith, and was donated for the effort.

functions than transportation.

Hill helped design an electrical mail jeep for the Amarillo Post Office. The jeep, totally powered by batteries, was used for testing for six months in Amarillo. Operation costs averaged 13 cents per day at an average of 17 miles travel per day.

The postal vehicle was equipped with an electrical motor and an automatic transmission. American Motors are now in the process of developing jeeps driven by batteries for the Post Office for testing purposes, according to Hill.

Hill said that in the near future, recharge stations will be set up much like filling stations. Persons will stop in to recharge their automobiles instead of filling their tanks.

Sports vehicles with electrical power will also be used, he said. Battery powered boat motors, bicycles, and golf carts are among the "inventions" Hill has all ready developed.

Agricultural and industrial equipment are also being experimented with by Hill. An electrical auger which will load and unload seed into a drill without spills or waste of time is one of his patented products.

The auger, which would be run off of d.c. battery, would cut down on the time it takes to hand

Indictments for three in stock sale

Three Amarillo men were indicted on stock fraud charges Monday stemming from what law enforcement officers say may involve deals totaling more than $250,000 across the Panhandle.

William H. Garrett, 34 years old, was indicted in two cases and Larry D. and Ora Delbert Morgan were indicted in one case each.

Each indictment involves three counts.

Count one in each case charges sale of unregistered securities.

Count two charges sale of securities without a license and count three charges sale of securities through fraud.

Garrett is free after making $5,000 bond in each case following arraignment before Judge George Dowlen. The Morgan brothers had not been arraigned at press time.

One case alleges that Garrett

Thompson loses land vote

It was school board 1 — school superintendent 0 after the board approved against superintendent Dr. Sam Thompson's recommendation Tuesday night a petition to detach a section of land from the school district.

The section approved for detachment borders Estacada Estates on the north-west border of the school district. It is known as the Barfield addition.

Using Estacada as a base for projecting the development of Barfield, Thompson argued against detachment.

The 364 acres can be expected to develop into 20 acres of parks and schools, eight acres for shopping centers, six acres for apartments and 329 acres for residential, he said. This would contain about 1,219 lots.

The tax revenue from such development would be about $329,997, Thompson estimated. This is a per student total of $236.70. Again using Estacada as a base, Thompson predicted that, fully developed, Barfield would produce 1,394 students.

The operating cost of education per student is $1,025, with $636 paid by the state and $389 in local money, he said.

Additional funds to make up the deficit between what it costs to educate a student and what the tax revenue is likely to be would come from increased state aid for teachers, daily attendance and such, Thompson said.

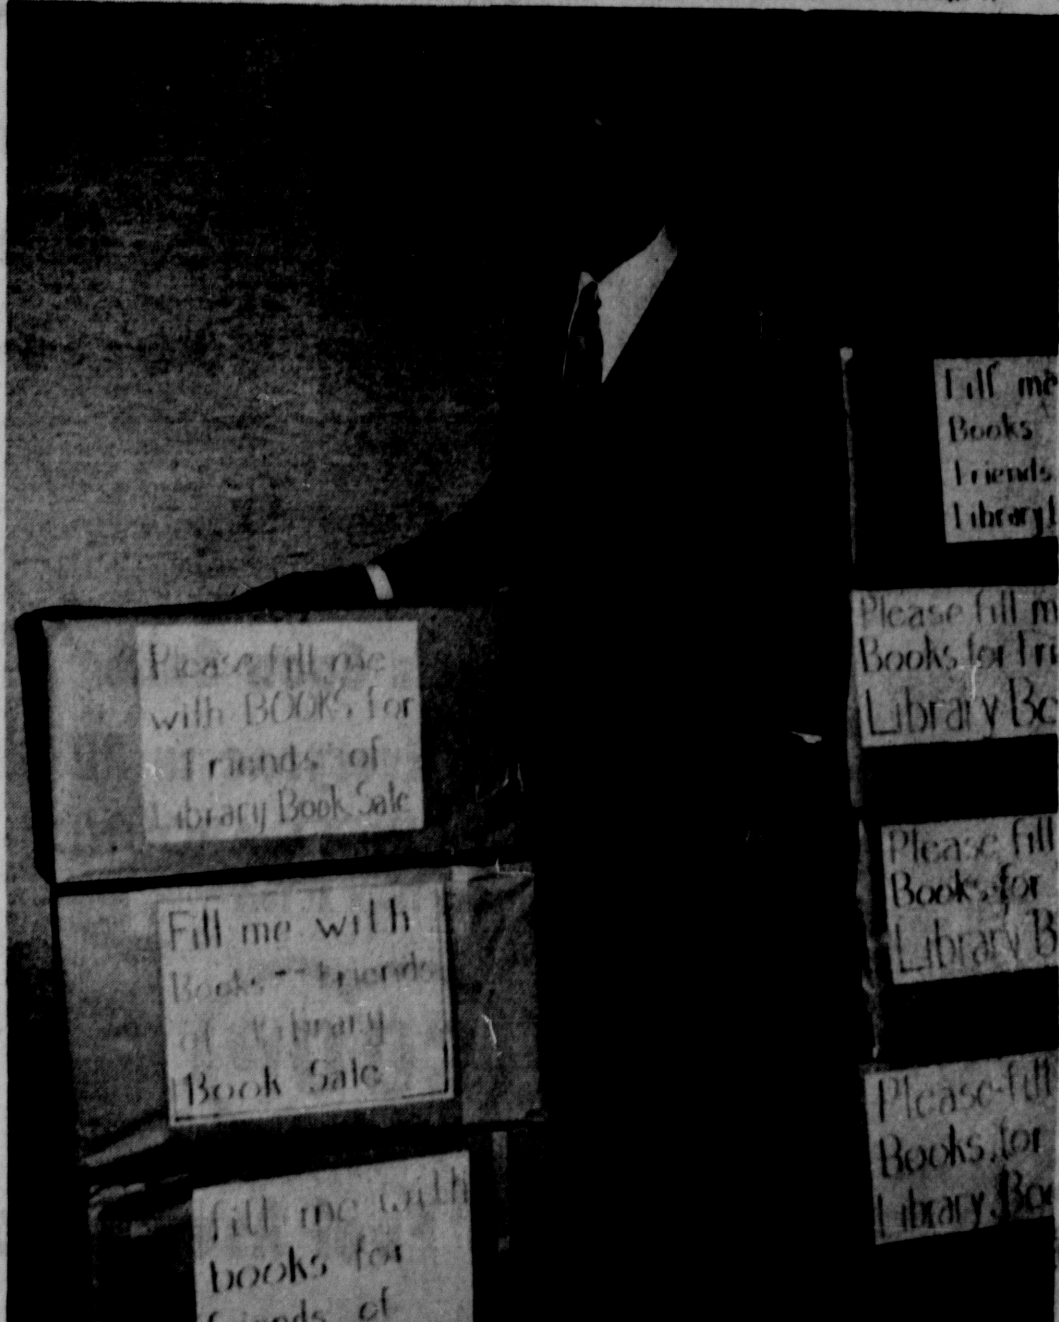

Additionally, he said, the school district is growing quickly in all areas, not just the north-west.

"We can absorb those students right along with the other

Drop-outs need understanding

By ALAN R. STEWART
Chief of Police

In the last column we touched on what might be done to prevent a youngster from dropping out of school. This week's discussion will be on measures to be taken after it has happened. This office has a special interest in the subject because a high percentage of teens who get into serious trouble with the law are dropouts.

For the parent who has himself gone on through college, the thought of high school dropout is incomprehensible. Even to the parent who was a dropout in his own time it is hard to understand, because he, more than anyone, knows what a long-range mistake is being made.

What goes through the teen's mind when he becomes a dropout? Is he concerned with what it will mean to him later, how much it will cost him in unearned income, the effects it will have on his future family? Obviously he thinks only of himself, and what else could be expected of him. At this stage in emotional development, he is taking a seemingly final, easy way out of what appears to him as a lot of senseless hard work.

Quick, immediate counter-measures are needed. Some found to be helpful are: (1) Arrange with a young college student — one who is having to work to help put himself through school — to talk to your dropout about why he is putting forth all the effort it obviously takes. This is an easy task in Canyon. (2) Determine what your youngster likes to do best, and try to tie it in with a career later. Example: he likes building model airplanes, and this might lead to becoming an aeronautical engineer, but certainly not with less than a college education. Show him how, without proper formal education, he cannot do the things he most enjoys and will have to forego them in favor of work he won't like to do, just to make enough income to survive. Point out the alternative occupations, using those you know would be most repulsive to him. (3) If he is involved with a girl he cares for, discuss the possibilities of later marriage, how due to his lack of education, she will always have to work to help support their family. And, that she will most likely have more education than he and probably as a result, earn more money than her husband all their lives. Make him cringe at the thought, work on his ego. (4) If there is a family church bond, arrange for him to have a talk with your minister. Even a minister unfamiliar with the family or this situation would be more than willing to help in counsel. (5) Prearrange a talk with an employment counselor, preferably one connected with a private employment agency. Pay for the time taken, if necessary, for having the differences in job availabilities explained by a professional will carry considerable weight with your teen.

Usually the dropout needs a drastic awakening to the path he has chosen, and it is unlikely the parent, at this stage, can get him out of his rut without outside help. Don't be embarrassed to ask, as any adult knows the severity of your plight, once apprised, and most are anxious to help a youngster.

Change things — drastically — away from the former routines, developing an atmosphere of serious intent in the home. Keep up a constant barrage of words of encouragement about returning to school, showing you fully expect him to do it. Be kind, gently and firm!

If the dropout has a part time job, do not allow it to be turned into full time employment. If he drives the family car, reduce the occasions of this privilege; walking gives more time to think. If he has his own car, which you bought for him, insist that it be stored in the garage unused until the school return matter is settled.

Parents attempting to get a teen back in school will live in an unpleasant home atmosphere, with temper flare-ups, arguments and often outright rebellion. Hold your ground and take comfort in knowing that once you've accomplished your goal, the teen will soon see that your insistence was justified.

This department believes in the benefits only: a good education can provide, and we'll help in any way possible to get a teen back in school. Education to most people is the basic foundation for satisfying lifestyle and what else could contribute more to achieving personal goals?

Open job market in technical fields

Students in southwestern colleges and universities, like those in the rest of the nation, will find the job market more readily open to those with technical, math or science training.

Gene Parker, director of placement at WTSU, recently compiled a survey of 51 southwestern colleges and universities on the ease or difficulty in placing graduates.

Placement directors named the top ten most-wanted majors as engineering or industrial

Ranching history exhibited

A look into the diverse history of Texas Panhandle ranching will be the subject of a new exhibit planned for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

"The new exhibit will trace the development of ranching into the modern agribusiness of today," said Mrs. Carol Cline, museum exhibit designer.

Plans for the display are being developed and construction should begin in October, according to Mrs. Cline. If plans are completed, the exhibit will officially open yearly in March.

"The display will correspond with our Hall of Indians in the center room of the museum," Mrs. Cline said. "The development of ranching as a main occupation in the Southern Plains and the Panhandle is of historical interest."

"We will also focus on the Spanish influence in ranching and that famous workhand, the vaquero, commonly known as a cowboy," Mrs. Cline explained.

Spanish Colonial artifacts will include leather suits and the esquila grande, or large spur, used by the vaqueros.

A display on ranch work will be featured with a branding iron exhibit, fencing tools, wrangler equipment and a bronco buster's belt used to protect the rider.

"The exhibit will show personal belongings of notable area ranchers, for example, Col. Goodnight," Mrs. Cline said.

A large portion of the museum's gun collection will be included in the various display cases. Photographs of cowboys and ranchers will be included in the ranching exhibits.

"A major item of interest for visitors is a plaster cast statue of Fred Scott, an area workhand," Mrs. Cline said. "The figure, very lifelike, was made by a dentist."

A display on the importance of cattle to the area will feature an authentic chuckwagon. The end of the display will include the changes that led up to modern ranching techniques and the growth of feed-lots.

"Ranching is a way of life to the Panhandle and the exhibit will be informative and educational by offering specific information on the area's development," Mrs. Cline said.

Orchestra in concert on Sunday

The University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sara Montgomery, assistant professor of music, will be presented in a concert at the Memorial Gardens Park in Amarillo Sept. 26.

The outdoor program will be at 3 p.m. and will also feature Robert Krause, instructor in music, and Virginia Day, Midland soprano.

Among selections to be performed will be the "Scherzo" movement from Miss Montgomery's composition, "Suite for Orchestra."

Krause, playing oboe, will be soloist in the performance of Barlow's "Winter's Passes," and Miss Day, on flute, will be featured in the playing of "Night Soliloquy" by Kenan.

Other numbers will include "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" by Von Suppe; "Polka" from "The Bartered Bride" by Smetana; and "Lamento" by Gabriel Marie, which features the orchestra's cello section.

Regional meet for handicapped slated Saturday

A regional conference will be held Saturday in Lubbock for discussing "what handicapped persons need to become first class citizens of their communities."

The conference will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday in the Student Union Building on the Texas Tech University campus.

All local persons who are handicapped are encouraged to attend the regional meeting which will precede a statewide conference to be held in San Antonio during December. Five persons attending the conference will be selected as delegates to the statewide conference. A national conference is slated at the White House in May 1977.

Calvin Burtis and Johnny Henry, and their families, all of Canyon, are expected to attend the conference and encourage other handicapped individuals of the community to make plans for attending.

Wreck victims in satisfactory condition now

Two persons injured in a traffic accident Monday night were reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday in Amarillo hospitals.

Billy Bender, 15, of Canyon was recovering in St. Anthony's Hospital and Charlotte Williams was reported to be in satisfactory condition at Northwest Texas Hospital.

They were both injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Fourth Avenue and 23rd Street about 8:30 p.m. Monday.

According to police, a vehicle driven by Stacy Ray Ruland of Hartley ran a stop light on Fourth and hit a car driven by Denise Kay Berner, a WTSU student from Slatton. The impact spun the Berner vehicle around, striking Bender who was a pedestrian.

The injured woman was a passenger in the Ruland car. Police reports list her name as Charlotte Jean Doyle, but she is listed at the hospital as Charlotte Williams.

Ruland was charged with running a stop light.

SPRY luncheon meeting today

The SPRY Club for residents sixty-plus-years will be having a luncheon meeting today, Sept. 23, beginning at 12 noon in fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

The devotional will be presented by Rex Mauldin, pastor of San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo. All local residents sixty-plus-years are invited for the luncheon and the non-denominational fellowship period afterward.

Crafts booths are available

Heritage Woman's Club has begun arrangements for sponsoring their second annual arts and crafts pre-holiday sales effort.

This year's "Arts Americana" will be held November 13-14 at the Activities Center ballroom on the campus of West Texas State University.

Artists with craft items, handwork, and any type of saleable produce for a holiday gift bazaar is invited to reserve booth space for the event.

Booths will be sold in the size 8' x 8' for $15 or 8' x 16' for $25. Tables will be provided for the booths by the sponsoring club.

To reserve a booth contact either Marion Marrs at 355-3748 or Joanna Flack at 655-3438.

Airman Buckles graduates

Airman Paul A. Buckles, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Merrill W. Buckles, Canyon, has graduated at Lackland AFB, from Air Force basic training.

The airman, who studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations, is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field.

Airman Buckles is a 1975 graduate of Canyon High School.

Join our circle of friends.

Why do we emphasize "circle of friends" while other banks emphasize their "full circle of service"? Because we're the bank that pays special attention to customers: all of them, in a great big way, no matter what service or services they use. The bank that thinks of customers as a circle of friends. And the nicest thing about our circle is that it's always open. There's always room for one more. How about you?

Everybody's Bank in a great big way

Grant adds visual aids

Audio-visual materials funded through an $18,300 grant have been added to the West Texas State University Department of Sociology and Social Work lab.

The lab contains films, filmstrips, cassettes, tapes, transparencies, an audio-visual recorder and mobile television monitor.

Dr. Hubert Oppe, professor and head of the Sociology Department, received the grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Texas State Department of Public Welfare.

Ed Rivas, assistant professor of social work, helped select the 30 films, including an Academy Award winner, "World Hunger," transparencies that correspond with the social work textbook and blank cassettes for taping programs not available.

"All the materials are first class and are really hard to come by," Rivas said.

With the recorder and tapes, the department is able to videotape presentations on field agencies for students who plan to do field placement work, he explained.

When preparing for field placement work, the student may review the tape and narrow down agency choices before an interview with the prospective employer.

Members of the department have catalogued all materials in the lab for use and plan to later order additional materials for the spring semester.

The Sociology-Social Work Department is working in cooperation with the School of Nursing. Students may listen to and view the audio-visual materials at the carrels in the Nursing Center Resources Lab, Rivas said.

Classroom support is a goal of the lab system, Rivas said. He explained that teachers can arrange the material for use in the classroom during the entire semester. Instructors also have access to the University media center.

"Audio-visuals were never designed to replace the teacher," Rivas said.

"Of course, they can be abused but audio-visuals have been proven to be effective teaching aids. Use of them helps to make obscure points clearer," he said.

Audio-visuals make us accountable and the students may compare and contrast the lecture material with a-v material," Rivas explained.

Rivas, who produced two audio-visual presentations in 1974, believes that the use of audio-visual materials involves more work than not using them. Faculty members must fit the course schedule around the availability of material prior to the ordering of the materials.

"The Sociology Department is willing to experiment with the lab. All preliminary indicators show that the faculty will use the materials generously."

"It's a promising symptom of departmental growth designed to help the student learn better," Rivas said of the audio-visual lab.

Funeral held for Mrs. Pyle

Funeral services for Janelle Walker Pyle, 34, were conducted Monday morning at the First United Methodist Church of Canyon with Rev. Bill Kent officiating.

Mrs. Pyle died Sept. 16. She was born Jan. 1, 1942 at Channing, Texas and had lived in Canyon previous to moving to Amarillo recently where she resided at 3308 Westhaven Drive. She was employed with Iowa Beef Processors.

Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was conducted at Dreamland Cemetery. The family requests memorial gifts to the Kilgore Children's Foundation.

Survivors include two sons; John H. Pyle, Jr. and James M. Pyle, and a daughter, Julie Ann Pyle, all of Mountainview, Calif.; her mother, Charline Wiseman Walker of Farmington, New Mexico; her father, Otto W. Walker of Amarillo; two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Stroup of Farmington, New Mexico and Mrs. Sam (Adolyn) Buchanan of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Kraut is aging

By REBA RAEF

THERE'S NOT TOO much going on in Umbarger this week.

WE CHECKED WITH Mrs. R. D. Friemel and she told us that last week, the kraut makers cut 1958 pounds of cabbage and that this made 335 gallons of kraut. That is a lot of kraut, but it takes a lot of kraut to feed the crowd that we feed each year at our sausage festival.

The chairmen of the kraut making this year are the R. D. Friemels and the Carl Frische's.

WE HAVE ANOTHER set of new great-grandparents in Umbarger. Henry and Amalia Bracht have a little great-grandson. He arrived in Arlington, Virginia last Sunday. He belongs to Mickey and Jacqueline Barnett.

Otis and Pauline Farmer of White Rock, New Mexico are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnett of Portales, New Mexico are the paternal grandparents. Our congratulations to the parents and all the grandparents.

MR. AND MRS. M. J. Gerber and sons from Two Buttes, Colorado visited the Ray Gerber's last weekend. The two Gerber women are sisters. They left for home on Monday.

DAVE RILEY is a patient in the Veteran's Hospital in Ft. Lyons, Colorado. We hope Dave will be able to come home soon.

DWIGHT AND MARY Brandt are living in Umbarger at present. Dwight is employed with the City of Amarillo. He is an engineer with the utilities department. Mary is employed with Vaughn Real Estate in Amarillo.

They are living in Mrs. Emma Brandt's home, while their new home is being built in Amarillo.

BILL AND FRANCES Gerber went to Dalhart last Sunday to visit with Tom and Joyce Gerber and family and Jim and Carolyn Wieck and children. They returned home on Monday.

CALL ME AT 499-2164 if you have news for me.

In assembly line fashion, Umbarger residents grate cabbage by hand for the Annual Umbarger Sausage Festival. The group is preparing over a ton of kraut for an anticipated crowd of over 3,000 persons.

Homecoming assembly starts events

The 14th annual homecoming for Happy Public Schools will be held Friday with registration of ex-students starting at 2 p.m.

This year's version of the Happy Cowboys will entertain the homecoming crowd that evening at 8 p.m. when they meet Lazbuddie on the gridiron.

The homecoming assembly program is set to begin at 3 p.m. with several team members from the bi-district football champion team of 1956 expected to attend. A highlight of the program will be the display of a letter jacket earned in 1926 to be displayed by Jack Magnus of Edinburg. Dempsey Alexander of Hereford, coach for the 1956 championship team, is expected to attend the homecoming program.

HHS cheerleaders will be presenting the Cowboy team of '76 as they are introduced by Coach Cleve Vessels on the homecoming program Friday. The Golden Cowboy band will open the program with a special performance by the HHS twirlers.

Honored ex-student classes from 1916-36-46-56-66 and 76 will be introduced along with the Golden Anniversary class from 1926 and the Silver Anniversary class from 1951. Also recognized during the homecoming program will be the ex-student traveling the farthest to attend, the oldest ex-student, the mother who has had the most children attend Happy Schools, third generation families and fourth generation families attending

Happy Public Schools.

A fish supper will be served in the school cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. Al's Restaurant of Happy will cater the supper with three types of fish available in addition to a full plate of trimmings. Tickets for the supper are $2.75 per plate. Happy's "homecoming queen" will be introduced during pregame rites immediately preceding the Happy-Lazbuddie battle of the evening in Cowboy Stadium. The game is to begin at 8 p.m.

Following the football game coffee will be served in the school cafeteria for ex-students as an additional fellowship time.

J.T. Gillham's funeral conducted

Funeral services for J. T. Gillham, 58, were conducted Tuesday at the First Assembly of God Church in Canyon with Rev. A. J. Pettit, officiating.

A longtime resident of Canyon, Mr. Gillham died early Saturday at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. He was born Aug. 18, 1918 at Vigo Park, Texas and moved to Canyon in 1929. He lived at 605 17th Street, Canyon.

He attended Canyon Public Schools and was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a sustaining member of the Boy Scouts of Canyon, and attended the Assembly of God Church.

He formerly owned Randall Motor Company in Canyon until he sold his interest in the business in 1971. He was employed as a parts salesman with

B & T Auto Supply in Canyon. Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and interment was held at Dreamland Cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were Merle Pitt, A. E. Thompson, T. H. Woolsey, Horace D. Carter, George Caldwell and Omer Mainville. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jeanne Sims and Mrs. Rhonda Smith, both of Amarillo; a stepson, Dave Crabtree of Canyon; a sister, Lucille Humphries of Canyon and seven grandchildren.

Heart cyclethon slated

Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association will be sponsoring a Cyclethon fund-raiser in Canyon on October 16.

The cyclethon will begin at 9 a.m. and is to conclude at 3 p.m. with prizes to be awarded in each division for total contributions.

Each participant in the cyclethon must complete an application blank for the effort. The applications will be distributed throughout local schools this week.

Categories for the Cyclethon this year will include a pre-school section for tricycle riders and two-wheelers which will be staged on the parking lot of First National Bank. Other categories will include grades 1-6, grades 7-9, high school and college, and adults.

The Tierra Blanca Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) is sponsoring an Area Forum on Saturday, Sept. 25, at the East Dining Hall, West Texas State University.

The theme of the Forum is "The World of NSA - Do You Belong In It?" Coordinators are Eleanor Baker and Phyllis Custer, CPS.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m., and the program will be concluded by 1:30 p.m. The registration fee is $8.00.

Dr. Boatman buried in Oklahoma

Funeral services for Dr. Claude E. Boatman were held Monday in Edmond, Okla. He died Friday at Edmond Memorial Hospital at the age of 71.

A native of Green Ridge, Mo., Dr. Boatman came to Indian Territory in 1906 and was reared in the Witcher area just north of Oklahoma City. He received his BS degree from Central State College in 1929, his MS in 1937 from Oklahoma State University and his Ph.D. from Ohio State University in 1951.

Dr. Boatman taught in various Oklahoma public schools for 21 years, including Tonkawa, Oklahoma County, Dewey and Tulsa. He taught audio-visual physics classes in Oklahoma City for a year. He also taught college at Peru, Neb., State Teachers' College, Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio; East Tennessee State University, over a period of 24 years. He was chairman of the science division at Central State College, Edmond, Okla., from 1952 to 1959, and chairman of the chemistry department at West Texas State University from 1959 until his retirement in 1970.

Dr. Boatman worked for one year as assistant chief chemist for the Shell Oil Co. and three years as consultant for Carter Oil Co. of Tulsa.

Memberships included: Witcher Baptist Church, American Chemical Society, Oklahoma Academy of Science, Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Chi Delta, Pi Lambda Epsilon, and Sigma Xi. He received a Distinguished Former Student Award from Central State University in 1975 and was listed in Who's Who directories of American Education, the Southwest, Midwest, and Texas. He was also listed in American Men of Science.

Survivors include his wife Inez of the home; two sons, Thomas Earnest, Bainbridge Island, Wash., and Charles Eldon of Edmond; one daughter, Marilyn of Vici, Okla.; 13 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Memorial donations may be made to the Heart and Lung fund of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Carver... "How to drive and stay alive" course for senior citizens.

Defensive driving studied

The Canyon Senior Citizens are receiving a defensive driving course this week. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Carver of Amarillo are conducting eight hours of teaching on how to "drive and stay alive" or driving so as to prevent an accident in spite of incorrect actions of others and adverse conditions.

Carver is an instructor-trainer certified by the National Safety Council. He has taught the course to between 1,000 and 2,000 senior citizens during the last seven years in Texas and New Mexico.

Carver also has trained instructors for the program in Louisville, Kentucky; Albuquerque, N.M.; Alamogordo, N.M.; and throughout the Panhandle.

The course presents safety features of driving. Those who complete the course are given a graduation card and a certificate which entitles them to a 10 percent discount on their automobile insurance, according to Carver.

The certificate is good for three years. Carver said that the program helps to keep senior citizens with drivers licenses.

The course costs $3 to pay for a state registration certificate, a work book, and miscellaneous expenses.

Carver has held the course in Canyon several times. He has also taught in Hereford, Lubbock, Pampa and Amarillo.

Sales tax back

Canyon received $21,982.69 in sales tax from the state for sales ending Sept. 3, the state comptroller's office announced.

The city receives about $100,000 a year in sales taxes. Statewide, sales tax rebates have totaled $230 million so far this year.

LCC chorus to perform

The 60-member Lubbock Christian College A Cappella Chorus will present a wide variety of religious songs when they appear in concert at the University Church of Christ in Canyon Friday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The program is open to the public with an invitation extended local residents by Bob Crass, minister.

Under the direction of Lubbock Christian College Music Department chairman, Dr. B. Wayne Hinds, the group will sing a large selection from their repertoire, including hymn arrangements, sacred songs, spirituals and special concert numbers.

Highlighting the program will be the "Sermon in Song," "Jesus, Jesus, Jesus," which includes five hymns bridged together with narration so that with the lyrics and narration, the listeners hear a sermonette.

Two small groups, drawn from the chorus, will also perform on the program and are a men's quartet and a women's octet.

The chorus represents a large cross section of the Lubbock Christian College campus. The group includes freshmen through seniors and students who are majoring in everything from the ministry to music and education to agriculture.

Located in the city of Lubbock, the college was founded in 1957 and now offers bachelors degree programs in 22 fields.

Gene Howe

School's open house set

By FARRIS ANN MORRISON

THIS WEEK'S MAIN reminder is for Gene Howe's two open house nights. Grades 4-6 will be represented Sept. 27, at 7 p.m.; kindergarten through 3rd, plus Early Childhood Education will be Oct. 11.

Be sure to sign your child's (or children's) folders in the classrooms.

NOVEMBER 12 HAS been designated for our chili supper. Bring everyone! This event is the PTA's main money-making concern; besides, the food is always super, who could resist? Please put this date on your calendar now.

THREE OF OUR programs are scheduled already. The fifth grade will present the Christmas program Dec. 6; in March, the third grade will present a patriotic program, while May give us the first grade program. Also in the works is a Fall Variety Show to raise money for our tennis/basketball equipment.

THERE ARE SEVERAL new faces at Gene Howe. I've already introduced Jim Dawson, but here is some additional information. To qualify as a principal, he must put in a ten hour week for one semester. Mr. Dawson was previously a teacher, and his wife Lou has taken leave from Canyon High School because she's devoting all her time to Joe Dee, 5 months old. The Dawsons have two other boys, John David, 4, and Jimmy Don, 7.

MARGARET PARKS IS our new Gene Howe librarian. Her husband is principal at Rex Reeves. They have a daughter Laurie, 7. She's already begun the first graders on books and reports the kids are very excited.

CAROLYN COVIN HAS been added to the faculty as a Math Resource teacher. This program is associated with the Special Education department. Carolyn came from San Antonio and only began at Gene Howe Sept. 16. Buddy, her husband, is district manager for Farmers Insurance Group. The Covins have two children in Rex Reeves, Pat, 8 and Rebecca, 5. DORINDA NEWTON IS doing her student teaching under Jeanne Miller, fourth grade. She will graduate at mid-term from Tech. So far she loves the experience and hopes to be employed in the Dallas area.

SOME OTHER NEW faces were seen Monday. Several of the Stratford teachers arranged to spend the day visiting in the classrooms here.

STEVE AND BARBARA Schwartz are new in our area. He works for Meads Containers, and Barbara attends classes at Amarillo College. They have a son, Brian, in Pam Layman's morning kindergarten. BRENDA AND LUTHER Lawless had guests this weekend. Gloria Creel, Mr. Lawless' sister and her husband, Lyndon, from Oklahoma City were here with their son, Shannon, 4. The guys even got in some golfing.

ELLEN HICKERSON, CAMPFIRE'S Area Service chairman, told me Saturday was their "Whing Ding" at Camp Don Harrington. This was a special day for the girls and their mothers (the Group Leaders). The Bluebirds had movies, clowns, and popcorn; the Adventure group took a hike. The mothers organized the groups and made plans for the year's activities. First on the agenda is a national photography contest. FALL ATHLETICS ARE here! The 1st and 2nd grade girls won their first game in soccer against Belmar 2-1. Pat Meier, their coach, told me it was a very exciting game. Pat is assisted by Sheila Bulla. The girls on the team are Denise Austin, Gina Bass, Shannon Boyd, Kelly Bulla, Suetta Burkham, Jennifer Enloe. (See GENE HOWE, Page 5)

GENE HOWE'S FOURTH grade football team has played two games. The first game against Oakdale was won 13-0 by Gene Howe; then we tied Ridgecrest 6-6.

Bob Trook and Tom Grimes are coaches. The boys are Lynn Vandlingham (who made both touchdowns in the Oakdale game), Daryl Williams, Jay Edwards, John Hicks, Mark White (who ran 75 yards for the touchdown in the Ridgecrest game), Jay Knight, Kip Camfield, Dub Austin, Delbert Hollis, Richard McCarter, Chris Stokes, Don Myers, Brent Matlock, Jeff Graimland, Brent Zachary, Chris Crisler, and Clay Sutton.

Their next four games will be at Gene Howe: Sept. 26, Oct. 3, Oct. 10, and Oct. 17. All games at 2 p.m. except Oct. 3 at 3 p.m.

Speed lowered near kindergarten

City commissioners Monday night awarded an order for two new police cars, adopted an ordinance, and lowered the speed limit around the new kindergarten building.

Bids were opened from Imperial Chevrolet for $3,512 for each of two police cars, including trade-in.

The order went to Stevenson Motor Company for a low bid of $2,490 per car with trade-in.

Commissioners also approved a statement of intent to adopt an ordinance requiring industries to pre-treat wastes before it enters the city waste disposal system.

The ordinance should have been adopted, according to state law, in 1972, city manager Glen Metcalf told the commissioners.

Steve Hines, newly elected commissioner who pledged to promote industry for the city, questioned Metcalf on the effect the ordinance would have on potential industry location here.

Metcalf said the ordinance was standard in all Texas cities and should have no effect.

"I'm in favor of industry, but I don't feel they should place a burden on the tax-payers," he said.

At the request of school superintendent Dr. Sam Thompson, the commissioners voted to establish a school zone of 20 miles an hour on Sixth Avenue between 15th and 16th Streets and on 15th and 16th Street bordering the school property. Also a no parking, loading zone would be initiated on Sixth Avenue.

The board approved $249.99 to the Texas Municipal League to oppose the rate increase request of Southwestern Bell.

They set a date Oct. 19 for the joint city-school board meeting and approved a request from Jim Sands to pave part of an alley.

City leads in growth

Canyon trails only Amarillo in the Panhandle in new construction and is, in fact, 46th among all Texas cities, according to a survey of building permits issued in Texas cities for the first six months of the year.

Canyon ranks 28th in the state in per capita expenditure on construction.

According to the report, $510.80 is the per capita total for the $4,256,508 building industry here. Amarillo spends $345.77 per capita for a $43,915,659 total. In the first six months of the year, Canyon issued 120 building permits for new home construction.

This edges out Hereford with 117. Other Panhandle cities include Pampa with 17, Dalhart with 26, Dumas with 62, Tulia with 2. Amarillo led with 1,203.

This is the second year of a building boom in Canyon and code enforcer Jerry Lehnich sees more of the same for the next few months. New developments are being constructed on all sides of the city, he pointed out.

growth," he told the board. "If we're thinking about growth, we have to think district wide."

Thompson contested the idea that the now uninhabited land bordering Amarillo school district will be a liability.

"I say it's not a losing proposition," he said. "I'm not saying it's a money maker, but it's not a losing one either."

The vote to detach the section came immediately after Thompson's presentation. After a 4-3 split, the board voted to present a unanimous decision.

The board also approved a maternity leave for Marian Criswell, hired the new first grade teacher, set Oct. 19 as the joint city-school annual meeting, and appointed Thompson as the district's representative on the joint committee of the Panhandle Education Service Organization.

They agreed for Thompson to work with a consultant from Region 16 of the Texas Education Agency to update school board policies to reflect changes in laws and conditions. Thompson will report back to the board on progress.

Canyon fire chief Jack Jennings and assistant chief Joe Rice, awarded certificates of appreciation to the board for their help in fire training. The board earlier donated an old house from the lots purchased for the tennis courts to the Canyon fire department to use in smoke training.

Jennings said this was the first time his department had been able to realistically train in smoke inhalation tactics. Smoke was the largest killer of firemen, he told the board.

The board also authorized taking legal action to collect delinquent taxes from the following:

shovel the seed. By flipping a switch, the seed flows from the truck to the ground, according to Hill.

"We should utilize the energy we carry around under the hood of our cars," said Hill.

Hill has developed several devices to aid the farmer. One of these is a cattle sprayer that can be loaded into the back of a pickup and receive its power from the battery. According to Hill, the sprayer would drastically reduce the cost from that of using a large spraying unit.

Hill has also devised a dual battery switch which can be put on any vehicle. The purpose of the double battery is to provide 12-24 volts for starting industrial pumps and motors. The switch will send volts through cables to the machinery from either one or two batteries.

Hill has also developed a battery powered dust mop for big industrial cleaning. The machine does not produce harmful fumes, according to Hill. Hills D.D. Electric, located about seven miles north of Canyon, opened full swing operations this year. Hill has been working with electrical power since his high school years. He says he still refers to library books when he needs advice. "I get an idea and I do it," said Hill.

Bindweed meeting pushes petition

A meeting to discuss field bindweed control and to discuss the organization of a bindweed control district was held by several agricultural groups of Randall County Tuesday night in the Community Center.

Dr. Allen Wiese presented a talk on the control of the weed.

The program to educate county residents on ways to kill bindweed was organized by Bob Robinson, County Agricultural Agent; the Farm Bureau; Farmers Union; Young Farmers Chapter; and Palo Duro Soil Conservation District.

State Representative Bob Simpson was present at the meeting to explain House Bill 288, which allows for the establishment of districts for control and eradication of noxious weeds in certain counties.

The group began circulating a petition to be presented to the County Commissioners Court. The petition asks for the organization of a noxious weed district. Fifty signatures of landholders within the designated boundaries of the called for district is required for validation.

The boundaries of the district were set up to include all of Randall County, excluding the corporate limits of Canyon, Amarillo, Lake Tanglewood, and Palo Duro State Park. Bob Robinson said that excluding the city limits of these areas will reduce the costs of the program.

Robinson said that each year the qualified voters within the district must meet and that each person must be notified by written notice. "If we include city dwellers, the cost of postage would take all the funds," said Robinson.

Another reason for excluding city residents, according to Robinson, is that the district will be able to levy a three cent per acre tax in Randall County on rural farm land. Since the tax could not be put on city residents who own no land, the costs of spraying for bindweed within the city would not be reimbursed.

If the petition is passed by the County Commissioners Court, a public hearing will be called on the district. If it is then decided that a district is needed, an election will be held in which only designated voters may vote. These voters are specified in House Bill 288 as "resident property taxpayers voters of the proposed district."

Attorney Jim Brown said that any person living within the county and owning land within the district are eligible to vote in the election.

If the district is organized, the Commissioners will appoint five people to serve as the Board of Directors of the district. The directors will then have the power to determine which noxious weeds shall be subject to control, the method or methods of control, to prescribe the specific areas within the district on which the control measures are to be carried out, to prescribe the period within which the control measures are to be carried out, and to take such other action as is necessary to effectuate the purposes of House Bill 288.

The board will also appoint an inspector for the district who will be in charge of controlling the weeds. He will have authority to spray land if a farmer fails to cooperate. The farmer will then be charged for the service. The same procedure will be exercised on railroad right of ways and State Highway Department land.

Wiese and Wayne Chenault from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland said "research has shown that bindweed can be controlled. The secret is learning to know weak spots in the life cycle of the plant and then doing the right things at the right time." According to the two scientists, field bindweed infests 300,000 acres and costs Texas farmers 15 million dollars annually. This estimate assumes 100 dollar per acre gross income and a 50 percent yield loss.

The plant, known as possession vine, creeping jenny, or wild morning glory has arrow shaped leaves and trumpet like flowers. Roots proliferate the entire soil profile stealing most of the water and nutrients from any summer crop.

Wiese said that Dwane

The West Texas State University SAC Cinema this week will feature "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf."

It will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the AC Ballroom. Admission is 75 cents.

Lavake, another Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientist and Chenault have traced bindweed roots to 8 feet in dry-land Pullman clay loam soil. In the Texas Panhandle, bindweed emerges from underground roots about the middle of April and is killed in the fall when temperature drops to 25 degrees.

Using clean seed, cleaning combines, grinding infested feed grain, and watching for infested hay are common sense ideas that will prevent field bindweed from getting started. Once seed gets on a farm the control process will take a long time because dormant bindweed seed have germinated after 30 years.

Bindweed seedlings have heart shaped cotyledonary leaves and look like emerging radishes. Seedlings less than six weeks old can be killed by one cultivation or an application of 2,4-D. Certain preemergence herbicides also control germinating seedlings.

The scientist said, "bindweed is a tough perennial weed but can be controlled profitably with the right combination of herbicides and tillage. Money spent on control is paid back shortly by increased yields."

and Larry Morgan offered for sale at $3 per share 2,000 shares of Western Petroleum Resources, Inc., to Carol E. Sims who officers said lives in Happy.

The second case alleges that a similar number of shares at a like price in the same company were offered to Harold Erwin by Garrett and O. D. Morgan.

District Attorney Randy Sherrod reports that corporation officers told prospective stockholders more than a year ago that drilling of oil and gas wells in Cooke County by WPR would begin immediately. So far no wells have been drilled, he said.

Larry D. Morgan and Garrett both are under indictment in Colorado and are free on $50,000 bond each, according to Sherrod.

Special Colorado Prosecutor Hal Haddon was quoted as saying Garrett is charged with 37 counts of illegal securities sales in Colorado and Morgan 22.

Local officers said a US district judge in Kansas had issued an injunction against the Morgans in February of 1972 prohibiting future violations of the registration provisions of the Securities Act of 1933.

Eight other indictments were returned by the grand jury Monday. They include:

James Boyd Helm, 21, Amarillo, possession of a controlled substance; Douglas Earl Palmer, 20, Amarillo, delivery of a controlled substance; Paul A. Kuhaneck, 19, no address, theft; Mel Dean Christakis, 20, Amarillo, delivery of a controlled substance; John Marc Taylor, 18, Amarillo, burglary; Thomas Henry Cade, Amarillo, burglary; Linda Sue Jones, 20, Amarillo, burglary; and Linda Mae Cox, Amarillo, burglary.

Short changer caught

A man accused of short-changing a service station and attempting to short-change a clerk at a Canyon bakery was arraigned Tuesday on a misdemeanor.

Funeral rites today for Helen Curtis' 83

Funeral services for Helen Curtis, 83, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today, Sept. 23, at Schooler-Gordon Funeral Chapel in Canyon.

Mrs. Curtis lived at 400 7th Street, Canyon. She died Monday night at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon. She was born in Dennison, Iowa on May 29, 1893 and married Harold David Curtis in October 1931 at Sioux City, Iowa.

The Curtis family came to Canyon in 1944 from Lincoln, Neb. Until her retirement in 1965, Mrs. Curtis was the bookkeeper for Curtis Plumbing. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Funeral services today at 3 o'clock will be handled by Marvin Roark of the First United Methodist Church of Dimmitt and Loyd Riddleberger, Methodist minister from Amarillo. Burial will be at Dreamland Cemetery.

Pall bearers will include Glen R. Gardner, Keith W. Poole, Cristler Crain, W. A. Patke, Archie Dean Davis and Wayne Price. Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors in Canyon.

Survivors include her husband, Harold David Curtis, of the home; a son, E. J. Larson of Canyon; a brother, Moses Miles of Dunlap, Iowa and 6 grandchildren.

Legal assistant training gets great response

A successful beginning for the first in a series of legal assistant training programs has been reported by Mrs. Willie J. McCall, instructor in business education and office administration at West Texas State University.

Student response has been tremendous, according to Mrs. McCall. She says, "We have 36 people enrolled, and attendance is very good, just super!"

There is a great demand for para-legals in the Amarillo area, states Mrs. McCall. Legal Research/General Practice is the first in a series of courses to be offered by the University designed to prepare one to become a legal assistant.

The Business Education Department is planning to offer "Legal Assistant Training in Estates and Trusts" this spring. Other courses in the planning stage include legal assistant training in family law and legal assistant training in litigation. Repeat offerings in legal research/general practice are planned.

Emphasizes Mrs. McCall, "There is a clear distinction between legal assistants and legal secretaries. These are non-secretarial courses."

Mrs. McCall also explained that duties of a legal assistant include having different job descriptions. Para-legals do research, interview clients, delegate to stenographers, attend department meetings, but do not perform stenographic duties.

Para-legals must work under the direction and control of a lawyer. She emphasized that it is illegal for a legal assistant to try to practice law. They cannot give opinions or appear in court. According to Mrs. McCall, "The salaries (for legal assistants) are really good."

Anyone interested in the para-legal expansion courses who was not contacted by the survey is encouraged to call Mrs. McCall in the Business Education and Office Administration Department at WTSU.

Miss Patterson among pledges

Marcella Patterson, a freshman at WTSU from Canyon, is pledged to the Epsilon Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta here.

The salutatorian at Canyon High graduation last spring, Patterson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Patterson.

WT bowlers given scholarships as the sport gains recognition

West Texas State University is one of the first colleges in the Southwest to offer a scholarship program for bowlers. For the first time in its seven year tenure, the bowling team presented eight scholarships to students.

Hal Brown, coach of the team, began working and organizing students for a team 14 years ago in his own bowling alley. His team traveled and competed with other college teams.

Not until 1966, when Brown's students were invited to a national invitational tournament, was the team recognized or funded by the university. The team brought back first prize team award and 13 of 17 individual awards, according to Brown.

Brown became an employee as coach of the bowling team seven years ago when the Activities Center opened. Prior to this year's scholarship funds, team members participated on voluntary basis, according to Brown.

The WTSU Bowling team belongs to two conferences, the Southwest Plains Bowling Conference and the West Texas and New Mexico Conference. Last year, the men's team were rated first in the Southwest Plains Bowling Conference Championships, the girls were rated second.

Brown said that the scholarship program has a dual purpose — to provide top quality bowlers in national level participation, and to provide an avenue for a boy or girl to receive a higher education which has never been available to them before.

Brown feels that both the men's and women's teams are stronger than they have ever been this year. They are younger than before but not lacking in experience, according to Brown.

This year, the women's team will include Regina Hillier, 1976 Alberta E. Crowe Star of Tomorrow Award recipient and first place winner in National Junior Bowlers. Regina is a sophomore at WT from Amarillo.

Brown says that the team goal is to prepare for and win the regional tournament next spring semester. He said he would like to see ten men and ten women bowling for the university on scholarships.

The bowling program is not under NCAA rules and regulations, it is governed by the American Bowling Congress collegiate division. The team is funded through the Activities Center budget.

The WT bowling team will compete in its first meet this Saturday at New Mexico State University at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Oct. 23 is scheduled as the next meet at Texas Tech.

Bufs take to the road to meet Salukis Saturday

The West Texas State University football team, which defeated Wichita State 14-12 in their season opener last Saturday night, will go for their second straight win of the season this Saturday when the Bufs travel to McAndrew Stadium in Carbondale, Ill. to take on the Southern Illinois University at 1:30 p.m.

The Salukis, led by Andre Herrera who gained 201 yards on 35 carries, defeated Drake 27-15 last week at Des Moines.

"We don't know anything about the Drake game, except that Herrera ran for 200 yards," said head coach Gene Mayfield.

Herrera, a senior tailback who is averaging 129 yards in two outings, leads the Southern Illinois offense. Senior quarterback Bob Collins directs the I-former attack, completing five of 15 passing attempts for 78 yards and two touchdowns.

"We have to assume that they are running Herrera out of the 'I' to get that kind of yardage. He carried the ball a bunch of times. That's really impressive."

"I talked to Jack Dolan (coach at McNeese State which beat SIU 38-0 in the opener) and he said that he felt that SIU would be a pretty good team after three or four games. That was their opening game under a new coach, and they made a bunch of errors. I think that SIU's win over Drake was even more radical improvement than even Dolan expected."

Defensively the Salukis have an average allowance of 344 yards (184.5 rushing and 159.5 passing) in two games. Monster man Valdre Rodgers and cornerback Mike Bellantoni are men to watch.

For WT, the offense gained 319 yards on the ground in the opener, and once again rank as the Valley's best running team. WT has three of the top five rushers in the league with Bo Robinson first at 118 yards per game, Anthony Dugan fourth with 85, and Tully Blanchard fifth with 75. The Bufs also rank second in the conference with 358 yards, behind Tulsa's three game average of 390.6.

Bo Robinson set the tempo of the game on the first play when he rammed 53 yards to set up the first Buff touchdown and when he wasn't ripping off big chunks of yardage he blocked anything that got in his way.

"It would be awful hard to overlook Bo's performance," Mayfield says. "He just ran like crazy and blocked real well."

On defense, big performances came from the line where Darrel Blades nosed out tackle George Henning for player of the week honors. Blades had four tackles and two assists, including a sack of Wichita State quarterback Sam Adkins in the second period.

"Darrel's effort certainly didn't surprise me," said line coach Jerry Behrens. "Because I knew he was tough enough to play with their big tight end and that he would try as hard as he could. He did a good job all night — containing the quarterback, putting pressure on the passer, and closing the off-tackle play."

The Buff defense overall had fine stats. WT leads the Valley in rushing defense (150 yards) and total defense (243 yards), and is second in passing defense (93 yards) and scoring defense (12 points).

Volley team gains tie

West Texas State's women's volleyball team tied for first place with Abilene Christian College in an Abilene Tournament played over the weekend.

Action got under way Friday evening and WT easily won over McMurray College 15-9, 15-4. Then the going was a little tougher and the Bufs squeezed by Sul Ross State 7-15, 15-13, 15-8.

WT was defeated by Abilene Christian College Saturday morning 15-3, 14-7. Hardin-Simmons decided not to play WT in the second game of the morning, but WT did not win the game by forfeit.

In the final round of the tournament, WT drew Abilene Christian College, and this time, the Bufs had better luck as they defeated ACC 11-15, 16-14, 15-13.

WT coach Alma Ramsey said her main problem during the tournament was getting the team to "execute the defensive and blocking techniques."

The Bufs host Texas Tech in the fieldhouse on the WTSU campus Thursday night at 7 p.m. and travel to Lubbock to play in a tournament over the weekend. Their record now stands at 3-2.

Girls lose in tourney

The West Texas State women's softball team found troubles over the weekend at the Sam Houston State Tournament in Huntsville. The girls were impressive at first as they defeated Stephen F. Austin 6-5.

But two consecutive losses dropped them out of the double elimination tournament. The Bufs lost to Angelo St. 3-2, and then fell to North Texas State 7-6.

The WT softball team is now 2-2 and they travel to Texas Tech Monday night and then on to Denton for a weekend tournament which begins Friday.

Exam registration set

High school juniors need to register now to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test (PSAT/NMSQT) in October.

Kenneth Ringo, CHS guidance counselor said the exam would be given here Oct. 19, in conjunction with testing throughout the nation. The exam will be given on that day only, he said.

The test is good practice for the Scholastic Aptitude Test required by most colleges for entrance. Ringo said. But, more importantly, the PSAT is the only preliminary test for National Merit Scholarship awards. The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude, two abilities important in doing college work.

Ringo said he has only about 60 tests and will need to order more if a large number of juniors register for the exam.

"If we know we're going to need more, we can order more tests. But if they wait until the last day to come up, they'll just be out of luck," he said.

About a dozen CHS juniors have signed up, he said. Test fee is $2.75.

Senior Citizens potluck tonight

Canyon Senior Citizens will be meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in the Senior Citizens Building, 1719 5th Avenue, for their weekly potluck supper and fellowship.

Any local resident age 55 and above is eligible to become a member of the Senior Citizens Organization. A variety of interest programs are conducted in addition to the weekly potluck supper-fellowship times for members. Those interested in joining the organization may attend any meeting or get further information from the office, 655-3331.

Welding course for farmers

An oxy-acetylene welding short course for adult farmers will be held Oct. 4-7 at 7 p.m. in the Canyon High agriculture building.

Charles H. Yeates, welding specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M, will instruct.

During the course dates, Yeates will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, vo-ag teacher Richard Porter said.

Farmers who want to take the short course should notify Dr. Ken Hart, CHS vocational director. An entry fee of $15 will be charged.

WE THINK YOU ARE LOOKING AT US!

In a recent study by a well-known research company it was determined that you, the public wanted to find a family pharmacist whom you could relate to on personal terms. You know, like in years past, where the local pharmacist was someone with whom you could talk.

We try very hard in our pharmacy to maintain just that type of relationship with our customers (we think of you more like friends). Whoever is on duty filling prescriptions is always available, really wants to say a friendly hello, is ready to answer ethically any questions, and to help in any way that is possible. Come in and see for yourself.

CHS to take on Hereford in non-district play Friday

The Canyon High School Varsity football team will travel to Hereford tomorrow to meet the Whitefaces at 7:30 p.m.

The Eagles, now 2-1 on the season, are coming off a 14-8 victory of Amarillo Caprock while Hereford, 1-2 on the year, is rebounding from a loss to Borger.

"Hereford is a Veer team," said Eagle mentor Deane Wright. "They have a good quarterback in Kelly Kitchens, and they like to throw the ball. Kitchens is a fine little quarterback, he's not very big, but against Borger they put a senior quarterback in by the name of Lawson. But we still feel they will be going with Kitchens until they get ready to throw the ball a lot and then Lawson will play more."

"Defensively they play a whole different defense from Caprock, it's a whole different ball game this week. We have to prepare for a completely different defense. They are a five man front, they do a lot of stunting, they do a lot of jumping around, they try to fool your blocking. I think we will be able to pick all this stuff up, we worked on it all week, the kids have picked it up real well and by Friday I don't think it will be any problem for us."

"They are a different kind of ball club than Caprock. They are more proficient, they score more. They don't play the defense Caprock does but they are more wide open. Caprock is more ball control and they run right at you. Hereford is more reverses, fancy pitchouts and passes and things of that nature. They can score on you at any time."

The Eagles come into the Hereford game with no injuries and the return of Cliff Adams who did not play last week.

The Eagles will try to establish a running game and pass when they can this Friday. "I guess we will do that most of the time," continued Wright. "Unless we come up against someone who we feel we can throw a lot off of then we will throw the ball more."

Salukis suddenly threat after an impressive win

Just a few days ago, the West Texas State football team could have been excused for taking the Southern Illinois Salukis lightly. After all, SIU had been blasted by McNeese State 38-0, helping McNeese to the national lead in total defense by gaining only 64 yards all night.

But all of a sudden, the Salukis stopped Drake 27-15, giving Saturday afternoon's game with WTSU a whole new perspective. SIU won't be a pushover after all.

Now a new problem pops up. Problems with the air freight shipment of the SIU-Drake game film have left the Buffs completely in the dark about the improvement in the Southern offense and defense. "I really feel unprepared to talk about them until I get more information on their Drake game," head coach Gene Mayfield explains.

What the Buff staff knows, they mostly read in the paper. The newspaper accounts have Andre Herrera, SIU's senior tailback, running wild against the Bulldogs with 201 yards on 35 rushing attempts. Quarterback Bob Collins was also effective, throwing for 71 yards and two touchdowns.

"We have to assume that they are running Herrera a bunch of times out of the 'I' formation to get that kind of yardage," calculates Mayfield. "He carried the ball a bunch of times."

Saturday afternoon's game in McAndrew Stadium in Carbondale will be the first time the Buffs and Salukis have met on the football field. Although both are members of the Valley, it would be a conference game since the Salukis aren't eligible for the league title until next year.

The Buffs are eligible this year, and they got the conference race off to a good start last Saturday night in Kimbrough Stadium with a 14-12 win over Wichita State. Fullback Bo Robinson was the big gun in the attack with 118 yards on 14 carries, but halfback Anthony Dogan and Quarterback Tully Blanchard helped with 85 and 75 yards rushing, respectively.

As a result, the Buffs stand on top of the league with their 319 rushing yards, and their 358 total yards trails only Tulsa in the total offense category.

On defense, the Buffs dominate the stats. The Buffs gave the Shockers only 150 yards on the ground to lead in that stat, and the 243 total yards allowed is also the league's best.

But that was last week, and the Buffs face an unknown challenge in SIU Saturday.

Cross country team starts year on win

The team title last week and almost the same opponents should be a good sign for West Texas State's cross country team, but coach Bob Kitchens isn't making any predictions about the Lubbock Christian College Invitational Friday afternoon in Lubbock.

"There's no assurance that we'll win this week," Kitchens says. "We won't be running with Texas Tech, and that could move some runners from Wayland higher in the standings."

"But, of course, I'd rather run with the knowledge that we can win than run without it."

Last week, the Buffs nipped host Wayland Baptist 49-52 for the team title in the WBC Invitational in Plainview. Texas Tech was third with 57 points, Eastern New Mexico fourth with 84, and LCC fifth with 105.

Eastern's John Kebiro won the invitational crown, but WTSU's Joseph Kemei, with a time of 19:20 and John Chemaringo, with a time of 19:59, finished second and third.

It was the stretch runs of Gabriel Boit, Bert Torres and Gary Thomas that won the meet. Boit, who finished 11th with a time of 21:08, Torres, who finished 13th with a time of 21:08 and Thomas, who finished 20th with a time of 22:03, each passed at least one opponent in the final 400 yards to notch the win.

"It was a good win to start off the season," Kitchens added. "It gave the kids some enthusiasm and something to look forward to in this week's meet."

Friday's race in Lubbock, slated for 4 p.m. in McKenzie Park, is over a course that's "a little tougher than last week," according to Kitchens.

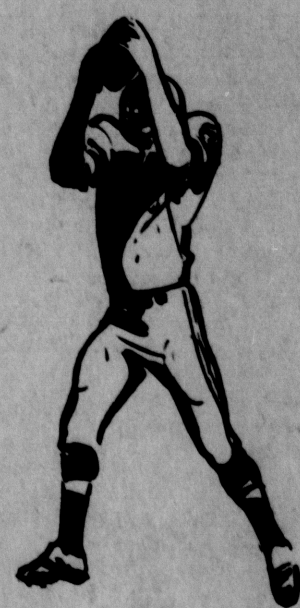

Following Friday's race, the Buffs will be off until Oct. 9 when they run in the Eastern New Mexico Invitational in Portales.

"No creed but Christ"

Members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) take the person, life, teachings, and mission of Jesus Christ as the basis for their Christian thought and action.

This allows for adjustment to new discoveries. New interpretations and practices are expected as new facts are brought to light and old facts are better understood.

THE WESLEY-SIMS Memorial Roping and Art show is this Saturday and Sunday.

The Art show is going to be a really good one this year. It will be at 200 East Main Street (next door to the post office).

Happy artists and Bob Hargrave will be exhibiting art at this show. We have Dave Brown of Granbury, Justin Wells of Amarillo, Garland Weeks of Canyon, Jerry Teaff of Bula, Paul Wiley of Lubbock, Steve Haley of Sayre, Okla., Kathryn Stephens of Tulsa and there will be others.

We will have some bronze in the art show as well as paintings. It will be worth your while to come down and see it. There is no charge. Come and enjoy the art show!

CALF ROPING BEGINS on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. Introduction of the ropers will be 12 noon. Thirty-two of the nation's top calf ropers will rope two head each. The top 12 will then rope a third calf.

Steer ropers will be introduced on Saturday evening beginning at 7:30 p.m. at 102 Main Street. A western dance with music by Windy K and his band from Lubbock, will be held this Saturday night in the Happy Jaycee Hall.

Steer roping will get underway about 2 p.m. on Sunday. Forty steer ropers will rope three steers each. The top 12 steer ropers will rope a fourth steer to determine the winner. A trophy saddle will be given to the steer roping champion.

Two trips to the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City on December 4 and 5th will be given away on Sunday, Sept. 26. Tickets are available from any rodeo association member for a one dollar donation.

A GRA barrel race will be held between the go-rounds of the calf roping on Saturday.

HAPPY HIGH SCHOOL holds its annual Homecoming on Friday, Sept. 24th. Registration will begin at 2 p.m. The pep rally and crowning of Homecoming Queen will be at 3 p.m. Special guests will be recognized.

A business meeting follows the pep rally and program. Lonnie and LaNelle Todd, presidents of the ex-student association will preside.

Steak or fish will be served in the High School Cafeteria for $2.75 beginning at 5:30. Al's Restaurant will cater the meal this year.

Kick-off time for the game with Lazbuddie is 8 p.m. Then back to the cafeteria for free coffee and visiting. Homemade pie will be sold by the Happy Booster Club.

HAPPY COWBELLES LANELLE Todd, Willie Butler, Judy Thompson and myself, attended the Area I Beef Education Workshop in Amarillo last Thursday.

The morning began with a slide production of the Beef Development Task Force, a self-help program for cattlemen. Questions were then answered by Richard McDonald of Texas Cattle Feeders and Mrs. Emma Lee Collier, president-elect of Texas CowBelles.

Jane Hager of the American National Meat Board talked about beef and its selling qualities. Her three beef samples were given to Thera Scott, president of Golden Spread CowBelles.

Luncheon speakers were Dr. Ted Montgomery of WTSU and Ken Stevens of the USDA. Mr. Stevens outlined the services provided by USDA. The men were introduced by Randy Hapgood, area co-ordinator. Randy also thanked all those who made the workshop possible. Mrs. Max Carpenter was reservation chairman.

A tour of IBP filled the afternoon. We donned white coats and hard hats and began at the beginning, where cattle are received. Bob Barnum was our tour guide director.

Mary Starker Brown works in the offices of IBP. We waved at her as we passed through.

We toured the entire operation. Nothing is wasted. An inedible part dropped on the floor is picked up and put in a container for weighing. Everything is weighed.

Beef blood with only ten percent moisture retained is stored in a tanker to be sold as fertilizer. Dried blood is 95% ammonia.

We followed the beef from the kill floor to the final trim rail where the split carcasses are thoroughly inspected by the USDA Meat Inspection Service prior to weighing, washing, and shrouding; the hot box where the shrouded carcasses are cooled down from a temperature of 90° to 40° internally; the sales cooler where the chilled carcasses are graded and selected for shipment to customers for carcass beef or are moved to the processing cooler for further fabrication; the beef tempering cooler which marks the start of processing; the processing fabrication floor where the carcasses are processed into primal and sub-primal cuts; the packaging area; the box shop where the materials for boxing the beef are stored and made up; the accumulation lanes where the boxed beef is placed on pallets; the box sealing area where the boxes are sealed before entering the accumulation lanes; and the crane storage area where the boxed beef is stored for shipping.

We learned that processing plants are highly regulated. They are not assured of the prompt payments that have recently been legislated to cattlemen. I will be less critical after walking for an afternoon in their shoes.

There, too, we viewed the carcasses of the High Plains Fed Beef Carcass show. The grand champion carcass had over 18 square inches in the rib eye. These are on display at the fair.

A home economist of Southwestern Public Service demonstrated the cooking of beef in microwave ovens. A demonstration was also given on "The proper knife for the proper use." Vera and Bill Eubanks, John Butler, Lonnie Todd, and Tom Henry joined us for the T-Bone Club on Thursday evening. Familiar faces included Gary Culp, Ed Wright, Buck Weinbein, Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Forrest and his father.

I was most fortunate to meet Jan Forrest. She, too, is a lovely person. The older Mr. Forrest told me that he was superintendent of schools in Farwell many years ago and that Foster Harman was the principal that served with him.

An XIT CowBelle on the day's tour was a patron of Butch Starker Osburn. Butch is a hairdresser in Stratford.

Billy Jackson, a WTSU student, was helping conduct the tours. Small world.

We had an excellent day. The program was most educational.

TRAVERNE AND RICHARD Vermeire of Tyler, Minnesota, have a new daughter, Amy Rochelle, born Sept. 18 about four in the afternoon. The new little girl weighed about eight pounds. She has two sisters, Marcus and Rene.

OUR SYMPATHY to the family of Carroll "Hap" Hancock, 78, who died Sept. 15, at Palo Duro Hospital after several weeks illness. Services were in Schooler-Gordon Chapel in Canyon and burial was in Dreamland Cemetery. Rev. Paul Heil, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Happy, officiated.

Hap moved to the Happy area in 1909 and married Audrey Lee Markham in 1925. They celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary during last Christmas season. Hap was a farmer and member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include the widow; one son, Clyde of Happy; six daughters. Mrs. Willard (Charlotte) Morris of Littlefield, Mrs. George (Billye) Waldron of Dow Lake, New Hampshire, Mrs. Bettie Moore of Canyon, Mrs. Keith (Carollee) Waters of Stratford, Mrs. Donnie (Sue) Lilley of Canyon, Deloris Hancock of Amarillo; one sister, Mrs. Leslie Summitt of Del Rio; sixteen grandchildren and one great grandchild.

LOU NELL and Johnny Mitchell have been visiting relatives and friends in Happy for the past two weeks. They have been living in Singapore for the last few years. After a fishing trip (at least they were hopeful) to Utah and Montana, their next residence might be Algeria. Dell Greenfield Davis of American Falls, Idaho, was "home" visiting for a few days while Lou Nell and Johnny were here.

ROY EDMONDS OF San Antonio has been visiting relatives in Happy and the area recently.

LINDA AND POE Cabe attended the Democratic convention down state last weekend. Meredith and Kyle Cabe stayed in Happy while their parents were away.

MR. AND MRS. Henry Bachman of Guymon, Okla., have been visiting their daughter, Dotie Foster and family in Happy.

OMA HAYES SPENT the first of this week with us. She really enjoys the country.

HAPPY COWBOYS DROPPED their ballgame to Farwell last week 67 to 6. J. T. Henry made the only Happy touchdown of the game. Wranglers also dropped their game to Farwell 30 to 6.

Both teams are looking forward to this week. Happy Cowboys face their first conference game with Lazbuddie at 8 p.m. and its Homecoming.

THE WOMAN'S STUDY Club of Happy met Tuesday with Joyce Wheat. Susan Harris of the

Rape Crisis Service presented the program. Twenty-two members were present.

HAPPY CHAPTER OF the Order of the Eastern Star honored Past Matrons and Past Patrons on Tuesday evening. Joyce Wheat served refreshments to 18 members.

DROP BY THE beef carcass booth at the Tri State Fair today or come to Happy tomorrow, Saturday or Sunday.

KIM McCASLIN, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCaslin, will be installed as Worthy Advisor of the Happy Rainbow Assembly on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock in the Happy Masonic Hall. Friends are invited.

ALL I WANT is less to do, more time to do it, and more pay for not getting it done. Have a good day!
